Africa Sahbi Hidri,Christine Coombe,2016-09-27 This book presents evaluation cases from the Middle East and North Africa MENA context investigating the various facets of evaluation in different parts of the MENA region and beyond In 19 chapters it explores cases from Tunisia Saudi Arabia Egypt Sudan Syria the UAE Turkey Iran and Morocco The book highlights the impact of evaluation on a range of stakeholders arguing that it has repercussions at the individual societal economic cultural and political levels that it also has an ethical dimension and that it is tailored to people s needs helping them to remain abreast of the effectiveness and efficiency of programs Further the book explores controversial issues concerning different evaluation themes such as teacher and staff evaluation assessment practices text genre analysis evaluation assessment of productive skills textbook and ICT evaluation evaluation of ELT certificates and programs quality assurance ESP needs analysis assessment literacy and dynamic assessment It addresses key challenges such as who the right people to implement evaluation are and the appropriate use of evaluation results to avoid any misuse or harm to any stakeholder In closing the book calls for further research venues on the relevance of evaluation testing and assessment in the MENA context and beyond Evaluating Textbooks and Their Potential for EFL Learning and Teaching. A Case Study Saleem Arif,2020-04-27

Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Miscellaneous grade 1 0 University of Duisburg Essen Department of Anglophone Studies language English abstract In contrast to the reality outside of school textbooks especially in the context of teaching English as a foreign language TEFL are still the most important medium for language learning purposes today However the academic evaluation of textbooks is surprisingly a rather neglected field of study Also the very few studies that evaluate an EFL textbook mostly only consider the technical dimension of analysis such as the theoretical perspective of EFL methodology Yet to gain a more holistic impression of a textbook one should also include the practical perspective of EFL teachers Therefore the present case study critically evaluates one exemplary textbook combining the theoretical perspective of EFL didactics and the practical perspective of EFL teachers The TEFL textbook chosen for this case study is titled English G21 A5 published by Cornelsen in 2010 It is designed for grade 9 at Gymnasium in Germany Taking Unit 1 of this textbook as an example this paper aims at examining the potential of this textbook for EFL learning and teaching The central question is whether the textbook meets the various requirements posed to a textbook including the numerous principles that are part of contemporary EFL methodology and central educational standards In the first part of the analysis chapter 4 the question is in how far the textbook meets the theoretical requirements of TEFL For the second part of the analysis chapter 5 a small survey was carried out conducting qualitative interviews with four different teachers Employing qualitative content analysis the survey intends to find out about the teachers opinion on the textbook focusing on the question how the teachers assess the value of the textbook for their teaching practice Prior to the analysis it is however necessary to elaborate on some theoretical background chapter 2 This involves describing the main paradigms of contemporary EFL methodology as well as illustrating relevant theoretical context in relation to the term textbook and textbook evaluation revealing central requirements EFL textbooks need to fulfil The aim of this twofold description is to develop a list of criteria section 2.2.4 that will be used as the foundation of the textbook evaluation The selected textbook will be introduced in more detail in chapter 3

Expertise in EFL Textbook Evaluation

Mija Kim, 2010 This thesis reports on a study of expertise in English as a foreign language EFL textbook evaluation So far studies in the area of EFL textbook evaluation have focused on what evaluators should do rather than what they actually do However this thesis describes the procedures used in practice by a group of teacher evaluators in terms of what they focused on and their manner of doing so in their actual evaluation of an EFL textbook The study was conducted in the Korean high school setting where school teachers are required to choose from among the authorised EFL textbooks approved by the Ministry of Education The primary heuristic involved in the study was the concept of expertise The attempt was therefore made to distinguish between the textbook evaluation approach of the research subjects who were conceptualised as on the one hand expert evaluators and on the other those thought of as non experts Thus twelve Korean EFL school teachers were chosen to evaluate one of the authorised EFL textbooks and data gathered concerning their evaluations by means of concurrent verbalisation i.e. the research subjects were audio taped while providing think aloud accounts of their evaluation procedures A judgment group comprising a panel of personnel with distinguished records in the areas of textbook evaluation and production in the Korean context then examined the data from the evaluations and made judgements on their quality in terms of whether they were considered expert non expert or in between the two The transcripts of the evaluation session tapes were coded using a grounded approach in order to distinguish the features attaching to each of the three main categories of evaluators The analysis indicated that the expert evaluators evaluated at a much deeper level than the non experts as evinced by what they considered what their priorities were and the nature of the cognitive activities they used The study is seen to have pedagogic implications for both textbook development and teacher development as well as for the development of a research framework that bridges a current gap in textbook evaluation studies It is also seen as contributing to widening the potential for the application of an expertise perspective within applied linguistics in general

