Fixing Columbine The Challenge To American Liberalism:

Fixing Columbine Doriane Lambelet Coleman, 2002 Fixing Columbine uses the 1999 school shootings at Columbine High School in Littleton Colorado as a metaphor for the much larger and largely silent epidemic of childhood dysfunction that has swept the nation in the last thirty years claiming as its victims approximately 15 to 25 million American children annually Using both a child development lens and comparative analysis the book first describes the causes of the epidemic which include for the affected children absent adults toxic media exposures dysfunctional peers and an anti social educational environment It then tackles the question how to fix it The book argues that classical liberal principles as represented in the constitutional doctrines of parental autonomy and free speech simultaneously enabled the epidemic and impede the most obvious law based solutions It concludes with a partial answer in the public schools as they perform their original and still salient communitarian function

Politics of the Pantry Emily E. LB. Twarog, 2017-09-15 The history of women s political involvement has focused heavily on electoral politics but throughout the twentieth century women engaged in grassroots activism when they found it increasingly challenging to feed their families and balance their household ledgers Politics of the Pantry examines how working and middle class American housewives used their identity as housewives to protest the high cost of food In doing so housewives relationships with the state evolved over the course of the century Shifting the focus away from the workplace as a site of protest Emily E LB Twarog looks to the homefront as a starting point for protest in the public sphere With a focus on food consumption rather than production Twarog looks closely at the ways food specifically meat was used by women as a political tool Engaging in domestic politics housewives both challenged and embraced the social and economic order as they sought to craft a unique political voice and build a consumer movement focused on the home The book examines key moments when women used consumer actions to embrace their socially ascribed roles as housewives to demand economic stability for their families and communities These include the Depression era meat boycott of 1935 the consumer coalitions of the New Deal and the wave of consumer protests between 1966 and 1973 Twarog introduces numerous labor and consumer activists and their organizations in both urban and suburban areas Detroit greater Chicago Long Island and Los Angeles

The Relationship Rights of Children James G. Dwyer, 2006-04-17 This book presents a sustained theoretical analysis of what rights children should possess in connection with state decision making about their personal relationships which the state does in numerous aspects of family law including paternity adoption custody and visitation termination of parental rights and grandparent visitation It examines the nature and normative foundation of adults rights in connection with relationships among themselves and then assesses the extent to which the moral principles underlying adults rights apply also to children It concludes that the law should ascribe to children rights equivalent though not identical to those which adults enjoy and this would require substantial changes in the way the legal system treats children including a reformation of the rules for establishing legal parent child relationships at birth and of the rules for deciding whether to end a parent child relationship
