Healthy Europe: confidence and uncertainty for young people in contemporary Europe Council of Europe,2016-03-01
What is it like to be young in a Europe faced with conflict and austerity Volume 3 of the series Perspectives on youth focuses on healthy Europe not just in the narrow sense but in the broader sense of what it is like to be young in a Europe faced with conflict and austerity and what it feels like to be young as transitions become ever more challenging The assumption when planning this issue was that health in this broader sense remains a controversial area within youth policy where the points of departure of policy makers on the one hand and young people themselves on the other are often dramatically different in fact young people tend to interpret the dominating discourse as limiting patronising maybe even offensive The question of health brings the old tensions between protection and participation as well as agency and structure to the forefront Not all questions are addressed in detail but many are touched upon It is intentionally an eclectic mix of contributions to provide a diversity of argumentation and to promote reflection and debate As has been the intention of Perspectives on youth throughout we have sought to solicit and elicit the views of academics policy makers and practitioners presenting theoretical empirical and hypothetical assertions and analysis Perspectives on youth is published by the partnership between the European Union and the Council of Europe in the field of youth in co operation with and with support from four countries Belgium Finland France and Germany Its purpose is to keep the dialogue on key problems of child and youth policies on a solid foundation in terms of content expertise and politics The series aims to act as a forum for information discussion reflection and dialogue on European developments and trends in the field of youth policy youth research and youth work while promoting a policy and youth work practice that is based on knowledge and participatory principles The editorial team of this volume is composed of 12 members representing the supporting countries the Pool of European Youth Researchers PEYR the co ordinator of the youth policy reviews of the Council of Europe the EU Council of Europe youth partnership and the co ordinator of the editorial team Service Design and Service Thinking in Healthcare and Hospital

Supreme Court. Records and Briefs California (State)., Court of Appeal Case s C002991 Entrepreneurs and SMEs in Rwanda David L.

Poole,2021-01-28 Entrepreneurs and Small and Medium sized Enterprises SMEs have become the darlings of neoliberal development thinking with the received wisdom being that such enterprises hold the key to the economic transformation of low income countries This thinking has profoundly influenced development policy in Rwanda but has singularly failed to deliver the much anticipated emergence of a new class of entrepreneurs and a vibrant SME sector This book deconstructs the myths around entrepreneurship and SMEs and reveals how neoliberal approaches towards microcredit and related programmes have failed to address the economic challenges facing countries like Rwanda Drawing on his study of successful and aspiring entrepreneurs Poole identifies the factors associated with successful entrepreneurship He uncovers the unintended consequences of the entrepreneurship and SME development prescription and offers key policy insights which have implications for Rwanda and beyond Military Realism Peter Campbell,2019-05-08 After the Vietnam War the U S Army considered counterinsurgency COIN a mistake to be avoided Many found it surprising then when setbacks in recent conflicts led the same army to adopt a COIN doctrine Scholarly debates have primarily employed existing theories of military bureaucracy or culture to explain the army s re embrace of COIN but Peter Campbell advances a unique argument centering on military realism to explain the complex evolution of army doctrinal thinking from 1960 to 2008 In five case studies of U S Army doctrine Campbell pits military realism against bureaucratic and cultural perspectives in three key areas nuclear versus conventional warfare preferences for offense versus defense and COIN missions and finds that the army has been more doctrinally flexible than those perspectives would predict He demonstrates that decision makers while vowing in the wake of Vietnam to avoid COIN missions nonetheless found themselves adapting to the geopolitical realities of fighting low intensity conflicts In essence he demonstrates that pragmatism has won out over dogmatism At a time when American policymakers remain similarly conflicted about future defense strategies Campbell s work will undoubtedly shape and guide the debate Challenge: a Story of Conspiracy and the Coming Crash Eustace Dudley,1928 Re-envisioning State Arts Agencies ,2003 Long Island Railroad Information Bulletin ,1928 *Bzovi v.
