Handbook of International Trade and Transportation Bruce A. Blonigen, Wesley W. Wilson, 2018-01-26 International trade has grown rapidly over the past half century accommodated by the transportation industry through concomitant growth and technological change But while the connection between transport and trade flows is clear the academic literature often looks at these two issues separately This Handbook is unique in pulling together the key insights of each field while highlighting what we know about their intersection and ideas for future research in this relatively unexamined but growing area of study

Economics without Borders Laszlo Matyas, Richard Blundell, Estelle Cantillon, Barbara Chizzolini, Marc Ivaldi, Wolfgang Leininger, Ramon Marimon, Frode Steen, 2017-04-27 If treated as a single economy the European Union is the largest in the world with an estimated GDP of over 14 trillion euros Despite its size European economic policy has often lagged behind the rest of the world in its ability to generate growth and innovation Much of the European economic research itself often trails behind that of the USA which sets much of the agenda in mainstream economics This book also available as open access bridges the gap between economic research and policymaking by presenting overviews of twelve key areas for future economic policy and research Written for the economists and policymakers working within European institutions it uses comprehensive surveys by Europe's leading International Business in China Robert Taylor, 2013-09-13 This book deals with a number of contentious issues in Chinese management as China emerges as a global economic player with a greater role in international business during a global economic crisis This step is in tandem with an economically driven foreign policy Since the 1980s Chinese management while still in transition has benefited from an infusion of capital technology and managerial expertise through inward direct investment via joint and wholly owned foreign ventures As the so called workshop of the world China and its exports especially labour intensive goods face protectionism in the United States and the European Union To circumvent these barriers the Chinese leaders are emphasising domestic consumption itself dependent on rising personal income levels and an improved national social insurance system and a move to high tech products themselves requiring indigenous innovation The creation of a knowledge economy in addition to outward investment in manufacturing could lead to a distinctive independent style of Chinese management Simultaneously China s participation in intra regional trade underlines the nation s role in Asian regional business networks Such developments in turn present a challenge to Western and global business This book was published as a special issue of Asia Pacific Business Review

Industrial Agglomeration and New Technologies

Masatsugu Tsuji, Emanuele Giovannetti, Mitsuhiro Kagami, 2007 Exploring the question of why firms congregate in certain regions this book presents real examples of industrial clusters adding anecdotal evidence to the emerging theory of economic geography by illustrating the centripetal and centrifugal forces that regulate the clustering process Economics of

Agglomeration Masahisa Fujita, 2014-05-14 This book provides the first unifying treatment of the range of economic reasons for the clustering of firms and households Its goal is to explain further the trade off between various forms of increasing returns and different types of mobility costs Although referring to agglomeration as a generic term is convenient it should be noted that the concept of economic agglomeration refers to distinct real world situations The main focus of the treatment is on cities but it also explores the formation of agglomerations such as commercial districts within cities industrial clusters at the regional level and the existence of imbalance between regions The book is rooted within the realm of modern economics and borrows concepts from geography and regional science which makes it accessible to a broad audience formed by economists geographers regional planners and other scientists It may be used in coursework for graduate students and upper level undergraduates The Flowchart Approach to Industrial Cluster Policy Akifumi Kuchiki, M. Tsuji, 2008-01-09

Industrial cluster policy is crucial to the development of regions in East Asia Theories of agglomeration and clustering show that industrial clusters are effective ways of generating external economies and reducing transportation costs on a small and large scale Before a effective cluster can be built however it is necessary to clarify the conditions which are required for its success This book presents a framework for analysing industrial cluster policies The flowchart approach is a practical method which makes it clear what factors are important in building industrial clusters how firms are agglomerated and how policy measures are prioritised With case studies from China USA India Japan Thailand and Mexico this book provides a detailed and comprehensive exploration of industrial clusters and explains how the flowchart approach can be applied in analysing these case studies      Regional Science and Urban Economics ,2005      Industrial Location Economics Philip McCann,2002 Because space is not homogenous economic activities occur in different locations Understanding the reasons for this and how industries are spatially organized is the theme of this title It discusses different aspects of industrial location behaviour from theoretical and empirical perspectives      Dynamic Locational Phases of Economic Activity in the Globalized World Toshiharu Ishikawa,2016-03-11 This book clarifies the mechanisms of economic globalization in changing industries locations and shows how industries locations have changed through those mechanisms First the book deals with the retailing industry Introducing the concept of a contact price into the market area analysis it is shown in Part I that retailers market areas and prices are changed in different ways by a reduction of transportation costs The mechanism of these changes is explained by checking the contact prices at apexes of the retailers market areas Then the book moves to the manufacturing industry and deals with a firm s production process Part II of the book shows the manner in which the production volume of factories within an agglomeration is decreased as the number of factories within the agglomeration increases Subsequently considering the fact that many production factories depart from agglomerations to other sites to reduce production costs a method of searching for a factory s new site is proposed in which a firm can seek out an optimal location of a factory in a short period of time By referring to a chaotic phenomenon a firm sets a location prospective area in a large geographical area and selects an optimal location within that area In the third part of the book the city system is the focus Part III elucidates the theoretical formation of a city system and analyzes structural changes of a city system due to a reduction of transportation costs The mechanism of the change is explained by a flexible market area theory which studies a city system by using the market areas established in the free entry equilibrium Then the economic relationships between the cities within a city system are examined from the point of view of the land rent in the cities areas This analysis shows the influences of a change in the largest city on other cities Finally the relationships between a city system and regional performance are examined using real data The examination shows that the city system reveals the regional performance      Economic Integration and Spatial Location of Firms and Industries Miroslav N. Jovanović,2007 Aims to provide a survey of the theoretical foundations of spatial location of firms and industries and to explore the impact of economic integration on this process This book is intended for scholars theorists policymakers and business executives who face these challenges to the economy      Environment & Planning ,2006
