A Pepper-pot of Cultures Gordon Collier, Ulrich Fleischmann, 2003 The terms creole and creolization have witnessed a number of significant semantic changes in the course of their history. Originating in the vocabulary associated with colonial expansion in the Americas it had been successively narrowed down to the field of black American culture or of particular linguistic phenomena. Recently creole has expanded again to cover the broad area of cultural contact and transformation characterizing the processes of globalization initiated by the colonial migrations of past centuries. The present volume is intended to illustrate these various stages either by historical and or theoretical discussion of the concept or through selected case studies. The authors are established scholars from the areas of literature, linguistics and cultural studies; they all share a lively and committed interest in the Caribbean area, certainly not the only or even oldest realm in which processes of creolization have shaped human societies, but one that offers by virtue of its history of colonialization and cross cultural contact its most pertinent example. The collection, beyond its theoretical interest, thus also constitutes an important survey of Caribbean studies in Europe and the Americas. As well as searching overview essays, there are sociolinguistic contributions on the linguistic geography of criollo in Spanish America, the Limonese creole speakers of Costa Rica, creole language and identity in the Netherlands Antilles and the affinities between Papiamentu and Chinese in Curaçao, ethnohistorical examinations of such topics as creole transgression in the Dominican Haitian borderland, the Haitian Mandingo and African fundamentalism, creolization and identity in West Central Jamaica, Afro-Nicaraguans and national identity and the Creole heritage of Haiti, studies of religion and folk culture including voodoo and creolization in New York City, the creolization of the Mami Wata water spirit and signifying processes in New World Anancy tales, a group of essays focusing on the thought of Édouard Glissant, Maryse Condé and the Creole writers and case studies of artistic expression including creole identities in Caribbean women's writing, Port-au-Prince in the Haitian novel, Cynthia McLeod and Astrid Roemer and Surinamese fiction, Afro-Cuban artistic expression and metacreolization in the fiction of Robert Antoni and Nalo Hopkinson.

Lengua y cultura en el Caribe hispánico Jens Lüdtke, Matthias Perl, 2011-04-20. Se enfocan la lengua española y los cambios culturales en el Caribe desde los contactos con los taínos y los indígenas del Continente y sus repercusiones lingüísticas y literarias y se analiza el desarrollo de la lengua en las Antillas Mayores, la criollización, el contacto con lenguas posteriores y la descriptización, resultado de interferencias recientes.
