Globalization, Gender, and Peacebuilding Pui-lan Kwok, 2012 2011 Madeleva lecture in spirituality Social Cohesion, Peacebuilding, Human Rights, and Dialogue, 2025-12-18 Increasingly discussions of religious difference and diversity are moving from the theological and theoretical towards the practical and contextual This volume explores through global cases and discussions questions around social cohesion peacebuilding human rights and dialogue across a range of traditions and locations The book brings together case studies and authors from North America Europe and Australia as well as East and Southeast Asia to form a global dialogue about how religious diversity is conceptualised and enacted The approach is multidisciplinary with bases in such fields as international relations religious studies and sociology while it provides perspectives that come from both established scholars and up and coming academics Gender, UN Peacebuilding, and the Politics of Space Laura J. Shepherd, 2017 The United Nations Peacebuilding Commission UNPBC was established in December 2005 to develop outlines of best practice in post conflict reconstruction and to secure the political and material resources necessary to assist states in transition from conflict to peacetime Currently the organization is involved in reconstruction and peacebuilding activities in six countries Yet a 2010 review by permanent representatives to the United Nations found that the hopes of the UN peacebuilding architecture despite committed and dedicated efforts had yet to be realized Two of these hopes relate to gender and power specifically that peacebuilding efforts integrate a gender perspective and that the Commission consult with civil society NGOs and women's organizations This book is the first to offer an extensive and dedicated analysis of the activities of the UN Peacebuilding Commission with regard to both gender politics broadly conceived and the gendered dynamics of civil society participation in peacebuilding activities Laura J Shepherd draws upon original fieldwork that she conducted at the UN to argue that the gendered and spatial politics of peacebuilding not only feminizes civil society organizations but also perpetuates hierarchies that privilege the international over the domestic realms The book argues that the dominant representations of women gender and civil society in UN peacebuilding discourse produce spatial hierarchies that paradoxically undermine the contemporary emphasis on bottom up governance of peacebuilding activities Gender and Peacebuilding Claire Duncanson, 2016-05-27 Gender and Peacebuilding offers a comprehensive and up to date analysis of how and why gender matters in contemporary peace operations It draws on a wide range of examples from across the world to offer a nuanced account of the UN's attempts to mainstream gender into peace operations via Security Council Resolution 1325 and assesses the successes and failures of this effort to enhance the participation and protection of women and girls in peacebuilding operations In presenting this mixed picture of progress and ongoing challenges the book argues for bold steps forward that will enable peacebuilding to contest the current neoliberal order address structural inequalities and bring about feminist visions of peace and security It is only by focusing attention on the economic empowerment of women and its ability to temper the dangers of neo liberalism in post conflict contexts that feminists can hope to achieve these aims Timely critical and engaged this book provides an invaluable guide to the issues for students of peace and conflict studies and sets the agenda for future scholarship and advocacy Globalization, Social Movements, and Peacebuilding Jackie Smith, 2013-07-02 Each year governments spend billions of dollars on peacekeeping efforts around the world and much more is spent on humanitarian aid to refugees and other victims of armed struggle Yet research shows that nearly one half of all countries experiencing civil war have renewed violent conflict within five years of a peace agreement How do we account for such a poor track record The authors in this volume consider how global capitalism affects fragile peace processes arguing that the international economic system itself is a major contributor to violent conflict By including the work of anthropologists economists sociologists and political scientists this book presents a broad yet thorough exploration of the complexities of peacebuilding in a global market economy Included in the volume are specific studies of Africa Asia and the Middle East as well as considerations of conflicts on a global scale Rethinking

Peacekeeping, Gender Equality and Collective Security G. Heathcote, D. Otto, 2014-09-01 This book examines how the Security Council has approached issues of gender equality since 2000 Written by academics activists and practitioners the book challenges the reader to consider how women's participation gender equality sexual violence and the prevalence of economic disadvantages might be addressed in post conflict communities Gender-Responsive Budgeting in Africa

Tinuade Adekunbi Ojo, 2024-04-23 Africa is the leading region in the world in the expansion of mobile money transactions according to Global Findex The book presents several significant themes and African states efforts to address the political and economic factors influencing budget allocation to women oriented programmes and projects in African communities The book further investigates the impact of gender responsive budgeting on women's empowerment and gender equality in these communities The findings intend to analyse the effectiveness of the countries approaches and share lessons that different African economies whether currently booming or struggling can enhance or implement toward gender budgeting response at all structural levels Gender budgeting is an important tool in response to the growth and development of the economy The themes identified will guide gender budgeting response and how gender is incorporated into these approaches if at all The main objective of this volume is to understand different processes of gender budgeting in response to gender issues at a national level And to help encourage reflection on what lessons could be learnt between states and what factors cause divergence in multilateral settings so that they can be understood and hopefully addressed Gender Justice and Legal

Pluralities Rachel Sieder, John Andrew McNeish, 2013-06-17 Gender Justice and Legal Pluralities Latin American and African Perspectives examines the relationship between legal pluralities and the prospects for greater gender justice in developing countries Rather than asking whether legal pluralities are good or bad for women the starting point of this volume is that legal pluralities are a social fact Adopting a more anthropological approach to the issues of gender justice and women's rights it analyzes how gendered rights claims are made and responded to within a range of different cultural social economic and political contexts By examining the different ways in which legal norms instruments and discourses are being used to challenge or reinforce gendered forms of exclusion contributing authors generate new knowledge about the dynamics at play between the contemporary contexts of legal pluralities and the struggles for gender justice Any consideration of this relationship must it is concluded be located within a broader historically informed analysis of regimes of governance
