Editing Eden Frank Hutchins, Patrick C. Wilson, 2010-04-01 Recent scholarship on the Amazon has challenged depictions of the region that emphasize its natural exuberance or represent its residents as historically isolated peoples stoically resisting challenges from powerful global forces The contributors to this volume follow this lead by situating the discussion of the Amazon and its inhabitants at the intersections of identity politics debates about socioeconomic sovereignty and processes of place making Editing Eden focuses on case studies from Amazonian Brazil Colombia and Ecuador regarding the themes of indigeneity community making development politics and the transcendence of indigenous nonindigenous divides Portraits of the Amazon emerge through an analysis of indigenous identity as a product of multiple sources including state policies toward Amazonian populations the views of foreign ecotourists the agendas of nongovernmental organizations NGOs and accounts of journalists At the same time indigenous and nonindigenous Amazonians challenge the representations constructed for and about them by integrating anthropologists and other nonlocals into their reciprocal systems of gift giving or by utilizing NGO or ecotourist dollars to support their own cultural agendas Editing Eden offers insights from leading anthropologists of the region providing perspectives on the Amazon beyond the counterfeit paradise but short of El Dorado

Ecotourism and Cultural Production V. Davidov, 2013-11-19 Ecotourism is a unique facet of globalization promising the possibility of reconciling the juggernaut of development with ecological cultural conservation Davidov offers a comparative analysis of the issue using a case study of indigenous Kichwa people of Ecuador and their interactions with globalization and transnational systems

The Rights of Nature and the Testimony of Things Mark Anderson, 2024-07-15 The Rights of Nature and the Testimony of Things begins by analyzing the ethical debates and political contexts relating to Latin American rights of nature legislation and the political ontology of nonhuman speech within a framework of intercultural and multispecies diplomacy Author Mark Anderson shows how Latin American authors and thinkers complicate traditional humanistic perspectives on nature the social and politics exploring how animals plants and environments as a whole might be said to engage in social relations and political speech or self representation Drawing Native Amazonian thought into productive tension with a variety of posthumanist theoretical frameworks ranging from Derrida's conceptualization of passive decision and hospitality to biosemiotics Karen Barad's theorization of intra activity and Isabelle Stengers proposal for cosmopolitical diplomacy Anderson analyzes literary works by Julio Cortázar Clarice Lispector Jos Eustasio Rivera and Davi Kopenawa that reframe environmental ethics in terms of collective multispecies work and reciprocal care and politics as a cosmopolitics of friendship rooted in diplomacy across difference Finally Anderson examines the points of connection and divergences between Latin American relational ontologies and Euro American posthumanist theories within Indigenous Latin American remodernization projects that reappropriate and repurpose ancestral practices as well as develop new technologies with the goal of forging alternative modernities compatible with a livable future for all species

Amazonian Kichwa of the

Curaray River Mary-Elizabeth Reeve, 2022 This ethnography explores ways in which Amazonian Kichwa narrative ritual and concepts of place link extended kin groups into a regional society within Amazonian Ecuador Ecological Nostalgias Olivia Angé, David Berliner, 2020-11-01 Introducing the study of econostalgias through a variety of rich ethnographic cases this volume argues that a strictly human centered approach does not account for contemporary longings triggered by ecosystem upheavals In this time of climate change this book explores how nostalgia for fading ecologies unfolds into the interstitial spaces between the biological the political and the social regret and hope the past the present and the future Governing Indigenous Territories Juliet S. Erazo, 2013-07-18 An ethnography showing that collective land titling for native peoples is both an enormous accomplishment and a source of new expectations obligations and subjectivities within the legally established indigenous territories Editing Eden Frank Hutchins, Patrick C. constructions of living well Through ethnographic analysis and thought provoking new approaches to contemporary and historical cases the book s contributors reveal how indigenous views of wealth based on the abundance of intangibles such as vitality good health biopower and convivial relations are linked to the creation of strong productive and moral individuals and collectivities differing substantially from those in capitalist societies more inclined toward the avid accumulation and consumption of material goods
