STUDY GUIDE/REVIEW

1. What are the components of aggregate demand? What are two examples that would be included in each category? What are some things that are excluded from AD?

Component	Two Examples
Government spending	Building roads, schools, libraries
Consumption	Buying food, entertainment
Investment	Buying a house, buying land
Net exports	Oil from Saudi Arabia, cars from China

Excluded from AD
Transfer payments (social security)

2. Why does aggregate demand have a negative slope?

It has a negative slope because output decreases as price level increases.

3. How does an increase in the price level affect real wealth?

It would cause a decrease in real wealth because it reduces the purchasing power of one's assets.

4. How does the level of income in other countries affect our aggregate demand?

Higher incomes in other countries will make consumers from those countries be more willing to buy US goods which will increase our net exports and thus, increase our aggregate demand.

5. What is the marginal propensity to consume (MPC)?
