Evidence for Reductionist or Anti-Reductionist Approaches of Mental Processing Francesca Strappini, Mark Couch, Antonino Carcione, Marialuisa Martelli, 2024-02-16 As scientists or clinicians we all have an implicit theory about how the mind relates to the nervous system which infuses our research and practice This theory entails what has been traditionally known as the mind body problem Intrinsically connected to the question of potentials and constraints of human and conscious artificial life it still represents an open and highly debated philosophical and empirical question The common assumption for many cognitive neuropsychologists and neuropsychiatrists is that by looking at the anatomical brain function or malfunction it is possible to predict the behavioral experience of individuals This view often called reductionism has dominated the research trajectories in neuroscience and psychiatry in the past decades Expected Experiences Tony Cheng, Ryoji Sato, Jakob Hohwy, 2023-12-29 This book brings together perspectives on predictive processing and expected experience It features contributions from an interdisciplinary group of authors specializing in philosophy psychology cognitive science and neuroscience Predictive processing or predictive coding is the theory that the brain constantly minimizes the error of its predictions based on the sensory input it receives from the world This process of prediction error minimization has numerous implications for different forms of conscious and perceptual experience The chapters in this volume explore these implications and various phenomena related to them The contributors tackle issues related to precision estimation sensory prediction probabilistic perception and attention as well as the role predictive processing plays in emotion action psychotic experience anosognosia and gut complex Expected Experiences will be of interest to scholars and advanced students in philosophy psychology and cognitive science working on issues related to predictive processing and coding

Rethinking Disability, Care, and Motherhood Priyasha Choudhary, Shubha Ranganathan, 2025-08-22 This book focuses on the lived realities of disabled mothers to examine how they navigate their multiple competing responsibilities and identities It reimagines normative constructions of motherhood dependency and care while rethinking advocacy and resistance in the context of disability gender and mental health It essentially argues that disabled women negotiate a delicate balancing act they constantly work at proving their competence even as they push the boundaries of normative femininity The book is grounded in qualitative research on disabled mothers In these conversations disabled mothers described various aspects of their motherhood journey ranging from their interactions with society to their daily experiences within the household Drawing from critical disability studies critical psychology care theory and feminist scholarship this interdisciplinary volume elaborates on the everyday situations that disabled mothers encounter and the strategies they engage in to provide care for their children This book will be relevant for students and scholars in disability studies psychology gender studies development studies medical anthropology and sociology and medical humanities among others Further the use of case studies makes it an essential read for practitioners and policymakers Recognising the political significance of plain language in disability studies the book's accessible language will appeal to academic lay and practitioner audiences

Insights in Consciousness Research, volume II Xerxes D. Arsiwalla, Antonino Raffone, Luca Simione, Monia D'Angiò, 2025-05-27 This Research Topic is the second volume of the Research Topic Insights in Consciousness Research 2021. Please see the first volume here. We are now entering the third decade of the 21st Century and especially in the last years the achievements made by scientists have been exceptional leading to major advancements in the fast growing field of Psychology. Frontiers has organized a series of Research Topics to highlight the latest advancements in science in order to be at the forefront of science in different fields of research. This editorial initiative of particular relevance led by Antonino Raffone, Specialty Chief Editor of the section Consciousness Research as well as Luca Simione and Xerxes D Arsiwalla is focused on new insights, novel developments, current challenges, latest discoveries and recent advances of internationally recognized researchers at various stages of their careers. High quality original research manuscripts on novel concepts, problems and approaches are welcomed. This Research Topic solicits brief forward looking contributions from the editorial board members that describe the state of the art, outlining recent developments and major accomplishments that have been achieved and that need to occur to move the field forward. Authors are encouraged to identify the greatest challenges in the sub-disciplines and how to address those challenges. The goal of this special edition Research Topic is to shed light on the progress made in the past decade in the Consciousness Research field and on its future challenges to provide a thorough overview of the state of the art in this area of research. This article collection will inspire, inform and provide direction and guidance to researchers in the field. Please note that submissions to this collection are by invitation only. Please inform the Editorial Office when you wish to submit a manuscript.

