The Nativist Prophets of Early

Islamic Iran Patricia Crone, 2012-06-28 Patricia Crone's book is about the Iranian response to the Muslim penetration of the Iranian countryside the revolts subsequently triggered there and the religious communities that these revolts revealed The book also describes a complex of religious ideas that however varied in space and unstable over time has demonstrated a remarkable persistence in Iran across a period of two millennia The central thesis is that this complex of ideas has been endemic to the mountain population of Iran and occasionally become epidemic with major consequences for the country most strikingly in the revolts examined here and in the rise of the Safavids who imposed Shi'ism on Iran. This learned and engaging book by one of the most influential scholars of early Islamic history casts entirely new light on the nature of religion in pre-Islamic Iran and on the persistence of Iranian religious beliefs both outside and inside Islam after the Arab conquest.

Essays in Islamic Philology, History, and Philosophy Alireza Korangy, Wheeler M. Thackston, Roy P. Mottahedeh, William Granara, 2016-05-24. The articles in this volume are dedicated to Professor Ahmad Mahdavi Damghani for the breadth and depth of his interests and his influence on those interests. They attest to the fact that his fervor and rigorously surgical attention to detail have found fertile ground in a wide variety of disciplines including among others Persian literature and philology, Islamic history and historiography, Arabic literature and philology, and Islamic philosophy and jurisprudence. The volume has brought together some of the most respected scholars in the fields of Islamic studies and Islamic literatures, all his prior students, to contribute with articles that touch on the fields. Professor Mahdavi Damghani has so permanently touched with his astonishing scholarship and attention to detail. The Monumental Inscriptions from Early Islamic Iran and Transoxiana Sheila Blair, 2024-04-02. Inscriptions on buildings are a distinctive feature of Islamic architecture and this book studies the 79 surviving monumental inscriptions in the Iranian world from the first five centuries of the Muslim era, A.D. 622-1106, the period in which all the major trends of monumental epigraphy in the area were set. These foundation commemorative and funerary texts come from the region between Iraq and Soviet Central Asia. Written primarily in Arabic, they embellished architectural monuments and furnishings whose nature implies the construction of major buildings. An extended introduction discusses such general topics as titulature, patronage, and stylistic development. Each text is then presented individually with photographs, drawings, transcriptions, translations, and an extensive commentary which presents the inscription in its larger palaeographic and historical contexts. Religious Trends in Early Islamic Iran Wilferd Madelung, 1988-09-22. This book deals with the major Islamic movements in Iran from the time of the Arab conquest in the 7th century to the Mongol invasion in the 13th century. They range from a sect amalgamating Iranian dualist with Islamic traditions like the Mazdakite Khurramiyya to trends and schools of mainstream Sunni Islam like the Murji, a traditionalism, Hanafism, and Shafi'ism, the ascetic and mystical trends of the Karramiyya and Sufism, and the religious-political opposition movements of Kharijism and Imami Zaydi and Ismaili Shi'ism. The author traces the origins, development, and interaction of these movements and relates them to their specific Iranian environment in order to reveal their significance in the religious and social evolution of Iran independent of their ramifications elsewhere in the Islamic world. Special attention is paid to the socially integrative aspects of the doctrine of these religious groups and to their relations with the established governments. Much recent research and new perspectives are integrated for the first time to offer an original survey of major currents of Islam in Iran before its transformation by the Mongol conquest and the Safavid adoption of Twelver Shi'ism as the state religion The Rise of Islam Vesta Sarkhosh Curtis, Sarah Stewart, 2009-01-28 This final volume in the successful series The Idea of Iran addresses the astonishing impact made by Islam during and after the Arab conquest of Iran in the middle of the seventh century As the Sasanian dynasty crumbled before the invaders triumphant onslaught its state religion of Zoroastrianism was unceremoniously dismantled to make way for the new faith of the victorious desert warriors Yet why if Iran jettisoned its indigenous religion did it still manage to retain its Persian language and distinctive Iranian identity once Muslim governance took hold These and other intriguing questions are addressed by the book which includes distinguished contributions from world renowned scholars such as Hugh Kennedy Edmund Bosworth Robert Hillenbrand and Ehsan Yarshater Discussing a large variety of subjects which covers the whole spectrum of life in early Islamic Iran the volume offers one of the most ambitious perspectives on Persian religion society and culture to be published to date It will be consulted by all students of Iranian history and will be regarded as essential reading for scholars of Islam the Middle East and medieval religion alike The Nativist Prophets of Early Islamic Iran Patricia Crone, 2012 □□□□□□ □□□□□□ □□□□ 2001, The American Historical Association's Guide to Historical Literature American Historical Association, 1995 Contains nearly 2 000 annotated citations primarily English language works divided into forth eight sections citations refer chiefly to works published between 1961 and 1992 Iran, a Country Study American University (Washington, D.C.).
