Southeast Asian Ecocriticism John Charles Ryan, 2017-11-08 Southeast Asian Ecocriticism presents a timely exploration of the rapidly expanding field of ecocriticism through its devotion to the writers creators theorists traditions concerns and landscapes of Southeast Asian countries While ecocritics have begun to turn their attention to East and South Asian contexts and particularly to Chinese and Indian cultural productions less emphasis has been placed on the diverse environmental traditions of Southeast Asia Building on recent scholarship in Asian ecocriticism the book gives prominence to the range of theoretical models and practical approaches employed by scholars based within and located outside of the Southeast region Consisting of twelve chapters Southeast Asian Ecocriticism includes contributions on the ecological prose poetry cinema and music of Indonesia Malaysia Myanmar the Philippines Thailand and Vietnam The authors emphasize the transnational exchanges of materials technologies texts motifs and ideas between Southeast Asian countries and Australia England Taiwan Formosa and the United States From environmental hermeneutics postcolonial studies indigenous studies and ecofeminism to critical plant studies ecopoetics and ecopedagogy the edited collection embodies the dynamic breadth of interdisciplinary environmental scholarship today Southeast Asian Ecocriticism foregrounds the theories practices and prospects of ecocriticism in the region The volume opens up new directions and reveals fresh possibilities not only for ecocritical scholarship in Southeast Asia but for a comparative environmental criticism that transcends political boundaries and national canons The volume highlights the important role of literature in heightening awareness of ecological issues at local regional and global scales      Routledge Handbook of Environment and Society in Asia Paul G. Harris, Graeme Lang, 2014-09-19 Nowhere is the connection between society and the environment more evident and potentially more harmful for the future of the world than in Asia In recent decades rapid development of Asian countries with very large populations has led to an unprecedented increase in environmental problems such as air and water pollution solid and hazardous wastes deforestation depletion of natural resources and extinction of native species This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural social and policy contexts of environmental change across East Asia The team of international experts critically examine a wide range of environmental problems related to energy climate change air land water fisheries forests and wildlife The editors conclude that with nearly half of the human population of the planet and several rapidly growing economies most notably China Asian societies will determine much of the future of human impacts on the regional and global environments As climate change related threats to society increase the book strongly argues for increased environmental consciousness and action in Asian societies This handbook is a very valuable companion for students scholars policy makers and researchers working on environmental issues in Asia      The Cambridge Companion to Literature and the Environment Louise Westling, 2014 This authoritative collection of rigorous but accessible essays investigates the exciting new interdisciplinary field of environmental literary criticism      Teaching Postcolonial Environmental Literature and Media Cajetan Iheka, 2021-12-28 Provides strategies for teaching postcolonial environmental literature by writers from the Global South and indigenous peoples Topics and approaches include environmental justice queer ecofeminism animal studies migration anticolonialism petrofiction sea level rise environmental humanities and environmental justice organizations Works from Africa Latin America East Asia and the Caribbean are discussed      Chinese Environmental Humanities Chia-ju Chang, 2019-08-05 Chinese Environmental Humanities showcases contemporary ecocritical approaches to Chinese culture and aesthetic production as practiced in China itself and beyond As the first collaborative environmental humanities project of this kind this book brings together sixteen scholars from a diverse range of disciplines including literary and cultural studies philosophy ecocinema and ecomedia studies religious studies minority studies and animal or multispecies studies The fourteen chapters are conceptually framed through the lens of the Chinese term huanjing environment or encircling the surroundings a critical device for imagining the aesthetics and politics of place making or the practice of environing at the margin The discourse of environing at the margins facilitates consideration of the modes aesthetics ethics and politics of environmental inclusion and exclusion providing a lens into the environmental thinking and practices of the world's most populous society      Qui Parle, 2010      Gender Justice and Contemporary Asian Literatures Karen Laura Thornber, 2024-09-06 This casebook investigates how diverse writers from across East South and Southeast Asia and their diasporas have engaged with the struggle for gender justice Each chapter analyzes works of literature originally written in Bengali Chinese English Indonesian Japanese Khmer Korean Marathi Thai and Vietnamese Aimed at both specialists and nonspecialists Gender Justice and Contemporary Asian Literatures addresses such subjects as gender imparity in male dominated professions the lives of migrant sex workers and caregivers the fight against reproductive family non partner and intimate partner violence and norms of shame and silence surrounding violence against women Informed by the author s deep knowledge of literature history culture law and social conditions this book will be a resource for instructors and students in gender studies women s studies ethnic studies Asian studies Asian American studies Asian diaspora studies comparative literature and world literature

