Stemming from an international and multidisciplinary network of leading specialists this best selling text is fully updated with new chapter additions With the first edition prepared at the end of the last century and the second edition adding inter regional relations this new edition focuses on competing models of regional cooperation within a multipolar world and the role of European Union This new edition offers A comparative analysis of regional cooperation and of both US centred and

EU centred interregionalism A fresh exploration of key issues of regionalism versus globalization and the potential for world economic and political governance through regional cooperation notably in hard times A vigorous response to conventional wisdom on the controversial EU international identity An appendix on regional and interregional organizations A key resource for postgraduate or undergraduate study and research of international relations European integration studies comparative politics and international political economy Taking into account both the expanded European Union and regional cooperation in every continent this multidisciplinary volume comprises contributions from established scholars in the field A Gamble P Padoan G Joff G Therborn Th Meyer R Higgott B Hettne F Ponjaert F Soederbaum Ch Deblock K Eliassen A Arnottir S Keukeleire I Petrova S Santander and M Tel editor The European Union and Europe's New Regionalism Boyka M. Stefanova, 2017-10-24 This book presents a new approach to studying the European Union's regional and global relevance It recasts into a dynamic perspective the three most significant systemic processes that define the EU as a regionalist project its enlargement neighborhood and mega regional policies The book argues that these processes collectively demonstrate a dynamic shift of the core tenets of European regionalism from an inward looking process of region building to an open selective system of global interactions New Regionalism and the European Union Alex Warleigh-Lack, Nick Robinson, Ben Rosamond, 2011-06 This book explores regionalism in the European Union in comparative context with Latin American African Asian North American regionalism It also investigates the links between the EU and other regional organisations and assesses the implications for the study of contemporary regionalism both inside and beyond Europe

The New Regionalism in Western Europe Michael Keating, 1998 In the 1990s the states of Western Europe faced twin challenges from above in the shape of globalization and European integration and from below in the form of new regionalist movements In this authoritative book Michael Keating traces the historical origins of regionalism showing that territorial politics has always been a feature of the West European state Then he analyses the post war model of territorial management in the Keynesian welfare state and shows how current trends are re shaping the meaning of political space and encouraging new forms of political mobilization and action This new regionalism is no longer contained within the nation state so that regions must face the global market and an integrating Europe directly Professor Keating argues that regionalism is a complex phenomenon spanning culture economics politics and policy It takes different forms in different settings shaped by the imperatives of economic competition in a global age as well as by political forces within the regions themselves There is a discussion of regionalism as a strategy for economic development of the emergence of a regional level of government and of regions with the European Union The New Regionalism in Western Europe will be essential reading for academics and students interested in European politics future integration within the European Union and European political history

Globalism and the New Regionalism Osvaldo Sunkel, András Inotai, 2016-07-27 This is the first of five volumes reporting on the UNU WIDER study on New Regionalism It deals with the conceptions and meanings of two processes which probably will have a crucial influence on the shape of the new world order globalization and regionalization These studies relate to each other as challenge to response globalization being the challenge of economic and cultural homogenization of the world and regionalization being a social and political reaction The leading writers in the field contribute thought provoking and fascinating articles to this volume

New Regionalism in the Global Political Economy Shaun Breslin, Christopher W. Hughes, Nicola Phillips, Ben Rosamond, 2002-08-22 Following the financial crisis at the end of the twentieth century regionalisms in the global political economy have evolved in a number of ways This informative book brings together the leading scholars in the field to provide cutting edge analyses of contemporary regions and regionalist projects Providing an innovative integration of theoretica

