Fighting Hard-core Cartels Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. Competition Committee, 2002-06-06 This report adopted by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD Competition Committee in 2001 looks at ways of combating economic cartels The report relies heavily on the promotion of leniency programs that would allow malefactors to implicate co conspirators in exchange for lighter sentences smaller fines or complete amnesty After presenting the brief report the bulk of the this volume consists of appendix material reproducing sample legal letters descriptions of programs and brief descriptions of enforcement actions from OECD countries Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Legitimacy in EU Cartel Control Ingeborg Simonsson, 2010-02-23 This book examines the law developed by the EU to control cartels The law including case law is carefully documented and analysed against a standard of legitimacy which questions the EU s enforcement measures its institutional structures policy choices substantive law evidentiary standards and procedures and sanctions It includes a unique catalogue of over 150 EU cartel decisions as well as novel analyses of difficult borderline issues such as mixed horizontal and vertical cartels single brand dealer cartels and buyer cartels The effect on trade in cartel cases is analysed with reference to established law and deterrence theory Throughout the book the author asks whether EU law also applies at the national level or whether certain assessments need to be made according to national law This approach makes the book particularly helpful for national authorities courts and private practitioners The book includes in depth comparisons with US law as well as a comprehensive survey of the secondary academic literature on cartels As such it presents not only a comprehensive practical view but also a sound theoretical framework for better understanding cartel law This is a work which will be of utmost importance to those working in competition authorities and competition courts in the EU Member States as well as those working for EU institutions and in private practice and academia EU Cartel Enforcement Andreas Scordamaglia-Tousis, 2013-08-01 There has been a long standing debate on the compatibility of EU competition law with fundamental rights protection particularly as the latter is enshrined in the due process requirements of the European Convention on Human Rights ECHR This book a signal contribution to that debate assesses two questions of paramount concern first whether the current level of fundamental rights protection in cartel enforcement falls within the accepted ECHR standards and second how the often conflicting objectives of effectiveness and adequate protection of fundamental rights could optimally be achieved Following a detailed survey of relevant EU institutional substantive and procedural law rules the author offers a set of persuasive normative responses to both questions Proceeding from an in depth analysis of the pertinent rights and legal nature of competition proceedings under EU and ECHR law the author goes on to examine such elements of the perceived incompatibility as the following investigatory powers vested in competition authorities the privilege against self incrimination right to privacy fair trial probatory requirements degree of use of presumptions in EU practice Article 6 ECHR guarantees pertaining to the presumption of innocence proving coordination of competitive behaviour proving restriction of competition admissibility of evidence before EU Courts and the Commission assessment of the attribution of liability rules EU fining rules judicial review of cartel decisions by EU Courts and national sanctioning rules The author's extraordinarily thorough presentation is rounded off with a remarkably comprehensive bibliography that lists in addition to books and articles newspaper articles EU regulations and directives soft law guidelines and best practices EU and ECtHR case law EU Advocate General opinions European Commission decisions and European Ombudsman decisions General conclusions stress the necessity of introducing further reforms to enhance the effectiveness and legitimacy of fundamental rights in the context of competition proceedings Few books have taken such a thorough and far reaching approach to the reconciliation of effective public enforcement and fundamental rights or of effective deterrence with the principles of legality non retroactivity presumption of innocence and ne bis in idem In the depth of its appraisal of the entire spectrum of enforcement components from a fundamental rights perspective the book is without peers It will be warmly welcomed by any parties interested in the intersection of competition law and human rights

Public and Private Enforcement of Competition Law in Europe Kai Hüscherlath, Heike Schweitzer, 2014-08-01 Over the past fifteen years the optimal enforcement of EU competition law has become a major concern This book contains a unique collection of articles by lawyers and economists on current issues in the public and private enforcement of competition law Public enforcement has been strengthened in numerous ways for example through the introduction of a leniency programme and a substantial increase in fines for competition law violations At the same time the EU Commission has been promoting private enforcement for example by developing a legal framework that grants victims of EU antitrust law infringements access to compensation The contributions in this book address a range of topics in the area of competition law enforcement including the role of fines and leniency programmes in public enforcement access to evidence and the quantification of damages in private enforcement and the interaction between public and private enforcement of competition law in Europe
