Explaining Religion Criticism And Theory From Bodin To Freud:

Explaining Religion J. Samuel Preus, 1991-07-01 J Samuel Preus traces the development and articulation of a modern naturalistic approach to the study of religion by examining ideas about the origin of religion in the works of nine western thinkers Jean Bodin Herbert of Cherbury Bernard Fontenelle Giambattista Vico David Hume Auguste Comte Edward Brunett Tylor Emile Durkheim and Sigmund Freud He argues that beginning in the sixteenth century increasing critical detachment from theological presuppositions and commitments made it possible for the question of origins to be posed from an altogether non religious point of view This new modernist paradigm was characterized by the conviction that religion could be explained in scientific terms like any other object of critical investigation

The Science of Religion: A Defence Donald Wiebe, 2018-10-16 Donald Wiebe Professor of Philosophy of Religion at Trinity College University of Toronto has spent much of his academic career arguing for a clear demarcation between Theology and Religious Studies The Science of Religion A Defence offers a brilliant overview of Professor Wiebe's contributions on methodology in the academic study of religion of the development of his thinking over time and of his intellectual commitment to a science of religion The work is divided into three parts The first part identifies pertinent connections between religion religious studies and science and why reductionism in the academic study of religion when properly applied can bridge the explanatory gap between the sceptic and the devotee The second part treats conceptual debates in the academic study of religion with particular reference to the place of belief understanding and meaning in the modern study of religion The third part addresses the theological resistance to the scientific study of religion and how that resistance can be overcome Finally two new essays are included a critique on The Preconceptions of a Science of Religion by Anthony J Palma and an accompanying reply by Donald Wiebe The Science of Religion A Defence is an essential resource for both scholarly and non scholarly audiences alike and will be of particular interest to both defenders and critics of a scientific study of religion

The Notion of "religion" in Comparative Research Ugo Bianchi, 1994 Nel 1990 si tenne a Roma il XVI Congresso del I A H R che ebbe come tema la nozione di religione Venne particolarmente analizzato l'uso di tale termine da parte degli studiosi di lingua europea nei rapporti con le culture non europee e viceversa

New Perspectives on Freud's Moses and Monotheism Ruth Ginsburg, Ilana Pardes, 2012-02-14 New Perspectives on Freud's Moses and Monotheism presents some of the most important current scholarship on Moses and Monotheism The essays in this volume offer new perspectives on Freud's perception of Judaism of collective trauma and collective repression national violence gender issues hermeneutic enigmas religious configurations questions of representation and constructions of truth while exploring the relevance of Moses and Monotheism in diverse fields from Jewish Studies Psychoanalysis History and Egyptology to Literature Musicology and Art

Explaining Religion James Samuel Preus, 1996 J Samuel Preus traces the development and articulation of a modern naturalistic approach to the study of religion by examining ideas about the origin of religion in the works of nine western thinkers Jean Bodin Herbert of Cherbury

Bernard Fontenelle Giambattista Vico David Hume Auguste Comte Edward Brunett Tylor Emile Durkheim and Sigmund Freud He argues that beginning in the sixteenth century increasing critical detachment from theological presuppositions and commitments made it possible for the question of origins to be posed from an altogether non religious point of view This new modernist paradigm was characterized by the conviction that religion could be explained in scientific terms like any other object of critical investigation Atheism for Beginners Michael Palmer,2013-02-28 Hurray for Michael Palmer is how Michael Martin the distinguished American philosopher greeted Palmer s The Atheist s Primer Lutterworth 2012 Atheism for Beginners by providing a coursebook for schools and colleges differs from its predecessor in being designed specifically for teachers and their students Yet although different in focus and format the intention remains the same to reinstate the importance of philosophy within the debate about God s existence and to act as a corrective to the largely Darwinian criticisms levelled against religious belief by Richard Dawkins and the so called new atheists So in Palmer s lively history of atheism extending from the ancient Greeks to the present day we meet the enduring philosophical arguments against God and the great literature in which they are expressed Atheism for Beginners is user friendly and presumes no special grounding in philosophy Throughout assistance is given by numerous aids to learning there are exercises marginal notes essay questions bibliographies and a glossary Also provided are fourteen short biographies of famous atheists In these respects Palmer follows the format first presented in his widely read Moral Problems of 1991 long established as a core text in the teaching of philosophy In Atheism for Beginners Palmer covers the main atheistic arguments discussing issues such as creation morality evil miracles and the motivations of belief Particular attention is paid to the work of Hume Marx Nietzsche and Freud with a special chapter devoted to the development of disproof atheism Atheism is often criticized for being unduly pessimistic that without God there is nothing to look forward to no life after death no final righting of wrongs and no hope of salvation But this Palmer argues is a slander against the atheistic outlook He concludes therefore on a positive note explaining that happiness and personal fulfilment are to be found in the very materialism that religious belief rejects Love Disconsoled Timothy P. Jackson,1999-11-25 Few concepts are more central to ethics than love but none is more subject to false consolation This 1999 book explores several theological philosophical and literary accounts of love focusing on how it relates to matters such as self interest and self sacrifice and invulnerability and immortality Timothy Jackson first considers key aspects of what the Bible says about love then he further examines the meaning of love and sacrifice through a close reading of novels by Fitzgerald and Hemingway Lastly he evaluates how love constrains and is constrained by other traditional moral concepts Throughout Jackson defends the moral priority of what the Christian tradition calls agape He argues that a proper understanding of agapic love rejects both moral relativism and the comfort of believing that good people cannot be harmed or that God causally necessitates every historical action and event When love is thus disconsoled it neither fears death nor despises life Merriam-Webster's Encyclopedia of World Religions Merriam-Webster, Inc,1999

