Experience And Judgment Studies In Phenomenology And Existential Philosophy:

Experience and Judgment Edmund Husserl, 1975-06-01 In Experience and Judgment Husserl explores the problems of contemporary philosophy of language and the constitution of logical forms. He argues that even at its most abstract logic demands an underlying theory of experience. Husserl sketches out a genealogy of logic in three parts. Part I examines prepredicative experience. Part II the structure of predicative thought as such and Part III the origin of general conceptual thought. This volume provides an articulate restatement of many of the themes of Husserlian phenomenology. The Crisis of European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology Edmund Husserl, 1970 The Crisis of European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology Husserl's last great work is important both for its content and for the influence it has had on other philosophers. In this book which remained unfinished at his death Husserl attempts to forge a union between phenomenology and existentialism. Husserl provides not only a history of philosophy but a philosophy of history. As he says in Part I The genuine spiritual struggles of European humanity as such take the form of struggles between the philosophies that is between the skeptical philosophies or nonphilosophies which retain the word but not the task and the actual and still vital philosophies. But the vitality of the latter consists in the fact that they are struggling for their true and genuine meaning and thus for the meaning of a genuine humanity. The Phenomenological Critique of Mathematization and the Question of Responsibility Lubica Učník, Ivan Chvatík, Anita Williams, 2014-11-19 This edited collection discusses phenomenological critiques of formalism and their relevance to the problem of responsibility and the life world. The book deals with themes of formalization of knowledge in connection to the life world the natural world the history of science and our responsibility for both our epistemic claims and the world in which we live. Readers will discover critiques of formalization the life world and responsibility and a collation and comparison of Patočka's and Husserl's work on these themes. Considerable literature on Husserl is presented here and the two themes of epistemic responsibility and the life world are discussed together. This work specifically emphasizes the interrelatedness of these existential aspects of his work self responsibility and the crisis as not only epistemological but also related to human life. This volume also introduces Jan Patočka to English speaking readers as a phenomenologist in his own right. Patočka shows us in particular the significance of the modern abyss between our thinking and the world. Readers will discover that this abyss is of concern for our everyday experience because it leads to a rupture in our understanding of the world between the world of our living and its scientific construct. We see that Patočka continually emphasized the relevance of Husserl's work to existential questions relating to human responsibility and the life world which he admits is left largely implicit in Husserl's work. This edited collection will spark discussion on the question of responsibility against the backdrop of formalized knowledge which is increasingly inaccessible to human understanding. Despite the complexity of some of the analyzed ideas this book discusses these themes in a clear and readable way. This work is scholarly exact in its discussion and authoritative in its reading but at the same time accessible to anyone motivated to understand.

these debates At Home with the Sapa Inca Stella Nair,2015-07-01 By examining the stunning stone buildings and dynamic spaces of the royal estate of Chinchero Nair brings to light the rich complexity of Inca architecture This investigation ranges from the paradigms of Inca scholarship and a summary of Inca cultural practices to the key events of Topa Inca's reign and the many individual elements of Chinchero's extraordinary built environment What emerges are the subtle often sophisticated ways in which the Inca manipulated space and architecture in order to impose their authority identity and agenda The remains of grand buildings as well as a series of deft architectural gestures in the landscape reveal the unique places that were created within the royal estate and how one space deeply informed the other These dynamic settings created private places for an aging ruler to spend time with a preferred wife and son while also providing impressive spaces for imperial theatrics that reiterated the power of Topa Inca the choice of his preferred heir and the ruler's close relationship with sacred forces This careful study of architectural details also exposes several false paradigms that have profoundly misguided how we understand Inca architecture including the belief that it ended with the arrival of Spaniards in the Andes Instead Nair reveals how amidst the entanglement and violence of the European encounter an indigenous town emerged that was rooted in Inca ways of understanding space place and architecture and that paid homage to a landscape that defined home for Topa Inca Books for College Libraries: Humanities Association of College and Research