New Regionalism or No Regionalism? Ruxandra Ivan, 2016-04-29 The nation states in the Black Sea area have initiated many co operative policies but the area also sees numerous tensions between neighboring states The conflict co operation paradox along with ethnic fragmentation and shared culture are two of the most salient features of the Black Sea Area These paradoxes are not the only force in the evolution of the region though There are also issues such as ethnic and national identity the failure of democratization energy and resources as well as the influence of other powers such as Russia the EU and the USA The key questions asked by the authors in this book are to what extent is there an emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area Is the Black Sea a region What are the common interests shared by the former USSR states the three EU member states neighboring the Black Sea Bulgaria Greece and Romania and a NATO country Turkey Are the fault lines dividing them more pervasive than the incentives for cooperation Can we speak of a shared identity The first part of the book places the Black Sea problematique in a wider historical and spatial context The authors then take a closer look at the region and examine further the structure of the Black Sea area They offer a perspective on smaller actors with great ambitions such as Azerbaijan and Romania and go on to make a comparison between the emerging regionalism in the Black Sea area and regionalisms in other parts of the world

De-coding New Regionalism James Wesley Scott,2009 Bringing together comparative case studies from Central Europe and South America this book focuses on new regions regions created as political projects of modernization and re scaling Through this approach it de codes New Regionalism in terms of its contributions to institutional change while acknowledging its contested nature and contradictions It questions whether these regions are merely a strategy of neo liberal adjustment to changing political and economic conditions or whether they are indicative of true reform greater citizen participation and empowerment It assesses whether these regions are really representing something new or whether they are a reconfiguration of traditional power relationships It provides a timely critical analysis of region building and the extent to which national processes of decentralization and sub national processes of regionalism can enhance the effectiveness and responsiveness of governance

Regionalism, Globalisation and International Order Jens-Uwe Wunderlich,2016-03-23 New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments globalization and international order

The EU and World Regionalism Michael Schulz,2016-02-17 Much has been said about the driving forces of region building processes or regionalization worldwide yet few systematic and comparative studies have been conducted on how regions can contribute to the building of other regions and more concretely how the European Union has pushed for regionalization worldwide This comparative book investigates the impact that the EU has on regionalization elsewhere through its inter regional relations Covering agriculture trade ASEAN NAFTA MERCOSUR and Commonwealth amongst other topics it investigates whether the EU contributes directly as well as indirectly to increased regional integration in different parts of the world

Political Economy of the New Regionalism Pavel Hnat,2013 New Regionalism represents the current wave of regional integration which has been characterised by substantial qualitative quantitative and formal changes in regional integration Modern analysis of regionalism namely when based upon the Political Economy Approach suggests that regional integration de facto contributes to those economic forces that build globalisation and increase global competition As a mater of this fact the New Regionalism currently changes its character markedly Today especially due to the influence of globalisation regionalism is seen as a tool of open economic relations liberalisation that should ensure both national and regional competitive position in the globalised world Moreover both theoretical and empirical analysis of regionalism i.e. namely comparative analysis of its different cases leads to the same conclusions. The question however remains whether today's European Union corresponds to the most recent trends in regionalism and thus if it is a strong enough tool which can help European economies to utilize globalisation's opportunities and to face its threats. Political Economy analysis of the New Regionalism shows important aspects of its reform and is thus the most important perspective of this paper. A New Role for European Trade Unions European Commission.

Directorate-General for Regional Policy and Cohesion, 1996. Regionalism in Hard Times Mario Telò, 2016-09. Brexit confirms that the EU is not a super state in the making but rather an advanced regional organization. This book bridges the gap between EU studies and international relations by providing a student friendly presentation of regional multidimensional cooperation among neighbouring states and societies its four epochs and relevant variations and similarities across five continents its interplay with globalization and the changing post hegemonic and post Cold War international order. This text secondly focuses on the question of regionalism in hard times whether the global financial crisis and multipolar power politics are leading to more competitive and political forms of instrumental regionalism and interregionalism in Europe East Asia and the Americas. It does this by addressing the political and strategic dimensions of changing regional interregional arrangements and their current and potential impact on global governance notably on trade and security challenges.

Theories of New Regionalism F. Söderbaum, T. Shaw, 2003-11-11. Theories of New Regionalism represents the first systematic attempt to bring together leading theories of new regionalism. Major theorists from around the world develop their own distinctive theoretical perspectives spanning new regionalism world order approaches along with regional governance liberal institutionalism neoclassical development regionalism to regional security complex theory RSCT and the region building approach. Turkey's Integration Into the European Union Zeki Kütük, 2003.
