

Teacher to Teacher: Trade Book Teaching Ideas from the OLRC Reading Group: "Every Living Thing"

Every Living Thing
Author: Cynthia Rylant

Summary: This book consists of twelve short stories, each one depicting a moment when a person's life has changed, each one involving an interchange between an animal and a human being.

Introductory Notes: Because these stories are short and the vocabulary is easy, students may enjoy reading them independently, listening to the teacher read them, or taking turns reading them aloud. Teachers will probably not want to use them all but may want to choose a few followed by an open or directed class discussion.

The following teaching suggestions pertain to four of the short stories. Note, however, that many ideas for one particular story could be adapted to another story. In the collection. Teachers should be careful not to overwhelm these little stories and their impact by assigning too many follow-up activities, since they are not fully developed novels and could easily be overtaught.

Teaching Ideas

"Retired"

Teachers may want to open the discussion by asking the students what they think might be meant by the title. The teacher may then turn to the dictionary and read various definitions, relating each to what has been offered by the class.

We suggest using the attached form describing the technique of a DR-TA (see attached form), stopping at the following places:

- a. p. 10, bottom, after "Velma thought about hers."
- b. p. 12, top, after "saw the school playground."
- c. At the end.

Students may want to follow the reading of the story with a discussion about retirement. Teachers may ask students to reflect, then write about the issues of aging and retiring from formal employment, of when retirement is a healthy and good thing, and when it is a negative.
