Exiled For Love The Journey Of An Iranian Queer Activist:

Exiled for Love Arsham Parsi, Marc Colbourne, 2015-05-01 T00:00:00Z To be gay in Iran means to live in the shadow of death The country's harsh Islamic code of Lavat is used to execute gay men and LGBT individuals who avoid execution are often subjected to severe lashings torture and imprisonment It was in this unforgiving environment that Arsham Parsi came to terms with his identity as a gay man When a close friend committed suicide after his family learned he was gay Arsham felt compelled to act Risking his life as well as the safety of his family he used the anonymity of the Internet to speak out about the human rights abuses against LGBT people in his country In 2005 Parsi learned that an order had been issued for his arrest and execution He was forced to seek refuge in neighbouring Turkey until thirteen months later he was granted asylum in Canada Exiled for Love follows Parsi's incredible journey from his first understanding of his sexual orientation to his eventual exile It explores the reality for LGBT people in Iran through the deeply personal and inspiring story of his life escape and continuing work

Youth, Sexuality and Sexual Citizenship Peter Aggleton, Rob Cover, Deana Leahy, Daniel Marshall, Mary Lou Rasmussen, 2018-10-10 Sexual citizenship is a powerful concept associated with debates about recognition and exclusion agency respect and accountability For young people in general and for gender and sexually diverse youth in particular these debates are entangled with broader imaginings of social transitions from child to adult and from unreasonable subject to one who can consent This international and interdisciplinary collection identifies and locates struggles for recognition and inclusion in particular contexts and at particular moments in time recognising that sexual and gender diverse young people are neither entirely vulnerable nor self-reliant Focusing on the numerous domains in which debates about youth sexuality and citizenship are enacted and contested Youth Sexuality and Sexual Citizenship explores young people's experiences in diverse but linked settings in the family at school and in college in employment in social media and through engagement with health services Bookended by reflections from Jeffrey Weeks and Susan Talburt the book's empirically grounded chapters also engage with the key debates outlined in its scholarly introduction This innovative book is of interest to students and scholars of gender and sexuality health and sex education and youth studies from a range of disciplinary and professional backgrounds including sociology education nursing social work and youth work

Cis White Gay Ben Appel, 2025-11-04 A gay survivor of a Christian cult finds new purpose in LGBT activism and attends Columbia University with the aim of becoming a journalist only to find himself in a new cult devoted to queerness anti-Zionism and anti-Western radicalism In 1983 Ben Appel is born into the Lamb of God a Christian covenant community in Maryland From an early age his gender nonconformity is evident and he is made to feel sinful and bad in God's eyes When his parents' marriage crumbles and his family is exiled from the sacred community Ben is thrust into the real world which he finds to be even less tolerant of girly boys than the Lamb of God Unable to reconcile his gay identity with his religious programming he prays obsessively for God's forgiveness and self-medicates with drugs and alcohol Within a few years his inner demons drive him to the edge of mental and emotional collapse Later in recovery Ben rebuilds his life and finds a new calling in LGBT activism setting him on a path to the Ivy League and a hopeful career as a journalist Finally at the late age of thirty three he enters Columbia University eager to join his progressive peers in their fight against right wing authoritarianism Yet he soon discovers that he has joined a new sacred community one as conformist as the Christian cult of his childhood and as cruel as his middle school bullies Even more frightening than this mob s so called progressive mentality is its rigid ideology an illiberal orthodoxy that threatens the very principles of freedom and equality For resisting indoctrination into this new progressive cult the Cult of Queer Ben will once again face the shame and loneliness of excommunication Only this time he will discover that true freedom can be found on the other side of exile in a celebration of genuine diversity based on hard won individual identity Azadi Andisheh Journal, No 7 Iran Academia, Love, Justice and Freedom Naser

Love Story Shahriar Mandanipour,2009-05-05 A NEW YORKER BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR One of Iran s most important living fiction writers The Guardian shows what it s like to live and love there today A haunting portrait of life in the Islamic Republic of Iran The New York Times In a country where mere proximity between a man and a woman may be the prologue to deadly sin where illicit passion is punished by imprisonment or even death telling that most redemptive of human narratives becomes the greatest literary challenge If conducting a love affair in modern Iran is not a simple undertaking then telling the story of that love may be even more difficult Shahriar Mandanipour author of Moon Brow evokes a pair of young lovers who find each other despite surreal persecution and repressive parents through coded messages and internet chat rooms and triumphantly their story entwines with an account of their creator's struggle. Inventive, darkly comic and profoundly touching, Censoring an Iranian Love Story celebrates both the unquenchable power of the written word and a love that is doomed, glorious and utterly real. Even After All This Time Afschineh Latifi, Pablo F. Fenjves, 2005. A poignant memoir about the power of hope to sustain a family torn apart during the Iranian revolution. For the Love of Mohammad a Memoir Jean Beaini, Kerry Newman, 2014-08-05. The memoir of two young dancers from vastly different cultures tells of their ill-fated marriage during Iran's Islamic Revolution. For several years Mohammad and I had wanted to write about a significantly dramatic part of our personal journey through life. We eventually put pen to paper after meeting up again in England. For the Love of Mohammad A Memoir is a true story of love and all its complexities. It is also the story of a young English girl living in a Middle Eastern country which is torn apart by an Islamic revolution and war and the story of a young Iranian man struggling to come to terms with his homosexuality after being manipulated into marriage whilst being deeply in love with another man. Mohammad and I feel our story is also more than just a story of our love. As the world continues to struggle with human rights issues, in particular the human rights of the LGBTQ communities in such countries as Iran, Uganda, Pakistan, Nigeria, India, Russia, and often in our own backyard, Mohammad and I believe that our story speaks out for those who have their voices silenced, contributes to the awareness of their situation and carries with it a message of hope and courage by demonstrating how, with the power of love, courage and understanding, life's adversities can be overcome.

Exiled Memories Zohreh Sullivan, 2001-01-15. I feel I am the wandering Jew who has no place to which she belongs. I thought I could settle down but can't imagine staying. Whenever I bought a bar of soap and two came in the package. I thought there would be no need to buy a package of two because I would never last through the second. Why? Because I knew I was returning to Iran tomorrow. So too I would buy the smallest size of toothpastes and jars of oil. Putting down roots here is an impossibility. These are the words of one Iranian emigre driven from Tehran by the revolution of 1979. They are echoed time and again in this powerful portrayal of loss and survival. Impelled by these words and her own concerns about nationality and identity, Zohreh Sullivan has gathered together here the voices of sixty exiles and emigres. The speakers come from various ethnic and religious backgrounds and range in age from thirteen to eighty-eight. Although most are from the middle class, they work in a variety of occupations in the United States. But whatever their differences here they engage in remembering the past, producing a discourse about their lives and negotiating the troubled transitions from one culture to another. Unlike many other Iranian oral history projects, Exiled Memories looks at the reconstruction of memory and identity through diasporic narratives through a focus on the Americas rather than on Iran. The narratives included here reveal the complex ways in which events and places transform identities: how overnight radicals become conservatives, friends become enemies, the strong become weak. Indeed, the narratives themselves serve this function, serving to transfer or transform power.

and establish credibility They reveal a diverse group of people in the process of knitting the story of themselves with the story of the collective after it has been torn apart
