Erdas Imagine 2015 User Guide:

Geospatial Technologies for All Ali Mansourian, Petter Pilesjö, Lars Harrie, Ron van Lammeren, 2018-03-23 This book presents the research papers accepted for the 21st AGILE Conference on Geographic Information Science held at Lund University Geographical Information Systems GIS Centre Sweden on 12-15 June 2018. It discusses the role of geospatial technologies in the digitalization of society and is intended primarily for professionals and researchers in fields that can benefit from geoinformation both within and outside the area of geographic information science. Hyperspectral Remote Sensing Ruiliang Pu, 2017-08-16 Advanced imaging spectral technology and hyperspectral analysis techniques for multiple applications are the key features of the book. This book will present in one volume complete solutions from concepts fundamentals and methods of acquisition of hyperspectral data to analyses and applications of the data in a very coherent manner. It will help readers to fully understand basic theories of HRS, how to utilize various field spectrometers and bioinstruments, the importance of radiometric correction and atmospheric correction, the use of analysis tools and software, and determine what to do with HRS technology and data.

Map Librarianship Susan Elizabeth Ward Aber, Jeremy Aber, 2016-11-04 Map Librarianship identifies basic geoliteracy concepts and enhances reference and instruction skills by providing details on finding, downloading, delivering, and assessing maps, remotely sensed imagery, and other geospatial resources and services primarily from trusted government sources. By offering descriptions of traditional maps, geographic information systems, GIS, remote sensing, and other geospatial technologies, the book provides a timely and practical guide for the map and geospatial librarian to blend confidence in traditional library skill sets. Includes rarely discussed concepts of citing and referencing maps and geospatial data, fair use, and copyright. Creates an awareness and appreciation of existing print map collections while building digital stewardship with surrogate map and aerial imagery collections. Provides an introduction to the theory and applications of GIS, remote sensing, participatory neogeography, and neocartography practices and other geospatial technologies. Includes a list of geospatial resources with descriptions and illustrations of commonly used map types and formats, online geospatial data sources, and an introduction to the most commonly used geospatial software packages available on both desktop and mobile platforms.

Recent Advances in Geographic Information System for Earth Sciences Yosoon Choi, 2020-06-23 Geographic information systems (GISs) have played a vital role in Earth sciences by providing a powerful means of observing the world and various tools for solving complex problems. The scientific community has used GISs to reveal fascinating details about the Earth and other planets. This book on recent advances in GIS for Earth sciences includes 12 publications from esteemed research groups worldwide. The research and review papers in this book belong to the following broad categories: Earth science informatics, geoinformatics, mining, hydrology, natural hazards, and society. Dynamic Response of Coasts and Estuaries to Human Impacts Xiao Hua Wang, 2024-07-25 The coasts cover a diverse range of ecosystems within marine, estuarine, and freshwater environments. They are some of the most heavily populated and visited areas and are also some of the most threatened natural habitats Coastal zones are critically important not only to the people who live there but for the health of the planet Many world estuaries and coast environments are under tremendous stress in response to global warming and the increased anthropogenic forcing Warmer waters rising sea levels tropical cyclones storm surges and flooding and coastal erosion are just some of the elements impacting coastal communities worldwide and transforming these environments Coastal hazards such as storm events with associated storm surges are increasing in frequency and intensity as are marine heatwaves that devastate coral reefs Human activities like sewage discharge overfishing navigation channel dredging land reclamation the construction of shipping ports and marine plastics are also responsible for coastal pollution and degradation Therefore a good understanding of the current state of coastal environments and lessons learnt from these human influences is extremely valuable to restore and protect these habitats and ecosystems from further environmental degradation and even catastrophe In this book case studies are used to tell a story about how these environments respond to severe human induced perturbations and what has gone right and wrong from environmental and resource management point of view The readership of the book include high level undergraduate Oceanography students and workers from Coastal Engineering and Management Wildlife Research ,2015 GIS World Sourcebook 1995 [Anonymus AC01149836],1994 Product Guide ERDAS (Firm),CHEST (Organization),University of Manchester.
