Evaluating Public Research Institutions Albert N. Link, John T. Scott, 2005 In recent years the hallmark public sector research program in the US has been the Advanced Technology Program ATP Assessing its progress so far this book then illustrates how other public organizations should conduct evaluations

Evaluating Public Research Institutions Albert N. Link, John T. Scott, 2009-06-15 Arguably one of the United States hallmark public sector research programs the Advanced Technology Program ATP aims to assist US business in creating and applying new technologies in order to maintain a competitive edge in a rapidly changing world economy Delivering a unique systematic analysis of a public agency's pioneering intramural research program this book presents the first detailed case study of ATP and provides a methodological illustration of how other public organizations should conduct such an evaluation With an increasing number of public sector agencies and institutions undertaking program assessments in light of growing public accountability this book will be of great interest to academics and researchers in economics as well as policy makers involved in program evaluation

Evaluating Public and Community Health Programs Muriel J. Harris, 2016-10-21 A practical introduction to participatory program evaluation Evaluating Public and Community Health Programs provides a comprehensive introduction to the theory and practice of evaluation with a participatory model that brings stakeholders together for the good of the program Linking community assessment program implementation and program evaluation this book emphasizes practical ongoing evaluation strategies that connect theory with application This updated second edition includes new discussion on planning policy change programs using logic models and theory of change plus expanded coverage of processes outcomes data collection and more Each chapter includes classroom activities and group discussion prompts and the companion website provides worksheets lecture slides and a test bank for instructors Mini cases help illustrate the real world applications of the methods described and expanded case studies allow students to dig deeper into practice and apply what they've learned Accurate and effective evaluation is the key to a successful program This book provides a thorough introduction to all aspects of this critical function with a wealth of opportunities to apply new concepts Learn evaluation strategies that involve all program stakeholders Link theory to practice with new mini cases and examples Understand the uses processes and approaches to evaluation Discover how ongoing evaluation increases program effectiveness Public and community health programs are a vital part of our social infrastructure and the more effective they are the more people they can serve Proper planning is important but continued evaluation is what keeps a program on track for the long term

Evaluating Public and Community Health Programs provides clear instruction and insightful discussion on the many facets of evaluation with a central focus on real world service

OECD Public Governance Reviews Monitoring and Evaluating the Strategic Plan of Nuevo León 2015-2030 Using Evidence to Achieve Sustainable Development OECD, 2021-04-28 Pursuing sustainable development requires a whole of society effort where the public sector engages with citizens the private sector and civil society organisations With this goal in mind in 2014 the Nuevo Leon Mexico government created the Nuevo Leon's Council for Strategic Planning to develop inter alia a 2015-2030 Strategic Plan

Public Vices, Private Virtues?:

Assessing the Effects of Marketization in Higher Education Pedro N. Teixeira, David D. Dill, 2011-11-13 Recent years have seen the strengthening of a discourse that emphasises the virtues of markets competition and private initiative vis-à-vis the vices of public intervention in higher education This volume presents a timely reflection about the effects this increasing marketization has been producing in many higher education systems worldwide The various chapters of this volume analyse the impact of markets at the system level with significant attention being devoted to the changes in modes of regulation the strengthening of aspects such as privatization and inter-institutional competition in higher education systems and the closer interaction between higher education and its economic environment Several of the contributors devote attention as well to the implications of market forces for institutional change notably regarding issues such as mission organizational structure and governance and the way marketization is affecting the internal distribution of power and the definition of priorities Finally the volume includes several chapters focusing on the different markets of higher education such as the academic labour market undergraduate and postgraduate education and research markets Altogether these chapters provide important insights concerning the many national and institutional contexts in which the marketization of higher education has been taking place around the world

Public/Private Partnerships

Albert N. Link, 2006-01-04 Research and development R and D leads to innovation and innovation leads to technological change Technological change in turn is the primary driver of economic growth Public-private partnerships cooperative relationships among industry government and/or universities leverage the efficiency of R and D and are thus a critical aspect of a nation's innovation system This text is intended for upper-level undergraduate and MBA courses such as Economics of Innovation and Economics of Science and Technology among others The first chapter introduces the concept of public-private research partnerships along with other concepts fundamental to an understanding of innovation and technology policy The framework chapters 2-5 set forth an argument for the public's role government's role in innovation in general and in public-private partnership in particular The remaining chapters 6-14 describe a number of public-private partnerships and to the extent possible evaluate their social impact
