Dos And Donts In Hong Kong:

Dos and Donts in Hong Kong Mary Leong, Colin Storey, 2005-01 Hong Kong natives are fascinating they talk constantly use extravagant hand gestures and love to eat a cuisine that may be the best in the world Behind the high rise living Armani suits financial acumen and sophisticated nightlife the traditions of the Cantonese grandma and corner shop herbalist pulse through the veins of every resident The visitor to wonderful Hong Kong soon learns that with one foot planted in the west and the other in the orient understanding Hong Kongers and their ways is not an easy task To ensure that you the foreign resident fleeting visitor or armchair traveler enjoy your stay in Hong Kong the authors of this much needed travel guide present a light hearted but practical guide to the of this dynamic city DON T stand there like a lemon holding open the elevator doors while everybody marches past you DO spit the chicken bones and other detritus of culinary ecstasy onto the table everybody else does And DO remember that once accepted into a circle of Hong Kong friends you are there for life with all the responsibilities that go with it DO believe this your Hong Kong colleagues are likely to tell you that your new hairdo makes you look like a Korean DO understand that as boss of your company your employees expect you to take care of them as a father does his children DON T laugh when you learn that Hong Kongers drink dried seahorse and deer antler soup for breakfast DON T get upset when you realize the bus drivers routinely curse passengers and sing opera as they hurtle through crowded streets Want to know more Then DO buy this book Handbook of International Perspectives on Early Childhood Education Jaipaul L. Roopnarine, James E. Johnson, Suzanne Flannery Quinn, Michael M. Patte, 2018-02-21 The Handbook of International Perspectives on Early Childhood Education provides a groundbreaking compilation of research from an interdisciplinary group of distinguished experts in early childhood education ECE child development cultural and cross cultural research in the psychological sciences etc The chapters provide current overviews of ECE in Latin America and the Caribbean the Middle East Asia Australia Africa Europe the US and Canada and convey how ECE is multi sectorial multi cultural and multi disciplinary undergirded by such disciplines as neuroscience psychological anthropology cross cultural human development childhood studies and political science Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12

Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published e g disabled Latino seniors etc few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written Thus the timely need for this book Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole this book has 24 separate chapters each on 24 specific Asian countries cultures of East Southeast and South Asia with a wealth of resources for understanding interacting with outreaching to and serving library users of each culture Resources include cultural guides both print and online language helps with sample library vocabulary Asian booksellers nationwide cultural groups professional literature and more Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries public school and academic making this book valuable for all librarians The demographics of each Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians

Revisiting The Chinese Learner Carol K.K. Chan,Nirmala Rao,2010-03-10 It is seventeen years since I first formulated The paradox of the Chinese learner in a conference in Kathmandu Nepal My original formulation of the paradox was that westerners saw Chinese students as rote learning massive amounts of information in fierce exam dominated classrooms yet in international comparisons students in the Confucian heritage classrooms greatly outperformed western students learning in progressive western classrooms This seeming paradox raised all sorts of questions to which many others have contributed important answers especially that by Ference Marton on how Chinese learners construed the roles of memory and understanding in ways that were foreign to typical western educators Much of this work was brought together in The Chinese Learner 1996 edited by David Watkins and myself That work raised more questions still especially about educational contexts beliefs and practices which were investigated in contributions to Teaching the Chinese Learner 2001 And now we have Revisiting the Chinese Learner which is a very timely collection of excellent contributions that take into account the many changes that have taken place since 2001 changes such as 1 The globalisation of education especially through educational technology and enormous socio economic changes especially in China itself 2 Changes in educational policy aims curriculum and organisation and decentralisation of educational decision making in many Confucian heritage cultures 3

Early Childhood Curriculum in Chinese Societies Weipeng Yang,Hui Li,2019-03-13 Although Chinese societies have generally become striking as the classic over achievers in international measures of academic performance there has been no specialised publication exploring early childhood curriculum in Chinese contexts Through this book readers will learn more about how the Chinese context and culture collide with educators beliefs about the right activities for children and educators in early childhood settings This book will be the first one of its kind to focus on early childhood curriculum in Chinese societies from social context and culture to reforms and practices and finally to the lessons that researchers policymakers and practitioners could learn as well as future directions Is play valued Are young children schooled earlier in Chinese societies How do Chinese children learn in kindergartens What is valued by Chinese educators when they implement early childhood curricula How do Chinese teachers deliver early childhood curricula for their young children Why were Chinese early childhood curricula implemented in these ways Answers to these questions and more will be provided in this pioneering book Teaching Chinese Literacy in the Early Years Hui Li, 2014-08-21 The Chinese language is now used by a quarter of the world's population and is increasingly popular as a second language. Teaching Chinese Literacy in the Early Years comprehensively investigates the psychology, pedagogy and practice involved in teaching Chinese literacy to young children. This text not only explores the psycholinguistic and neuropsychological processing involved in learning Chinese literacy but also introduces useful teaching methods and effective practices relevant for teaching within early years and primary education. Key issues explored within this text include: The Psycholinguistics of Chinese Literacy; Neuropsychological Understanding of Chinese Literacy; The pedagogy of teaching Chinese as a first language; The Pedagogy of Teaching Chinese as a second language; Teaching Chinese literacy in early childhood settings; Assessing Chinese Literacy Attainment in the Early Years. With the addition of two reliable Chinese literacy scales, Teaching Chinese Literacy in the Early Years is an essential text for any student, lecturer or professional teacher who is interested in learning and teaching Chinese literacy.