Contains 3 500 alphabetically arranged entries that provide information about various aspects of the world's religions features thirty in depth discussions of major religions and includes illustrations and maps

Eight Theories of Religion Daniel L. Pals, 2006 Why do human beings believe in divinities Why do some seek eternal life while others seek escape from recurring lives Why do the beliefs and behaviors we typically call religious so deeply affect the human personality and so subtly weave their way through human society Revised and updated in this second edition Eight Theories of Religion considers how these fundamental questions have engaged the most important thinkers of the modern era Accessible systematic and succinct the text examines the classic interpretations of religion advanced by theorists who have left a major imprint on the intellectual culture of the twentieth century The second edition features a new chapter on Max Weber a revised introduction and a revised expanded conclusion that traces the paths of further inquiry and interpretation traveled by theorists in the most recent decades Eight Theories of Religion Second Edition begins with Edward Burnett Tylor and James Frazer two Victorian pioneers in anthropology and the comparative study of religion It then considers the great reductionist approaches of Sigmund Freud Emile Durkheim and Karl Marx all of whom have exercised wide influence up to the present day The discussion goes on to examine the leading challenges to reductionism as articulated by sociologist Max Weber new to this edition and Romanian American comparativist Mircea Eliade Finally it explores the newer methods and ideas arising from the African field studies of ethnographer E E Evans Pritchard and the interpretive anthropology of Clifford Geertz Each chapter offers biographical background theoretical exposition conceptual analysis and critical assessment This common format allows for close comparison and careful evaluation throughout Ideal for use as a supplementary text in introductory religion courses or as the central text in sociology of religion and courses centered on the explanation and interpretation of religion Eight Theories of Religion Second Edition offers an illuminating treatment of this controversial and fascinating subject

Berger's Dual-citizenship Approach to Religion Annette Jean Ahern, 1999 Peter Berger's neoclassical theory of modern social reality is well known in the discipline of sociology Less known in sociology but well recognized in the disciplines of religious studies and theology is his work in the area of religion in modern society This study breaks new ground by showing the pivotal role that Berger's treatment of religion plays in his sociology By spotlighting his treatment of religion the author shows that Berger has successfully challenged the notion that theology and sociology must be at odds with one another in the study of religious studies Instead this book demonstrates that Berger's dual citizenship approach to religion which draws from his sociological and theological perspectives provides an effective methodological model for religious studies one that is interdisciplinary in nature

The Academic Study of Religion During the Cold War Iva Dolezalova, Luther H. Martin, Dalibor Papoušek, 2001 While the academic study of religion in the former Soviet Union had to contend with an official ideology of scientific atheism such study in the West particularly in the United States was being reinvented in the 1960s during the very midst of the Cold War The twenty one contributions to this volume by scholars from

North America Europe Russia and eastern Europe examine the ideological and theological influences on the academic study of religion during the period from 1945 to 1989 and thus raise the question of whether an academic study of religion Religionswissenschaft might be defined in ways that avoid the extremes of both ideology and theology Beyond Borders Virgilio P. Elizondo, 2000 A celebration of the theology of Virgilio Elizondo that brings together his significant essays previously unpublished in book form along with critical reflections by a range of scholars Behold the Antichrist Delos Banning Mckown, 2004-05 No Marketing Blurb Ethical and Political Dilemmas of Modern India Ninian Smart, Shivesh Chandra Thakur, 1993 An Introduction to the Phenomenology of Religion James Cox, 2010 James Cox provides an easily accessible introduction to the phenomenology of religion which he contends continues as a foundational method for the academic study of religion in the 21st century Early Judaism Martin S. Jaffee, 1997 Appropriate for courses in Judaism and Western Religion This book introduces the complex reality of Judaism in ancient times using an approach grounded in the interdisciplinary framework of the comparative study of religions The aim of the book is to immerse students in theoretical problems regarding the interpretation of religious life as they master the diverse details of the forms of Judaic religion that thrived in antiquity The Insider/outsider Problem in the Study of Religion Russell T. McCutcheon, 1999 This anthology collects and introduces 30 classic and contemporary readings that investigate the ways in which scholars of religion have grappled with the relations between studying practicing and advocating Writers range from Kant Hume Schleiermacher and Otto to Ninian Smart Mircea Eliade Karen McCarthy Brown and Wendy Doniger O Flaherty Zygon, 2008 Situating Islam Aaron W. Hughes, 2007 The formation of any scholarly discourse is contingent upon the creation of a vocabulary and a set of categories responsible for manufacturing the data that it deems significant or not The discovery of raw data the manufacture of theoretical or interpretive frameworks that make sense of such data and subsequent scholarly conventions responsible for its dissemination are always mediated by particular social ideological and political contexts This book documents these contexts in the creation of the discipline known as Islamic Studies and demonstrates how they have been instrumental in shaping how we think about Islam in both the academy and especially post 9 11 in the media This volume argues that knowledge of Islam has never been innocent or about the simple collection of facts but that the interpretive lenses used to study Islam have always been and continue to be caught up with larger forces e g the reform of Judaism Orientalism identity politics of the 1960s 9 11 the fight against terrorism the creation of a liberal Islam Whereas previous work is content to show the nefarious influence of Orientalism in the creation of Islamic data and the formation of an essentialized Islam Situating Islam argues that the opposite approach the construction of an authentic Islam that coincides effortlessly with Western values is equally problematic The work concludes by examining how Islamic data has the potential to help us better understand how we construct and contest religion Marburg Revisited Michael Pye, 1989
