European Liberalism And The Muslim Question Isim Papers:

European Liberalism and 'the Muslim Question' Bhikhu Parekh, 2008 A large section of European opinion believes that Muslims present a long term political and cultural threat Professor Parekh argues that this view is deeply mistaken There is nevertheless a small underclass mainly young which is deeply alienated from both their parental and European cultures They are in Europe but not of it and have no commitment to it A dialogue between the Muslim communities in general and the host societies is therefore necessary It has its limits and we should not expect too much from it However there is no alternative to it Europe and 'the Muslim Question'. Bhikhu Parekh, 2008 Annotation A large section of European opinion believes that Muslims present a long term political and cultural threat Professor Parekh argues that this view is deeply mistaken There is nevertheless a small underclass mainly young which is deeply alienated from both their parental and European cultures They are in Europe but not of it and have no commitment to it A dialogue between the Muslim communities in general and the host societies is therefore necessary It has its limits and we should not expect too much from it However there is no alternative to it This title can be previewed in Google Books <http://books.google.com/books/vid/ISBN9789053560877> The Idea of European Islam Mohammed Hashas, 2018-07-24 Suspensions about the integration of Islam into European cultures have been steadily on the rise and dramatically so since 9 11 One reason lies in the visibility of anti Western Islamic discourses of salafi origin which have monopolized the debate on the true Islam not only among Muslims but also in the eyes of the general population across Europe these discourses combined with Islamophobic discourses reinforce the so called incompatibility between the West and Islam This book breaks away from this clash between Islam and the West by arguing that European Islam is possible It analyzes the contribution that European Islam has made to the formation of an innovative Islamic theology that is deeply ethicist and modern and it clarifies how this constructed European Islamic theology is able to contribute to the various debates that are related to secular liberal democracies of Western Europe Part I introduces four major projects that defend the idea of European Islam from different disciplines and perspectives politics political theology jurisprudence and philosophy Part II uses the frameworks from three major philosophers and scholars to approach the idea of European Islam in the context of secular liberal societies British scholar George Hourani Moroccan philosopher Taha Abderrahmane and the American philosopher John Rawls The book shows that the ongoing efforts of European Muslim thinkers to revisit the concept of citizenship and political community can be seen as a new kind of political theology in opposition to radical forms of Islamic thinking in some Muslim majority countries Opening a new path for examining Islamic thought in and of Europe this book will appeal to students and scholars of Islamic Studies Islam in the West and Political Theology Journalism and the Muslim Narrative Nadia Haq, 2025-06-03 Journalism and the Muslim Narrative presents an empirical analysis of how modern day journalism practices contribute to the negative bias against Muslims in Britain to provide an in depth investigation of how we can better re conceptualise journalism for our increasingly multicultural societies

For more than 20 years media activists and academic scholars have highlighted a bias in British newspapers where Muslims are portrayed as the problematic Other of British society This book draws on the representation of Muslims to contribute a critical empirical analysis of contemporary journalistic practices in multicultural societies This includes a deeper insight into media audiences and the public journalism norms and values such as objectivity balance and freedom of speech the wider implications of the increasing digitalisation of the media and the tensions between media structures and journalistic agency As competition with social media heightens pressures on journalists to produce even more sensationalist and polarising coverage about Muslims this book further offers a critical evaluation of how journalism needs to be re imagined to realise its civic role in our progressively digitalised and diverse societies Drawing on the first hand accounts of newspaper journalists and editors the author challenges our understanding of journalism and the role that journalists play in uniting rather than dividing our diverse societies This book builds a critical appraisal of academic perspectives from journalism media and cultural studies sociology postcolonial theory and the study of race and religion and how journalism practices can either perpetuate or challenge discriminatory and divisive narratives about Britain s Muslim communities It will be of value to journalism practitioners as well as academics studying journalism media and communications cultural studies and race and ethnicity studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Muslim Schools, Communities and Critical Race Theory Damian Breen, 2017-10-18 This book explores the position of Muslim schools in contemporary Britain A Critical Race Theory approach is used to consider some of the specific issues faced by Muslim schools in particular those looking to become state funded The book provides a critically considered and meaningful application of a theory of race to Muslims as a religious community without restricting the analysis to minority ethnic Muslim groups it also provides a counter narrative which contests assumptions about Muslim schools presented in the media and in public debates more generally These insights are positioned against current political climates within which Muslims have been consistently subjected to surveillance and suspicion The book draws on first hand research carried out inside Muslim schools to offer insights into the ways that these schools cater to diverse and locally specific needs It concludes by arguing that independent Islamic schools represent ideal models of community need Therefore bringing such schools into the state sector in a way that allows them to retain autonomy represents an ideal strategy for the educational and political enfranchisement of British Muslims Muslim schooling represents an opportunity for increased state investment in Muslim interests as a strategy for offsetting the ways in which Muslim communities have been marginalised more generally in contemporary political climates The book will make compelling reading for students and researchers in the fields of Education Sociology and Religious Studies particularly those with an interest in faith schools Islam and Critical Race Theory

