Exclusion Embrace A Theological Exploration Of Identity Otherness And Reconciliation:

Exclusion & Embrace Miroslav Volf, 2010-03-01 Life at the end of the twentieth century presents us with a disturbing reality Otherness the simple fact of being different in some way has come to be defined as in and of itself evil Miroslav Volf contends that if the healing word of the gospel is to be heard today Christian theology must find ways of speaking that address the hatred of the other Reaching back to the New Testament metaphor of salvation as reconciliation Volf proposes the idea of embrace as a theological response to the problem of exclusion Increasingly we see that exclusion has become the primary sin skewing our perceptions of reality and causing us to react out of fear and anger to all those who are not within our ever narrowing circle In light of this Christians must learn that salvation comes not only as we are reconciled to God and not only as we learn to live with one another but as we take the dangerous and costly step of opening ourselves to the other of enfolding him or her in the same embrace with which we have been enfolded by God Exclusion and Embrace Miroslav Volf, 2019-08-20 Life in the twenty first century presents a disturbing reality Otherness the simple fact of being different in some way has come to be defined as in and of itself evil Miroslav Volf contends that if the healing word of the gospel is to be heard today Christian theology must find ways of speaking that address the hatred of the other Is there any hope of embracing our enemies Of opening the door to reconciliation Reaching back to the New Testament metaphor of salvation as reconciliation Volf proposes the idea of embrace as a theological response to the problem of exclusion Increasingly we see that exclusion has become the primary sin skewing our perceptions of reality and causing us to react out of fear and anger to all those who are not within our ever narrowing circle In light of this Christians must learn that salvation comes not only as we are reconciled to God and not only as we learn to live with one another but as we take the dangerous and costly step of opening ourselves to the other of enfolding him or her in the same embrace with which we have been enfolded by God Volf won the 2002 Louisville Grawemeyer Award in Religion for the first edition of his book Exclusion Embrace A Theological Exploration of Identity Otherness and Reconciliation Abingdon 1996 In that first edition professor Volf a Croatian by birth analyzed the civil war and ethnic cleansing in the former Yugoslavia and he readily found other examples of cultural ethnic and racial conflict to illustrate his points Since September 11 2001 and the subsequent epidemic of terror and massive refugee suffering throughout the world Volf revised Exclusion and Embrace to account for the evolving dynamics of inter ethnic and international strife Exclusion and embrace : a theological exploration of identity, otherness, and reconciliation Miroslav Volf, 1996 Isaiah 53 in the Light of Homecoming After Exile Fredrik Häggglund, 2008 In this study Fredrik Häggglund presents an interpretation based on a hypothesis that conflicts emerged between the people in the land of Israel and those who returned from exile He analyzes these conflicts with the help of contemporary refugee studies other texts of the Old Testament and also relevant passages in Isa 40 55 At the end of the exile there was hope that the deported people would return to Israel that it would be rebuilt and that Jerusalem would again flourish This hope is most clearly expressed in Isa 40 1 52 10 However as time went by there was a realization that the envisaged glorious return was in reality a rather limited return and the joy of receiving those who returned had turned into conflicts not least regarding the possession of land and the availability of places to live In this situation someone probably reflected on the message of Isa 40 1 52 10 and sought to understand what had gone wrong Isa 53 was then inserted as an explanation of how the people in the land of Israel i e the we should have received those who returned i e the servant If this embrace had taken place Mother Zion would have rejoiced as described in Isa 54 Instead of these pictures painted for us in Isa 53 and 54 we encounter the reality of the conflicts described in Isa 56 66

Paul Ricoeur's Pedagogy of Pardon Maria Duffy, 2011-11-03 Maria Duffy describes Paul Ricoeur's narrative theory of memory and addresses central conceptual and methodological issues in his theory of forgiveness and reconciliation As the many Truth Commissions around the world illustrate revisiting the past has a positive benefit in steering history in a new direction after protracted violence A second deeper strand in the book is the connection between Ricoeur and John Paul II Both lived through the worst period of modern European history Ricoeur a prisoner of war during WWII and John Paul who suffered under the communist regime Both have written on themes of memory and identity and share a mutual concern for the future of Europe and the preservation of the Christian identity of the Continent as well as the promotion of peace and a civilization of love The book brings together their shared vision culminating in the award to Ricoeur by John Paul II of the Paul VI medal for theology

The Bible, Justice, and Public Theology David J. Neville, 2014-10-09 Public theology is a developing field of discourse concerned to address matters of pressing public concern in theological perspective for the common good Themes of ecology poverty human rights and especially justice feature prominently in its discourse Although justice is also a prominent theme in the Bible there is no single perspective on what constitutes justice in the Bible and no single view on how biblical perspectives on justice should contribute to contemporary discussion regarding the meaning and implementation of justice Informed and inspired by Christopher Marshall's landmark work on Compassionate Justice Cascade Books 2012 in dialogue with Jesus parables of the Good Samaritan and the Prodigal Son this collection of studies addresses various interrelations between the Bible justice and public theology Marshall himself proposes that certain parables of Jesus are paradigmatic for public theology and some contributors respond to different dimensions of his treatment of the parables of the Good Samaritan and the Prodigal Son in terms of restorative justice Other contributors by contrast examine broader related concerns such as justice in biblical theological and philosophical perspective the hermeneutics of engagement for justice the relation between feminist theology and restorative justice biblical resources for public theology and popular culture as both a conversation partner with and a medium for public theology

