Feminists Who Changed America, 1963-1975 Barbara J. Love, 2006-09-22 Documenting key feminists who ignited the second wave women's movement Barbara J Love's Feminists Who Changed America 1963 1975 will be the first comprehensive directory to document many of the founders and leaders including both well known and grassroots organizers of the second wave women's movement It tells the stories of more than two thousand individual women and a few notable men who together reignited the women's movement and made permanent changes to entrenched customs and laws The biographical entries on these pioneering feminists represent their many factions all parts of the country all races and ethnic groups and all political ideologies Nancy Cott's foreword discusses the movement in relation to the earlier first wave and presents a brief overview of the second wave in the context of other contemporaneous social movements Chicana/o Struggles for Education Guadalupe San Miguel, 2013-04-29 Much of the history of Mexican American educational reform efforts has focused on campaigns to eliminate discrimination in public schools However as historian Guadalupe San Miguel demonstrates in Chicana o Struggles for Education Activism in the Community the story is much broader and more varied than that While activists certainly challenged discrimination they also worked for specific public school reforms and sought private schooling opportunities utilizing new patterns of contestation and advocacy In documenting and reviewing these additional strategies San Miguel's nuanced overview and analysis offers enhanced insight into the quest for equal educational opportunity to new generations of students San Miguel addresses questions such as what factors led to change in the 1960s and in later years who the individuals and organizations were that led the movements in this period and what motivated them to get involved and what strategies were pursued how they were chosen and how successful they were He argues that while Chicana o activists continued to challenge school segregation in the 1960s as earlier generations had they broadened their efforts to address new concerns such as school funding testing English only curricula the exclusion of undocumented immigrants and school closings They also advocated cultural pride and memory inclusion of the Mexican American community in school governance and opportunities to seek educational excellence in private religious nationalist and secular schools The profusion of strategies has not erased patterns of de facto segregation and unequal academic achievement San Miguel concludes but it has played a key role in expanding educational opportunities The actions he describes have expanded extended and diversified the historic struggle for Mexican American education National Security Entrepreneurs and the Making of American Foreign Policy Vincent Boucher, Charles-Philippe David, Karine Prémont, 2020-10-22 Since the advent of the contemporary US national security apparatus in 1947 entrepreneurial public officials have tried to reorient the course of the nation's foreign policy Acting inside the National Security Council system some principals and high ranking officials have worked tirelessly to generate policy change and innovation on the issues they care about These entrepreneurs attempt to set the foreign policy agenda frame policy problems and solutions and orient the decision making process to convince the president and other decision makers to choose the course they advocate In National Security Entrepreneurs and the Making of American Foreign Policy Vincent Boucher Charles Philippe David and Karine Pr mont develop a new concept to study entrepreneurial behaviour among foreign policy advisers and offer the first comprehensive framework of analysis to answer this crucial question why do some entrepreneurs succeed in guaranteeing the adoption of novel policies while others fail They explore case studies of attempts to reorient US foreign policy waged by National Security Council entrepreneurs examining the key factors enabling success and the main forces preventing the adoption of a preferred option the entrepreneur s profile presidential leadership major players involved in the policy formulation and decision making processes the national political context and the presence or absence of significant opportunities By carefully analyzing significant diplomatic and military decisions of the Johnson Nixon Reagan and Clinton administrations and offering a preliminary account of contemporary national security entrepreneurship under presidents George W Bush Barack Obama and Donald Trump this book makes the case for an agent based explanation of foreign policy change and continuity