Using Alternative Assessment to Improve EFL Learners' Learning Achievement Hoàng Yen Phương,Thi Van Su Nguyen,2019 This book is an effort to review the theoretical framework for the use of alternative assessment in EFL contexts and provides a collection of empirical research on alternative assessment for different groups of EFL learners in various classrooms The aim of the book is not to simply review the past literature on alternative assessment in EFL rather it aims to evaluate current language policy reforms in which opportunities for alternative assessment are incorporated Recent developments and possibilities for alternative assessment implementation in specific language skills are encouraged The book provides empirical findings specific to certain sub skills using alternative assessment strategies in EFL Both the theoretical framework and the insights and implications from the empirical research described in the book will make alternative assessment more accessible to language teachers in the most relevant and practical way

Graded Readers in the EFL Classroom ,1996 The Student Evaluation Standards Joint Committee on Standards for Educational Evaluation,Arlen R. Gullickson,2003 Teachers make judgments about students every day based on such formal and informal appraisals of their work as classroom observation homework assignments and teacher made quizzes Soon they ll have the first set of professional standards to help guide them in making such decisions Education Week Education Week A practical guide to designing and assessing student evaluation Student evaluation and assessment are central to every school and classroom Evaluation and assessment are how we find out what students are learning how they are progressing and how we can make improvements for their future development With requirements for testing and standards based instruction at an all time high effective student evaluation is more essential today than ever before But where in the instructional process should assessments occur What kinds of questions should be asked How is the information used to direct student learning Who has the right to access and use this information The Joint Committee presents 28 certified standards for assessing evaluation practices in elementary and secondary classrooms These standards are broken down into four essential attributes of sound evaluation each providing definitions guidelines common errors supportive documentation and illustrative case studies

Propriety standards which protect individual rights Utility standards which ensure that evaluations are timely informative and influential Feasibility standards which recognize real world dynamics and environmental influences Accuracy standards which determine whether an evaluation has produced sound information These standards provide teachers and administrators with the tools they need to master every nuance of student evaluation including validity political viability teacher biases conflicts of interest a student's right to privacy and much more But most important they will help ensure that student evaluation practices are on track so we can properly serve and improve student learning These standards have been approved by the American National Standards Institute ANSI and were developed with assistance from members of 16 professional societies American Association of School Administrators American Counseling Association American Educational Research Association American Evaluation Association American Psychological Association Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development Canadian Evaluation Society Canadian Society for the Study of Education Consortium for Research on Educational Accountability and Teacher Evaluation Council of Chief State School Officers National Association of Elementary School Principals National Association of Secondary School Principals National Council on Measurement in Education National Education Association National Legislative Program Evaluation Society National School Boards Association

An Analysis and Evaluation of Vocabulary Items in an EFL Textbook Farzaneh Clarke, 1991 Rating EFL Written Performance Katalin Bukta, 2014-01-31 The study focuses on the investigation of the process during which raters of EFL written performance make their decisions It consists of a pilot and a main study each of which concentrates on assessment of writing The rationale is to detect the decision making processes that raters follow which can be used for training raters and with which the reliability of rating can be improved The pilot study is based on data collected during a large scale language proficiency assessment of two age groups from learners of English and German languages Raters were asked to think aloud during the rating task Data was then transcribed and analysed The participants in the main study were novice raters who produced verbal protocols 37 EFL teacher trainees took part in rater training and practised think aloud protocol production Then they evaluated ten compositions written by EFL learners and verbalised their thought processes The verbal protocols served as a basis for data collection The analysis of data resulted in the conclusion according to which more reliable and objective assessment is possible when evaluating written performance
