Carlito,2005-05-25 Among Hispanic literatures Cuban American fiction is unique because of the Cuban American disposition to regard themselves as exiles rather than immigrants Many Cuban Americans have never been to Cuba and therefore must rely on the memories of those around them to draw conclusions about it These writers have grown up with English as their primary social language and feel more comfortable using English in their writing Until now no listing or bibliography has ever been compiled of Cuban American fiction written in English or its criticism As more works by Cuban Americans are being published every year a resource for such titles has become necessary The body of literature needs a publication that addresses the works of Cuban American authors for those who want an introduction to the subject more general knowledge about the topic or a more solid foundation from which to research it This is the first comprehensive work to address Cuban American fiction originally written in English It contains listings and annotations of all novels anthologies and short story collections written by the first and second generations of Cuban Americans This work also possesses listings and annotations of all secondary works that focus on this fiction Works begin in 1963 with A Wake in Ybor City by Jose Yglesias and run well into the first decade of the 21st century Trilogies as Cultural Analysis Gregory Stephens,2018-10-12 This book offers a big picture view of three universal themes as seen in literary representations sea crossing tales human animal relations and late father son relationships Seen in triptych these writings demonstrate how passing between worlds and across cultures has become the normative human condition Authors analyzed within a hemispheric and post national frame include works by Ernest Hemingway J M Coetzee's late Jesus novels and Esmeralda Santiago's When I Was Puerto Rican Fusing literary criticism communication studies and literary nonfiction within a writing studies framework Trilogies argues for the inclusion in our writing of personal institutional and disciplinary perspectives The book invites readers to re imagine writing and communication styles How can we envision and communicate the representations of between world experiences that are all around us What kinds of writing and communication styles can travel beyond our bubbles engage General Education students and gain a hearing in the public sphere Caribbean Literature in Transition, 1970-2020: Volume 3 Ronald Cummings,Alison Donnell,2021-01-14 The period from the 1970s to the present day has produced an extraordinarily rich and diverse body of Caribbean writing that has been widely acclaimed Caribbean Literature in Transition 1970 2020 traces the region's contemporary writings across the established genres of prose poetry fiction and drama into emerging areas of creative non fiction memoir and speculative fiction with a particular attention on challenging the narrow
