

order to build the facility. But as we are on a budget, it may also be worth it to see if the college's joiner courses may be able to help in building the facility and also try to put it within another courses curriculum and therefore give more back to the college as a whole, plus it would cost any building fees if the horses require a stable. At the same time, I would also need to research who would be able to fix the drainage and the flooding issues the gleebs suffers from.

Human Resources

This form of resource is more inanimate based. When it comes to researching, utilising the internet, books on horse health care, and also books and internet pages with information on the human side of the table; Health and safety, any legislation or licensing for humans, equipment etc. But also the actual tools and items I will need in order to actually build the facility plus deal with the issue of the gleebs drainage system as it is notorious for constant flooding and lack of a substantial drainage system.

Barriers

As we know, not everything runs smoothly in life. No plan is accomplished without different factors turning their heads and holding back your initial plans. That's life, to understand these issues I need to look at different factors within my life at the moment and treat them as a possible barrier that may cause my proposal and my development to not be accomplished as expected or if there is a complication that holds back progress. In my life, this would include:

- ❖ College work out with graded unit
- ❖ Family life; particularly with my mother
- ❖ Socialising with friends out of college
- ❖ Moving away from home.
- ❖ Volunteering
- ❖ Driving lessons within the next month.
- ❖ Issues with the internet or other communications
- ❖ Caring for my own animals: Cleaning, caring, feeding, grooming etc.
- ❖ If any days I am off sick or ill
- ❖ Holidays
- ❖ Moving preparations

These are all forms of barriers that may cause the development of my equine facility to go underdone or with little progress. Anything that may come up, will be written within a timeline along with any comments and issues with the project, along with how the barrier was dealt with on that day.

Solutions are these aren't simple. In my case, due to my mother suffering from agoraphobia and other mental issues, much of my time, particularly when I am off is dedicated to also staying home if I am required to go out shopping for the house, along with any doctor's appointments/meeting. Though my time is dedicated to helping the household, I have a few solutions when dealing with the above barriers:

- ❖ Planning days where I would research and work on my development stage around any appointments or meetings with doctors.