The Politics of Islamophobia David Tyrer, 2013-11-08 Following 9 11 7 7 and the War on Terror Islamophobia has become a ubiquitous expression of political racism its presence is felt in immigration restrictions critiques of multiculturalism and the co option of feminism that casts Muslim women as abject figures Throughout the book what emerges is that most of our knowledge of Muslim communities is apprehended through signifiers as defined by liberal politicians and media there is the aforementioned maligned Muslim female the ontically pure religious Muslim and the fundamentalist terrorist Through study of instances where politicians from Tony Blair and David Cameron to Geert Wilders and Enoch Powell activate these racist essentialisms we begin to see how Islamophobia takes form as an expression of racialised governmentality By mobilising accounts across different national contexts David Tyrer reveals how Islamophobia is defining relations between states and ethnicised minorities From Multiculturalism to Democratic Discrimination Alberto Spektorowski, Daphna Elfersy, 2020-12-10 The effect of Islam on Western Europe has been profound Spektorowski and Elfersy argue that it has transformed European democratic values by inspiring an ultra liberalism that now faces an ultra conservative backlash Questions of what to do about Muslim immigration how to deal with burqas how to deal with gender politics have all been influenced by western democracies grappling with ideas of inclusion and most recently exclusion This book examines those forces and ultimately sees not an unbridgeable gap but a future in which Islam and European democracies are compatible rich and evolving New Old World Pallavi Aiyar, 2015-09-29 After several years documenting the rise of China award winning Indian journalist Pallavi Aiyar moved to Brussels the headquarters of the European Union to discover a Europe plagued by a financial crisis and unsure of its place in a world where new Asian challengers are eroding its old and comfortable certainties With a lively mix of memoir reportage and analysis Aiyar takes the reader on a romp across the continent meeting workaholic Indian diamond merchants in Antwerp upstart Chinese wine barons in Bordeaux Sikh farmhands in the Italian countryside and Indian engineers running offshore energy turbines in Belgium In the Europe of today everything is in flux as she discovers through conversations with Muslim immigrants struggling to define their identities the austere bosses of Germany's world beating companies and bewildered Eurocrats struggling to keep the European Union from splitting apart Examining the diverse challenges the continent faces today among them bloated welfare states the accommodation of Islam the European ambitions of Indian and Chinese entrepreneurs and ancient intra cultural fissures New Old World offers a panoramic look at Europe's first world crisis from a unique Asian perspective Political Islam Khālid Ḥarūb, 2010 This volume offers a comprehensive discussion of the contemporary debates within political Islam providing an in depth analysis of the specific movements countries and regions in the Arab world and Israel The contributors content that the evolution of Islamic movements is contextual rather than ideological Therefore Islamic movements are best understood individually within their own historical socio political and cultural setting Political Islam is an essential reference for academics researchers and the media as well as general readers with an interest in Islamic political debates Back cover Studia Islamika , 2003 Index Islamicus , 1998 The Muslim Question in Europe Peter O'Brien, 2016 The book challenges the popular notion of a clash of cultures pitting Muslim and non Muslim Europeans against one another The study finds instead vehement conflict among three longstanding European public philosophies liberalism nationalism and postmodernism The consequential differences of outlook are demonstrated in four policy areas 1 citizenship requirements 2 the headscarf debate 3 mosque state relations and 4 counter terrorism The book reaches three important conclusions First Muslim Europeans do not represent a monolithic anti Western bloc a Trojan Horse within Europe They vehemently disagree among themselves but along the same basic liberal nationalist and postmodern contours as non Muslim Europeans Second ideological discord significantly contributes to policy messiness that is to inconsistent contradictory policies Third both the discord and the messiness are remarkably similar from one European country to the next thereby casting doubt on the dominant theory in comparative migration studies that posits distinct national styles such as French republicanism German ethno nationalism and British multiculturalism Islam and European Legal Systems Silvio Ferrari,Anthony Bradney,2000 11 Concluding remarks Giorgio Conetti Islam, Europe and Emerging Legal Issues W. Cole Durham,2012-01-01 Islam Europe and Emerging Legal Issues brings together vital analysis of the challenges that Europe poses for an expanding Islam and that Islam poses for Europe within their ever evolving religious legal and social environments This book gathers some