Key Issues in Special Educational Needs, Disability and Inclusion Alan Hodkinson, 2023-12-06 This fourth edition has been revised throughout to continue to support students in their learning of special educational needs and disability. This essential book provides students with a critical and up-to-date view of the sector through key issues and debates to deepen understanding around inclusion. New to this edition: Revised further reading with videos and podcasts to support learning and research; Links to the new Green Paper; latest Code of Practice and legislation; Extensive updates and revisions to all chapters; New case studies; reader reflections taking it further; and student activities. Alan Hodkinson, Professor in the Centre for Cultural and Disability Studies at Liverpool Hope University.

Religion and Sexualities Sarah-Jane Page, Heather Shipley, 2020-05-05 This book examines key themes and concepts pertaining to religious and sexual identities and expressions, mapping theoretical, methodological and empirical dimensions. It explores the ways in which debates around sexuality and religion have been framed and what research is still needed to expand the field as it develops. Through the deployment of contemporary research including data from the authors' own projects, Religion and Sexualities offers an encompassing account of the sociology of sexuality and religion, considering theoretical and methodological lenses queer experiences and how sexuality is gendered in religious contexts This comprehensive text will act as an essential accompaniment to scholars and students across the social sciences and humanities whether they have a general interest in the field or are embarking on their own research in this area Young Children, Pedagogy and the Arts Felicity McArdle, Gail Boldt, 2013-09-02 Young Children Pedagogy and the Arts is an innovative text that describes practices and research that cross all five strands of the arts visual drama music dance and media and illuminates ways of understanding children and their arts practices that go beyond the common traditions The book Offers practical and rich illustrations of teachers and children s work based on international research that integrates theory with practice Brings a critical lens to arts education Includes summaries reflective questions and recommended further readings with every chapter Young Children Pedagogy and the Arts provides a more nuanced understanding of the arts through an exploration of specific instances in which committed teachers and researchers are discovering what contemporary multimodal tools offer to young children Chapters contain examples of doing the arts in the early years new ways of teaching and how to use emerging technologies to develop multiliteracies equity agency social and cultural capital and enhance the learning and engagement of marginalized children Cognition, Assessment and Debriefing in

Aviation Wolff-Michael Roth, 2017-07-20 Debriefing is a major component of the job in many high risk industries where errors can have considerable often deadly consequences including combat surgery and aviation Although there exists considerable literature on debriefing recent reviews of the literature suggest a shortcomings in the topics researched b paucity of related theory c limitations in the number of empirical studies and d problems in research design There are also recent suggestions that there are surprisingly studies in the scholarly literature that show how to debrief how to teach or learn to debrief what methods of debriefing exists and how effective they are at achieving learning objectives and goals Meta analyses reveal substantial variations in research findings e g on the use of video as a means of debriefing that can be traced to the problems This book redresses these problems in that it provides a detailed look at debriefing and assessment the functions of different cognitive artifacts used and a theoretical framework that accounts for the complexity of flying an aircraft and for the debriefing of the pilots experiences especially under the high stakes condition of their bi annual evaluation for licensing purposes The book provides detailed investigation of flight examiners methods to arrive at assessments of aviation pilot performance It shows and theoretically models why there are good reasons for lower than desired inter rater agreements It offers detailed scenarios of how debriefing can be made to draw maximum benefit for pilot learning that is for the take home messages that will make them better pilots The theoretical framework includes objective factors that determine performance and the subjective experience pilots have while undergoing training and testing in flight simulators Intellectual Agency and Virtue Epistemology: A Montessori Perspective Patrick Frierson, 2019-12-12

Drawing on the work of Maria Montessori and contemporary virtue epistemologists such as Linda Zagzebski and Jason Baehr

Intellectual Agency and Virtue Epistemology presents a new interpretation of the nature of intellectual agency and its associated virtues Focusing on Montessori s interpretation of specific virtues including sensory attentiveness intellectual love and intellectual humility it discusses why these are virtues why one can be held responsible for them and how they relate to each other Moreover it considers pedagogical implications of considering these capacities to be virtues Intellectual Agency and Virtue Epistemology not only reveals the value of seeing Montessori as a virtue epistemologist it encourages educationalists to take seriously the cultivation of intellectual virtues as an important part of the education of children
