Intelligence Practices in High-Trust Societies Kira Vrist Rønn, Adam Diderichsen, Mia Hartmann, Melanie Hartvigsen, 2024-09-13 This book examines the dynamics of intelligence practices in the Scandinavian culture of high social cohesion and high trust Situated within the new body of scholarly literature the book emphasizes critical empirical investigations of intelligence practices highlighting the specific cultural settings of such practices By providing Scandinavian perspectives on intelligence studies the work distinguishes Scandinavian intelligence studies from the predominant Anglo American perspectives Throughout the Western world the past two decades have generated a rapid expansion of the legal mandate funding and capabilities of intelligence agencies which simultaneously have been pushed to renegotiate and renew their legitimacy and democratic mandate in response to a recurrent pattern of scandals leaks and failures While these tendencies are also evident in Scandinavia the book argues that it is important to emphasize the unique context of cohesion and trust in state agencies that differentiates Scandinavian welfare states from the American and to a lesser extent British contexts This book brings together scholars from Norway Sweden and Denmark to address the continuous renegotiation of the legitimacy of state intelligence as it plays out in a Scandinavian setting This book will be of interest to students of intelligence studies Nordic politics security studies and International Relations

Phillips sponsor of the model and President of the Association of Chief Police Officers ACPO during a key period in its development wanted it to overhaul intelligence work and revolutionise investigative practice in the mainstream Through archival secondary and primary research the thesis examined the NIM s policy content in the context of Kingdon s Agenda Setting approach to policymaking It evaluated the roll out of the NIM through the lens of Sabatier s policy implementation model drawing on primary research in the form of case studies that included observations and interviews with senior police commanders officers and other officials Ultimately Phillips plans were confused by commanders orthodoxy and frustrated both by competing agendas within ACPO and the paucity of evidence that the NIM could deliver what he had promised Phillips policy entrepreneurship was the key factor in the model gaining support in ACPO and the Home Office However beyond that policymaking arena few commanders were willing to effect the structural changes that the Home Office codified model demanded Instead they seemed to adopt compliance tactics that disguised resistance and forestalled sanction Orthodoxy resistance and tradition played significant parts in the resulting NIM compliant activity in forces as with few complaints officers and staff dutifully applied the model in a myriad of inefficient ways Ultimately the NIM added to the burden of bureaucracy but the end result was that British policing ended up looking very much the way it had before the NIM narrative began
