Down in Porto Rico (Classic Reprint) George Milton Fowles, 2017-10-19 Excerpt from Down in Porto Rico Porto Rico is the fourth in size and is the farthest eastward of the larger islands of the West Indies standing at the gateway to the Caribbean Sea It is situated between 18 30 and 17 55 north latitude and in longitude between 68 and 65 10 west from Greenwich In shape Porto Rico is almost a rectangle being about one hundred miles long and about thirty six miles wide The surface is exceedingly broken With the exception of a small strip of level coast line the Island consists of a series of hills and valleys The highest point is in the northeastern part and is called El Yunque This peak rises about feet above the level of the sea In a general way the range of hills extends from east to west through the center of the Island but it is so broken that it can scarcely be called a continuous range The valleys all have rivers which vary from tiny rivulets in the dry season to raging torrents during the rainy season About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