Ly luận phê bình văn học, nghệ thuật ,2016      Ecologies in Southeast Asian Literatures: Histories, Myths and Societies Chi P. Pham,Chitra Sankaran,Gurpreet Kaur,2019-09-09 Ecocriticism in relation to the Southeast Asian region is relatively new So far John Charles Ryan s Ecocriticism in Southeast Asia is the first book of its kind to focus on the region and its literature to give an ecocritical analysis that volume compiles analyses of the eco literatures from most of the Southeast Asian region providing a broad insight into the ecological concerns of the region as depicted in its literatures and other cultural texts This edited volume furthers the study of Southeast Asian ecocriticism focusing specifically on prominent myths and histories and the myriad ways in which they connect to the social fabric of the region Our book is an original contribution to the expanding field of ecocriticism as it highlights the mytho historical basis of many of the region s literatures and their relationship to the environment The varied articles in this volume together explore the idea of nature and its relationship with humans The always problematic questions that surround such explorations such as why do we regard nature as external or how is humankind a continuum with nature emerge throughout the volume either overtly or implicitly As Pepper 1993 points out what Karl Marx referenced as first or external nature gave rise to humankind But humanity worked on this first nature to produce a second nature the material creations of society plus its institutions ideas and values Pepper 108 Thus our volume constantly negotiates this field of ideas and belief systems in diverse ways and in various cultures attempting to relate them to the current ecological predicaments of ASEAN It will likely prove an invaluable resource for scholars and students of ecocriticism and more broadly of Southeast Asian cultures and literatures

East Asian Ecocriticisms S. Estok,W. Kim,2013-03-26 East Asian Ecocriticisms presents original essays from Japan South Korea Taiwan and China that define and characterize trends in East Asian ecocriticism Drawing on diverse theoretical perspectives in environmental thought and scholarship this volume presents valuable and original contributions to global conversations

Southeast Asian Ecocriticism John Charles Ryan,2017-11-08 Southeast Asian Ecocriticism presents a timely exploration of the rapidly expanding field of ecocriticism through its devotion to the writers creators theorists traditions concerns and landscapes of Southeast Asian countries While ecocritics have begun to turn their attention to East and South Asian contexts and particularly to Chinese and Indian cultural productions less emphasis has been placed on the diverse environmental traditions of Southeast Asia Building on recent scholarship in Asian ecocriticism the book gives prominence to the range of theoretical models and practical approaches employed by scholars based within and located outside of the Southeast region. Consisting of twelve chapters, Southeast Asian Ecocriticism includes contributions on the ecological prose, poetry, cinema, and music of Indonesia, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam. The authors emphasize the transnational exchanges of materials, technologies, texts, motifs, and ideas between Southeast Asian countries and Australia, England, Taiwan, Formosa, and the United States. From environmental hermeneutics, postcolonial studies, indigenous studies, and ecofeminism to critical plant studies, ecopoetics, and ecopedagogy, the edited collection embodies the dynamic breadth of interdisciplinary environmental scholarship today. Southeast Asian Ecocriticism foregrounds the theories, practices, and prospects of ecocriticism in the region. The volume opens up new directions and reveals fresh possibilities not only for ecocritical scholarship in Southeast Asia but for a comparative environmental criticism that transcends political boundaries and national canons. The volume highlights the important role of literature in heightening awareness of ecological issues at local, regional, and global scales.

Perspectives on Environmental History in East Asia Ts'ui-jung Liu, Micah S. Muscolino, 2022. This edited volume engages with some of the most dynamic themes in current research on East Asian environmental history, including agricultural science, war, and the environment, imperial forestry, oceanic history, and the history of energy. Chapters in this book supply an overview of environmental history as a rapidly expanding field, continuing to generate valuable insights into the mutually constitutive relationship between human societies and the biophysical environment. The book is divided into three parts. Part I consists of three chapters related to land use, while Part II includes five chapters that focus on water, a topic of perennial concern among environmental historians of East Asia, especially as it relates to irrigation, food production, and marine fisheries. Part III consists of two chapters discussing the impact of new technologies on air quality, in addition to the history of energy in East Asia, which has emerged as an important area of inquiry at the intersection between both environmental history and the history of science and technology. Perspectives on Environmental History in East Asia: Changes in the Land, Water, and Air will appeal to students and scholars of East Asian studies, environmental history, and environmental sciences.

East Asian Public Opinion on Environmental Issues Gordon A. Tubbs, United States Information Agency, Office of Research, 1992.

East Asian Experience in Environmental Governance: Response in a Rapidly Developing Region Zafar Adeel, 2003. This publication examines the existing systems for environmental governance in East Asian countries, a region which has seen considerable growth in its economy, industrial base, and population in the last two decades. It contains case studies from China, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, and Thailand and focuses on three sectors: pesticide management, water quality, and resources management, and air pollution management. This selection is intended to provide a diverse mix of political and historical backgrounds in order to give a representative view of governance mechanisms in highly industrialised, industrialising, and developing economies.

Routledge Handbook of Environment and Society in Asia Paul G. Harris, Graeme Lang, 2015. Nowhere is the connection between society and the environment more evident and potentially more harmful for the future of the world than in Asia In recent decades rapid development of Asian countries with very large populations has led to an unprecedented increase in environmental problems such as air and water pollution solid and hazardous wastes deforestation depletion of natural resources and extinction of native species This handbook provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural social and policy contexts of environmental change across East Asia The team of international experts critically examine a wide range of environmental problems related to energy climate change air land water fisheries forests and wildlife The editors conclude that with nearly half of the human population of the planet and several rapidly growing economies most notably China Asian societies will determine much of the future of human impacts on the regional and global environments As climate change related threats to society increase the book strongly argues for increased environmental consciousness and action in Asian societies This handbook is a very valuable companion for students scholars policy makers and researchers working on environmental issues in Asia
