Advances in Human Factors in Training, Education, and Learning Sciences Salman Nazir, Tareq Ahram, Waldemar Karwowski, 2020-06-30 This book addresses the importance of human factors in optimizing the learning and training process. It reports on the latest research and best practices and discusses key principles of behavioral and cognitive science which are extremely relevant to the design of instructional content and new technologies to support mobile and multimedia learning, virtual training and web based learning among others as well as performance measurements, social and adaptive learning and many other types of educational technology with a special emphasis on those important in the corporate, higher education, healthcare and military training contexts. Gathering contributions to the AHFE 2020 Virtual Conference on Human Factors in Training, Education and Learning Sciences held on July 16-20, 2020, the book offers a timely perspective on the role of human factors in education. It highlights important new approaches and ideas and fosters new discussions on how to optimally design learning experiences.

The Psychology of Creative Performance and Expertise Kathryn Friedlander, 2024-08-22 This much needed book introduces readers to the related fields of expertise, creativity and performance, exploring our understanding of the factors contributing to greatness in creative domains. Bringing together research from the fields of creativity and expertise, it provides fresh insights for newcomers and seasoned scholars alike with its approachable guide to the multidimensional complexities of expertise development. It transcends traditionally studied fields such as chess, sports and music, instead exploring the intersection of expertise with creativity and the performing arts. Dedicated applied chapters cover eight fields including mind games, music, dance, creative writing, acting, art and STEM. The book also examines the facilitators of creative performance, including aesthetic sensitivity, creativity and mental imagery, as well as the obstacles to performance such as burnout, procrastination and gender related challenges. The book concludes by engaging with pressing issues facing expertise, including the impact of AI. Student friendly pedagogy is featured throughout, including Spotlight on Check it out and Consider this boxes to position material within context and engage students' learning. Whether revealing how an actor brings their part to life, how writers conjure up their storylines and vibrant characters, or what lies behind scientific invention, The Psychology of Creative Performance and Expertise offers a fascinating insight into the multifaceted journey towards achieving creative excellence. This is a valuable resource for final year undergraduate and postgraduate students and scholars across a range of disciplines, including expertise or skill acquisition, the psychology of performance and creativity.

Classics in Voice and Laryngology Ryan C. Branski, 2009 A superb collection of carefully selected reprinted articles, classified into fifteen subject groups from laryngeal framework and endoscopic surgery through anatomy to clinical voice disorders and therapies, and more, each of which includes a commentary by leading contemporary professionals. The editors recognize that the field of laryngology and voice represents a small niche within the small niche of otolaryngology. As such, it is unlikely that works seminal to the advancement of the field will ever be recognized in the context of science in general However many publications have significantly altered the way voice production is conceptualized as well as shifted treatment paradigms for patients with voice disorders Thus in bringing this collection together for the first time they have admirably achieved their threefold aim to recognize great contributions to the field to provide a written history of the field and to provide a compilation of landmark manuscripts in the field of laryngology and voice science for both current clinician scientists as well as future contributors to the field      A Study of the Fireman's Occupation David Allen, California.
