Dominant Predator The Borders War Book 2:

Abolishing State Violence Ray Acheson, 2022-07-26 ABOLISHING STATE VIOLENCE is an urgent and accessible analysis of the key structures of state violence in our world today and a clarion call to action for their abolition Connecting movements for social justice with ideas for how activists can support and build on this analysis and strategy this book shows that there are many mutually supportive abolition movements each enhanced by a shared understanding of the relationship between structures of violence and a shared framework for challenging them on the basis of their roots in patriarchy racism militarism settler colonialism and capitalism This book argues that abolition is transformative It is about defunding demilitarizing disbanding and divesting from current structures of violence but also about imagining new ways to organize and care for each other and our planet and about building new systems and cultures to sustain ourselves in a more equitable free and peaceful way It shows that change is possible

Border Optics Camilla Fojas, 2021-06-08 Examines how the US Mexico border is seen through visual codes of surveillance When Donald Trump promised to build a wall on the U S Mexico border both supporters and opponents visualized a snaking barrier of concrete cleaving through nearly two thousand miles of arid desert Though only 4 percent of the US population lives in proximity to the border imagining what the wall would look like came easily to most Americans in part because of how images of the border are reproduced and circulated for national audiences Border Optics considers the US Mexico border as one of the most visualized and imagined spaces in the US As a place of continual crisis permanent visibility and territorial defense the border is rendered as a layered visual space of policing one that is seen from watchtowers camera mounted vehicles helicopters surveillance balloons radar systems unmanned aerial vehicles and live streaming websites It is also a space that is visualized across various forms and genres of media from maps to geographical surveys military strategic plans illustrations photographs postcards novels film and television which combine fascination with the region with the visual codes of surveillance and survey Border Optics elaborates on the expanded vision of the border as a consequence of the interface of militarism technology and media Camilla Fojas describes how the perception of the viewing public is controlled through a booming security industrial complex made up of entertainment media local and federal police prisons and detention centers the aerospace industry and all manner of security technology industries The first study to examine visual codes of surveillance within an analysis of the history and culture of the border region Border Optics is an innovative and groundbreaking examination of security cultures race gender and colonialism Insurgent Aesthetics Ronak K. Kapadia, 2019-10-25 In Insurgent Aesthetics Ronak K Kapadia theorizes the world making power of contemporary art responses to US militarism in the Greater Middle East He traces how new forms of remote killing torture confinement and surveillance have created a distinctive post 9 11 infrastructure of racialized state violence Linking these new forms of violence to the history of American imperialism and conquest Kapadia shows how Arab Muslim and South Asian diasporic multimedia artists force a reckoning with the US war on terror s violent destruction and its impacts on immigrant and refugee communities Drawing on an eclectic range of visual installation and performance works Kapadia reveals queer feminist decolonial critiques of the US security state that visualize subjugated histories of US militarism and make palpable what he terms the sensorial life of empire In this way these artists forge new aesthetic and social alliances that sustain critical opposition to the global war machine and create alternative ways of knowing and feeling beyond the forever war

Savage Ecology Jairus Victor Grove,2019-08-16 Jairus Victor Grove contends that we live in a world made by war In Savage Ecology he offers an ecological theory of geopolitics that argues that contemporary global crises are better understood when considered within the larger history of international politics Infusing international relations with the theoretical interventions of fields ranging from new materialism to political theory Grove shows how political violence is the principal force behind climate change mass extinction slavery genocide extractive capitalism and other catastrophes Grove analyzes a variety of subjects from improvised explosive devices and drones to artificial intelligence and brain science to outline how geopolitics is the violent pursuit of a way of living that comes at the expense of others Pointing out that much of the damage being done to the earth and its inhabitants stems from colonialism Grove suggests that the Anthropocene may be better described by the term Eurocene The key to changing the planet's trajectory Grove proposes begins by acknowledging both the earth shaping force of geopolitical violence and the demands apocalypses make for fashioning new ways of living

The Challenge of Progress Harry F. Dahms,2019-11-26 Globalization has accelerated the process of social political cultural and especially economic transformations since the 1990s Examining the choices of modern society Dahms and contributors ask what are the social costs of progress

Visions of Invasion Michael Lechuga,2023-03-02 Visions of Invasion Alien Affects Cinema and Citizenship in Settler Colonies explores how the US government mobilizes media and surveillance technologies to operate a highly networked multidimensional system for controlling migrants Author Michael Lechuga focuses on three arenas where a citizenship control assemblage manufactures alienhood Hollywood extraterrestrial invasion film federal antimigration and border security legislation and various immigration enforcement protocols implemented along the Mexico United States border Building on rhetorical studies settler colonial studies and media studies Visions of Invasion offers a glimpse at how the processes of alien making contribute to an ongoing settler colonial project in the US Lechuga demonstrates that popular films The War of the Worlds Predator Men in Black and more participate in the production of migrants as subjective terrorists felons and other noncitizen personae vilified in public discourse Beyond just tracing how alien invasion narratives circulate in popular media Lechuga describes how the logics motivating early US colonists materialize in both the US's citizenship control policy and in some of the country's most popular texts Beneath each of the film franchises and antimigrant political expressions described in Visions of Invasion lies an anxious colonial logic in which the settler way of life is seemingly threatened by false narratives of imminent invasion from abroad The volume offers a deep dive into how the rhetorical figure of the alien has been manufactured as a political subjectivity one that plays out the anxieties, guilts and fears of colonialism in today's science fiction landscape

Voluminous States Franck Billé, 2020-07-24 From the Arctic to the South China Sea states are vying to secure sovereign rights over vast maritime stretches undersea continental plates shifting ice flows airspace and the subsoil Conceiving of sovereign space as volume rather than area the contributors to Voluminous States explore how such a conception reveals and underscores the three dimensional nature of modern territorial governance In case studies ranging from the United States Europe and the Himalayas to Hong Kong Korea and Bangladesh the contributors outline how states are using airspace surveillance maritime patrols and subterranean monitoring to gain and exercise sovereignty over three dimensional space Whether examining how militaries are digging tunnels to create new theaters of operations the impacts of climate change on borders or the relation between borders and nonhuman ecologies they demonstrate that a three dimensional approach to studying borders is imperative for gaining a fuller understanding of sovereignty Contributors Debbora Battaglia Franck Bill Wayne Chambliss Jason Cons Hilary Cunningham Scharper Klaus Dodds Elizabeth Cullen Dunn Gastón Gordillo Sarah Green Tina Harris Caroline Humphrey Marcel LaFlamme Lisa Sang Mi Min Aihwa Ong Clancy Wilmott Jerry Zee
