Crossing Borders, Drawing Boundaries Barbara Couture, Patti Wojahn, 2016-03-01 With growing anxiety about American identity fueling debates about the nation's borders, ethnicities, and languages, Crossing Borders, Drawing Boundaries provides a timely and important rhetorical exploration of divisionary bounds that divide an Us from a Them. The concept of border calls for attention, and the authors in this collection respond by describing it, challenging it, confounding it, and at times erasing it. Motivating us to see anew the many lines that unite, divide, and define us, the essays in this volume highlight how discourse at borders and boundaries can create or thwart conditions for establishing identity and admitting difference. Each chapter analyzes how public discourse at the site of physical or metaphorical borders presents or confounds these conditions and consequently effective participation, a key criterion for a modern democracy. The settings are various, encompassing vast public spaces such as cities and areas within them, the rhetorical spaces of history books, museum displays, activist events, and media outlets, and the intimate settings of community and classroom conversations. Crossing Borders, Drawing Boundaries shows how rich communication can be when diverse cultures intersect and create new opportunities for human connection, even while different populations, cultures, age groups, and political parties adopt irreconcilable positions. It will be of interest to scholars in rhetoric and literacy studies and students in rhetorical analysis and public discourse. Contributors include Andrea Alden, Cori Brewster, Robert Brooke Randolph, Cathen Jennifer Clifton, Barbara Couture, Vanessa Cozza, Anita C. Hernandez, Roberta J. Herter, Judy Holiday, Elenore Long, Jos A. Montelongo, Karen P. Peirce, Jonathan P. Rossing, Susan A. Schiller, Christopher Schroeder, Tricia C. Serviss, Monica Torres, Kathryn Valentine, Victor Villanueva, and Patti Wojahn. Rhetoric Across Borders Anne Teresa Demo, 2015-08 RHETORIC ACROSS BORDERS features twenty-one essays and six excerpts from the In Conversation panels convened at the sixteenth Biennial Rhetoric Society of America (RSA) Conference. Participants engaged the conference theme of Border Rhetorics in ways that not only reinvigorated the border as a conceptual metaphor but also challenged boundaries within rhetorical scholarship. Although the volume includes only a select representation of the work presented at the conference, each section features the diverse perspectives offered in Composition and Communication. The first section, Between Materiality and Rhetoric, explores points of interface between rhetoric and materiality. Working from diverse periods and disciplinary orientations, the authors illuminate how attending to the mutuality between materiality and rhetoric engenders a productive revision and/or expansion of our approaches to essential aspects of rhetorical inquiry. The second section, Crossing Cultures, Refiguring Audience, Author, Text, and Borders, explores how various forms of translation, migration, and liminality can refigure our understanding of the interplay between audience, author, and text. Essays in the third section, Remapping the Political, examine the diverse genres that broaden our understanding of the res publica and the tactics employed to circumscribe politics. In the fourth section, Contesting Boundaries: Science, Technology, and Nature, authors consider how shifting notions of expertise and competing epistemologies alter our conceptions of science and the environment The selected essays in the final section Teaching Across Divides explore the different boundaries that shape teaching in rhetoric and composition Here the authors reflect on the challenges and rewards gained by explicitly engaging the borders and boundarywork that often remains invisible to our students These organizational groupings reflect thematic through lines in the submissions as well as a confidence in Burke s perspective by incongruity as a method fitting the exploration of various borderlands The volume concludes with fragments from select In Conversation panels that cover a range of issues from activism and intersectionality to publishing and rhetorical theory

Why Borders Matter Frank Furedi, 2020-05-13 Western society has become estranged from the borders and social boundaries that have for centuries given meaning to human experience This book argues that the controversy surrounding mass migration and physical borders runs in parallel and is closely connected to the debates surrounding the symbolic boundaries people need to guide on the issues of everyday life Numerous commentators claim that borders have become irrelevant in the age of mass migration and globalisation Some go so far as to argue for No Borders And it is not merely the boundaries that divide nations that are under attack The traditional boundaries that separate adults from children or men from women or humans from animals or citizens and non citizens or the private from the public sphere are often condemned as arbitrary unnatural and even unjust Paradoxically the attempt to alter or abolish conventional boundaries coexists with the imperative of constructing new ones No Border campaigners call for safe spaces Opponents of cultural appropriation demand the policing of language and advocates of identity politics are busy building boundaries to keep out would be encroachers on their identity Furedi argues that the key driver of the confusion surrounding borders and boundaries is the difficulty that society has in endowing experience with meaning The most striking symptom of this trend is the cultural devaluation of the act of judgment which has led to a loss of clarity about the moral boundaries in everyday life The infantilisation of adults that runs in tandem with the adultification of children offers a striking example of the consequence of non judgmentalism Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars in cultural sociology sociology of knowledge philosophy political theory and cultural studies
