Researching and Understanding Educational Networks Robert McCormick, Alison Fox, Patrick Carmichael, Richard Procter, 2010-06-25 In the twenty first century what could be more important than networks Such is the power of their influence and attendant technologies that it is unsurprising that our thinking about networks is permeated with images and metaphors from electronic networks This orientation may equally influence thinking about education whether that is of students or teachers Researching and Understanding Educational Networks extends the discussion of educational networks in a unique and novel way by relating it to teacher learning Following an investigation of teacher and school networks in the UK the authors found that theoretical perspectives taken from existing work on such networks were not adequate to provide an understanding of their potential nor to provide the basis for researching them in ways that reflected the variety of teacher experience This book presents analyses of the problems with existing theories of teacher learning which for example draw on ideas of communities of practice and explores what network theories can be brought to the problem of how teachers and schools create and share new knowledge about practice Innovative networking theories discussed include social network analysis social capital theories actor network theory investigations of electronic networks including computer mediated conferencing how people learn at events such as conferences Researching and Understanding Educational Networks explores a new application of networks theories derived from quite different fields of work and extends it both by being concerned about networks beyond organisations and specifically about educational networks Their application to educational networks and to teacher learning in particular is a unique contribution of the book This enables it to be of interest to both researchers and those studying for higher degrees including students who are professionals working in schools

Interlibrary Loan Services Manual ,1991 Delivering Aid Differently Wolfgang Fengler, Homi Kharas, 2010-11-01 We live in a new reality of aid Gone is the traditional bilateral relationship the old fashioned mode of delivering aid and the perception of the third world as a homogenous block of poor countries in the south Delivering Aid Differently describes the new realities of a 200 billion aid industry that has overtaken this traditional model of development assistance As the title suggests aid must now be delivered differently Here case study authors consider the results of aid in their own countries highlighting field based lessons on how aid works on the ground while focusing on problems in current aid delivery and on promising approaches to resolving these problems Contributors include Cut Dian Agustina World Bank Getnet Alemu College of Development Studies Addis Ababa University Rustam Aminjanov NAMO Consulting Ek Chanboreth and Sok Hach Economic Institute of Cambodia Firuz Kataev and Matin Kholmatov NAMO Consulting Johannes F Linn Wolfensohn Center for Development at Brookings Abdul Malik World Bank South Asia Harry Masyrafah and Jock M J A McKeon World Bank Aceh Francis M Mwega Department of Economics University of Nairobi Rebecca Winthrop Center for Universal Education at Brookings Ahmad Zaki Fahmi World Bank Jane's All the World's Aircraft ,2007 The Asian Tsunami S.
