

ENGINE REBUILDING

REBUILDING THE ENGINE

The engine is the heart of the vehicle. It is the power source that drives the wheels and provides the energy to move the vehicle. The engine is a complex machine with many moving parts. It is made up of several cylinders, each with a piston and a connecting rod. The pistons are connected to the crankshaft, which is the main rotating part of the engine. The crankshaft is connected to the flywheel, which is a heavy disc that helps to keep the engine running smoothly. The engine is also connected to the transmission, which is the part of the vehicle that allows you to change gears. The engine is a very important part of the vehicle, and it is important to keep it in good working order.
