Europeanization And National Politics The European Union Series:

Europeanization and National Politics Robert Ladrech, 2010-03-10 Europeanization has become a key topic in analysis of the politics of the new Europe This broad ranging new text focuses centrally on the impact of the EU on its member states but also on the way in which states upload their policy priorities to the European level The Politics of Europeanization Kevin Featherstone, Claudio Maria Radaelli, 2003 In this text the authors trace the influence of the European Union on domestic politics and public policies It looks at different countries one by one and embraces an innovative perspective based on specific concepts indicators and a broad range of thematic issues European Union Jeremy Richardson, 2006 Richardson introduces the policy making processes at work in the EU This edition has been significantly improved to make it even more accessible for second and third year undergraduates A website will also support this edition featuring some of the more technical material such as statistics The Europeanization of National Political Parties Thomas Poguntke, Nicholas Aylott, Elisabeth Carter, Robert Ladrech, Kurt Richard Luther, 2007-02-12 This is a detailed exploration of how national political parties have responded to the increasing relevance of European governance The Europeanization of National Political Parties is the first empirical study to examine the effects of the European Union on the internal organizational dynamics of national political parties It draws on the results of a major cross national project and is based on documentary analysis and some 150 interviews with senior party actors in six EU member states Austria Britain France Germany Spain and Sweden Situated in the context of the debate on Europeanization the contributors illustrate that national political parties have been surprisingly well equipped to handle the challenges of the increasing importance of multi level governance in Europe Following a rigorous analytical framework the country studies examine thirty relevant political parties and systematically address a clearly defined set of empirical questions The volume ends with two comparative chapters that analyze the findings from a cross national perspective and that offer theoretical insights into the problems of party government amid increasing European integration This text will appeal to all those researching in the fields of European studies political science and comparative politics National Parliaments Within the Enlarged European Union John O'Brennan, Tapio Raunio, 2007-06-11 This book presents a wide range of perspectives on the role of national parliaments in EU politics and policy making looking at efforts to address perceived democratic and information deficits The Europeanisation of Parliamentary Democracy Katrin Auel, Arthur Benz, 2006-05-04 This groundbreaking new study shows how the process of creating an ever closer European Union affects not only the policy making but also the politics and polity of the Member States Empirical studies on the domestic impact of Europe identified different forms of Europeanization due to alternative mechanisms of internalising the new norms and rules Although many studies have since focused on the question of how to what degree in what direction at what pace and at what point of time Europe matters the Europeanization of one particular structural determinant of the Member States namely the system of parliamentary democracy is still under researched This is all the more astonishing as democracy in the EU depends to a large extent on the democratic legitimacy of procedures at the national level This volume addresses the key issue of the Europeanisation of parliamentary systems and thus contributes to the ongoing debate on the parliamentary dimension of the European Union It brings together theoretical concepts as well as cross national empirical research on the Europeanization of the member states parliamentary systems focussing on different elements such as structures procedures and decision making processes as well as on the question how parliamentarians as actors react to these changes and actively shape this Europeanization This book was previously published as a special issue of The Journal of Legislative Studies

Pursuing Effective Multilateralism

Robert Kissack, 2010-06-16 Does EU participation in the multilateral system lead to the goal of effective multilateralism This book examines 8 multilateral organizations showing how EU policies harm the organizations they mean to help The multilateral system is too heterogeneous for a one size fits all approach we must understand multilateralism working in practice

European elections 2009 It further outlines the potential for blogs to bring about a veritable European public sphere in the future The Europeanization of National Politics? David Sanders, 2012-04-26 The Europeanization of National Politics studies the levels and evolution of EU citizens attitudes toward the EU by answering 3 key questions How widespread is the sense of European citizenship What are its core drivers And what consequences does citizenship have if any for EU support and for active political participation in EU politics Ideas and Elites Martin Marcussen, 2000 Drastic changes in the way money is used create enormous direct and indirect changes in the societies affected Martin Marcussen has studied the European Economic and Monetary Union EMU in the light of the ideational developments that Maurice Allais and John Maynard Keynes experienced in their lifetimes The author asks why it is that by the end of the 1980s there seemed to be complete consensus about such politically contentious issues as central bank independence low inflation stable currencies and low public deficits He analyses why the main EMU negotiators did not disagree about these crucial and highly central issues in macro economic policy making and consequently decided to institutionalise these ideas in the formal organisations rules and procedures of the EMU He further examines why EU member states once the treaty on EMU was formally ratified were ready to undertake reforms to their domestic structures which earlier were considered illegitimate just a few years ago

The Pressure of Europeanisation Barbara Lippert, Gaby Umbach, 2005 This book deals with EU driven Europeanization of the public administrations in five countries of Central and Eastern Europe Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Poland and Slovenia that joined the EU in 2004 Since the early 1990s preparation for membership has gradually worked as a factor and incentive to shape and develop structures and institutions capable of meeting the obligations and needs of a future EU member state While challenges arise from both legacies of the past and new demands after effective membership the authors argue that the five new members will most likely develop into normal players in the EU system
