

George Gissing

A woman in a long, flowing white dress is seen from behind, walking away from the viewer into a dark, misty landscape. She is holding a small, glowing lantern in her right hand, which casts a beam of light onto the ground. The background is dark and textured, suggesting a night scene or a cave.

To Miriam's surprise the English abroad are a different breed from those back home in the bay of Naples: passion rules over reason. But will life change when they return to their own hearthsides? Reminiscent of George Eliot's Middlemarch The Emancipated tells us as much about Victorian society with all its prejudices and rigid conventions as it does about one's woman's growth to human understanding. Published in 1890 it was Gissing's last novel before the more embittered view of New Grub Street a proclamation of hope of freedom in the midst of Victorian darkness. George Robert Gissing 22 November 1857 28 December 1903 was an English novelist who published 23 novels between 1880 and 1903. Gissing also worked as a teacher and tutor throughout his life. He published his first novel Workers in the Dawn in 1880. His best known novels which are published in modern editions include The Nether World 1889 New Grub Street 1891 and The Odd Women 1893. Early life Gissing was born on 22 November 1857 in Wakefield Yorkshire the eldest of five children of Thomas Waller Gissing who ran a chemist's shop and Margaret nee Bedford. His siblings were William who died aged twenty Algernon who became a writer Margaret and Ellen. His childhood home in Thompson's Yard Wakefield is maintained by The Gissing Trust. Gissing was educated at Back Lane School in Wakefield where he was a diligent and enthusiastic student. His serious interest in books began at the age of ten when he read The Old Curiosity Shop by Charles Dickens and subsequently encouraged by his father and inspired by the family library his literary interest grew. Juvenilia written at this time was published in 1995 in The Poetry of George Gissing. He was also skilled at drawing. Gissing's father died when he was 12 years old and he and his brothers were sent to Lindow Grove School at Alderley Edge in Cheshire where he was a solitary student who studied hard. In 1872 after an exceptional performance in the Oxford Local Examinations Gissing won a scholarship to Owens College forerunner of the University of Manchester. There he remained solitary continued his intense studies and won many prizes including the Poem Prize in 1873 and the Shakespeare scholarship in 1875. Gissing's academic career ended in disgrace when he fell in love with a young woman Marianne Helen Harrison known as Nell. She is often described as a prostitute but there is no evidence for this. It is reported that he gave her money in an attempt to keep her off the streets but again there is no evidence. What is known is that when he ran short of money he stole from his fellow students. The college hired a detective to investigate the thefts and Gissing was prosecuted found guilty.

expelled and sentenced to a month's hard labour in Belle Vue Gaol Manchester in 1876. In September 1876 with support from sympathisers he travelled to the United States where he spent time in Boston and Waltham Massachusetts writing and teaching classics. When his money ran out he moved to Chicago where he earned a precarious living writing short stories for newspapers including the Chicago Tribune. He lived in poverty until he met a travelling salesman in need of an assistant and Gissing demonstrated his products. These experiences partially inspired his 1891 novel New Grub Street. In September 1877 Gissing left America and returned to England.

Published in 1890, it was Gissing's last novel before the more embittered view of New Grub Street, a proclamation of hope of freedom in the midst of Victorian darkness. George Gissing was an English novelist who wrote twenty-three novels between 1880 and 1903. Although his early works are naturalistic, he developed into one of the most accomplished realists of the late Victorian era. Born in Wakefield, Yorkshire, to lower middle-class parents, Gissing went on to win a scholarship to Owens College, the present-day University of Manchester. A brilliant student, he excelled at university, winning many coveted prizes, including the Shakespeare prize in 1875. Between 1891 and 1897, his so-called middle period, he produced his best works, which include New Grub Street, Born in Exile, The Odd Women, In the Year of Jubilee, and The Whirlpool. The middle years of the decade saw his reputation reach new heights; by some critics, he is counted alongside George Meredith and Thomas Hardy as one of the best three novelists of his day. He also enjoyed new friendships with fellow writers such as Henry James and H. G. Wells and came into contact with many other up-and-coming writers such as Joseph Conrad and Stephen Crane.

and Foreign Literature ,1901 Imagining Italy Michael Hollington,John Jordan,Catherine Watts,2010-08-11 This book is a companion volume to Dickens and Italy edited by Michael Hollington and Francesca Orestano which aimed to fill an important gap in our understanding of England's paramount novelist by studying his personal political and literary relation to the foreign country he loved best of all of those he visited Its focus is wider and its scope more ambitious and speculative Without in any way leaving Dickens or his writings about Italy behind the attempt here is to approach the Victorian fascination with that country from a broader more theoretical perspective in which several current debates about travel writing are taken up and critically redeployed The book is articulated in three parts Part One concerns what the writings of Dickens and other Victorians can tell us about the history and theory of travel and travel writing and Part Two what they can tell us about particular Victorian writers themselves and their work In Part Three the focus shifts in order to compare writing and visual representations of the experience of abroad in general and Italy in particular in an era when what can be thought of as modern visual culture is gradually taking shape The book aims to show that the study of how Victorians imagined Italy can lead to a deeper understanding of some of the stereotypes that continue to inform contemporary tourism