The Eucharist as a Countercultural Liturgy Yik-Pui Au, 2017-04-14 Since its institution the Eucharist has been celebrated in all churches regardless of denominational differences Yet its importance should not be just confined to the Christian communities it can have transformational power in the cultural milieu In this book Yik Pui Au argues that the Eucharist can be a countercultural liturgy that upholds the identity and values of Christianity by countering cultural currents that are contrary to the Christian faith. Au takes an interdisciplinary approach comprised of church history, ritual theory, and theology of culture to examine systematically the countercultural functions of the Eucharist interpreted by three modern theologians: Henri de Lubac, John Zizioulas, and Miroslav Volf, representing the Catholic, Orthodox, and Protestant traditions respectively. The comparative evaluation of this cross-tradition analysis supports Au's argument that even though culture is complex and changing, the countercultural function of the Eucharist remains valid. Despite its complexity, culture can be transformed by the Eucharist, and it can also challenge and renew our understanding of the Eucharist. She suggests that due to its richness, the countercultural function of the Eucharist cannot be exhausted by one tradition. It is the task of theologians to help the church continually venture to explore and vivify this function ecumenically.

A Spacious Heart Judith M. Gundry Volf, Miroslav Volf, 1997. This book explores key aspects of the problem of diverse group identities, offering preliminary exegetical and theological perspectives on the encounter with others. The politics of difference, the resurgence of ethnic and cultural conflicts in the non-Western world, and the clash between modern technological and traditional cultures place new challenges before Christian theology. Our book, the authors explain, is a call to open ourselves to the Spirit of God, the Spirit of mercy, justice, and truth, and help heal our world by embracing others as we remain true to ourselves.

Military Chaplains as Agents of Peace S. K. Moore, 2012-12-19. Globally, where faith and political processes share the public space with indigenous populations, religious leaders of tolerant voice who desire to transcend the conflict that often divides their peoples are coming forward. Affirming and enabling these leaders is increasingly becoming the focus of the reconciliation efforts of peace builders, both internally and externally to existing conflict. By way of theoretical analysis and documented case studies from a number of countries, Military Chaplains as Agents of Peace considers Religious Leader Engagement (RLE) as an emerging domain that advances the cause of reconciliation via the religious peace building of chaplains. A construct that may be generalized to expeditionary, humanitarian, and domestic operational contexts, an overview of the benefits and limitations of RLE is offered and accompanied by a candid discussion of a number of the more perplexing questions related to such operational ministry: Influence Activities, Information Gathering for Intelligence Purposes, and the Protected Non-Combatant Status of Chaplains.

The End of Memory Miroslav Volf, 2021-01-12. Winner of the Christianity Today Book Award in Christianity and Culture. How should we remember atrocities? Should we ever forgive abusers? Can we not hope for final reconciliation even if it means redeemed victims and perpetrators spending eternity together? We live in an age that insists that past wrongs, genocides, terrorist attacks, bald personal injustices should never be forgotten. But Miroslav Volf here proposes the radical idea that letting go of such memories after a certain point and under certain conditions may be a gift of grace. We should embrace Volf's personal stories of persecution and interrogation, frame his search for theological resources to make memories a wellspring of healing, rather than a source of deepening pain and animosity Controversial thoughtful and incisively reasoned The End of Memory begins a conversation that we avoid to our great detriment This second edition includes an appendix on the memories of perpetrators as well as victims a response to critics and a James K A Smith interview with Volf about the nature and function of memory in the Christian life Journal of Reformed Theology ,2007 A Community Embrace Sarah Jeanne Rohret,2007 Arc ,2000 Passover, Pentecost & Parousia Steven Jack Land,Rick Dale Moore,John Christopher Thomas,2010 Dr R Hollis Gause has been Professor of Theological and New Testament Studies at Lee University and the Church of God Theological Seminary in Cleveland Tennessee for many years and his huge contribution to Pentecostal scholarship is held in high regard internationally His influential life and ministry as well as his teaching and scholarship are here celebrated in his 85th year by many of his colleagues and former students Contributors are Contributions K E Alexander L R Martin R D Moore J M Beaty J A Adewuya J C Thomas K J Archer S E Han T L Johns D G Roebuck J P Bowers C Bridges Johns C R Cason M O McMahan D W Slocumb R E Waldrup Frontier Violations Felix Wilfred,José Oscar Beozzo,1999 Christianity and Culture in the Crossfire David A.
