Experiencescapes Experiencescapes:

Experiencescapes Tom O'Dell, Peter Billing, 2005 Experiences have become the hottest commodities the market has to offer No matter where we turn we are constantly inundated by advertisements promoting products that promise to provide us with some ephemeral experience that is newer better more thrilling more genuine more flexible or more fun than anything we have previously encountered In turn consumers themselves are increasingly willing to go to great lengths invest large sums of money and take great risks to avoid the beaten track and experience something new Working with an interdisciplinary approach this book critically analyzes the significance this market for experiences and interest in them is having as a generative motor of cultural and socioeconomic change in modern society Jacket The Routledge Handbook of Events Stephen J. Page, 2014-10-14 It is the first major study to examine what events is as a discipline in the twenty first century its significance in contemporary society and growth as a mainstream subject area The book is divided in to five inter related sections Section one evaluates the evolution of events as a discipline and defines what Events Studies is Section two critically reviews the relationship between events and other disciplines such as tourism and sport Section three focuses on the management of events section four evaluates the impacts of events from varying political social and environmental perspectives and section five examines the future direction of growth in event related education and research Contemporary Tourism Chris Cooper, C Michael Hall, 2016-02-29 Now in its third edition this text presents a new and refreshing approach to the study of tourism This new edition now includes coverage of researching social media crowd sourced strategies the millennial tourist generation and green growth and sustainable tourism Tourism Research Douglas G. Pearce, Richard Butler, 2010 In this edited collection of reflective challenging and sometimes provocative papers derived from the 20th anniversary meeting of the International Academy for the Study of Tourism leading international tourism scholars analyze what progress has been made in tourism research in the last two decades and where research might go in the future Abstracts of the Annual Meeting American Anthropological Association, 2008 The Photographic News, 1878 Global Ideas Barbara Czarniawska-Joerges, Guje Sevón, 2005 Attempts to explain how it is possible that although the same idea travels around the globe at a high speed local realities are still very different This book shows what is travelling and how it moves between countries and disciplines Its frame of reference consists of a combination of organization theory institutionalism and sociology Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Monthly Journal, 1922

Urban Transformations Cara Aitchison, Greg Richards, Andrew Tallon, 2007 Contains chapters that reflect multi and interdisciplinary analyses of the ways in which leisure sport tourism and the cultural sector play key roles in the regeneration of urban environments As such the chapters apply the disciplines of sociology geography and economics to policy making and planning in urban studies Ethnologia Europaea Journal of European Ethnology Tom O'Dell, Robert Willim, 2012-03-26 Ethnography has become something of a buzzword in recent years It is talked about and invoked in disciplines ranging from anthropology and ethnology to literature history business administration and design studies Textbooks that teach ethnography tend to imbue students with the impression that ethnography is a mode of systematic investigation by which the researcher gets closer to the realities of people s everyday lives But how straightforward are these processes in reality As ethnography spreads into new folds of research both within and without the academy the contributions in this volume demonstrate the manner in which field methods are adjusting transforming or taking new forms altogether If textbooks might lead students to believe that observations and interviews are the grounds upon which good ethnography can regularly be produced the authors in this volume take as their point of departure the realisation that ethnography is being used in a multitude of different contexts which forces them and us as readers to question the regularities and irregularities of their own work