Islam, Liberalism and Human Rights Katerina Dalacoura,2007-06-29 Addresses the question of human rights in the international context focusing in particular on the interaction between human rights as a value and norm in international relations and Islam as a constituent of political culture in particular societies Back cover Why Europe Must Engage with Political Islam Amr Elshobaki,Gema Martín Muñoz,2010 This is the fifth in a series of ten papers published jointly by the EU Institute for Security Studies EUISS and the European Institute of the Mediterranean IEMed which aim to address ten critical topics for Euro Mediterranean relations The papers have been commissioned with a view to formulating policy options on a set of issues which are central to achieving the objectives set out in the 1995 Barcelona Declaration and the Paris Declaration of 2008 as well as defining new targets for 2020 in the political economic and social spheres This fifth paper focuses on the way Europe approaches the issue of Islamic political movements in the Middle East and North Africa The key message that emerges from the report is that it is time for Europe to engage with political Islam in this region Both authors of the main chapters in this report one from the Arab world and the other from Europe eloquently make the argument that there is no prospect of a credible democratic transformation of the Arab world without the full integration of Islamist movements into the political mainstream Islam, Liberalism and Human Rights Katerina Dalacoura,2007-06-29 This timely book newly revised for this edition addresses the question of human rights in the international context focusing in particular on the interaction between human rights as a value and norm in international relations and Islam as a constituent of political culture in particular societies Katerina Dalacoura s argument proceeds at two levels Firstly it reaches a consistent normative position on the question of human rights Secondly the theoretical argument is reinforced through a detailed study both of the precepts of Islam and the role of Islam in the political process of 20th century Egypt and Tunisia Dalacoura demonstrates that the interpretation of Islam in relation to human rights principles is not static but is subject to reformulation

Islam and the European Union Richard Potz,Wolfgang Wieshaider,2004 In 2001 the European Consortium of Church and State Research focused its annual meeting on the highly topical issue of the legal position of Muslim communities in the European Union The present book comprises updated analyses on Belgium Germany Greece Spain France Italy Austria and the United Kingdom The studies extend from general questions of legal status to specific issues such as building mosques or cemeteries ritual slaughter and from language rights to family issues and education thus providing an in depth view of the legal framework for a developing European Islam

Annotated Legal Documents on Islam in Europe: Switzerland Rene Pahud De Mortanges,Raimund Suess,Jorgen Nielsen,2017-01-15 This volume of Annotated Legal Documents on Islam in Europe covers Switzerland and consists of an annotated collection of legal documents affecting the status of Islam and Muslims The legal texts are published in the original German French and Italian language while the annotations and supporting material are in English By legal documents are meant the texts of legislation including relevant secondary legislation as well as significant court decisions Each legal text is preceded by an introduction describing the historical political and legal circumstances of its adoption plus a short paragraph summarising its content The focus of the collection is on the religious dimensions of being Muslim in Europe i e on individuals access to practise their religious obligations and on the ability to organise and manifest their religious life

Islam, Religious Liberty and Constitutionalism in Europe Mark Hill KC,Mark Hill,Lina Papadopoulou,2024-03-07 Taking a close and critical look at Muslim practice and Islamic belief within the prevailing legal and political frameworks in Europe this book focuses on constitutional challenges religious freedom and other human rights and securitisation and Islamophobia
