Finding Home Peter H. Sauer, 1992-08-26 Writing on Nature and Culture from Orion Magazine Edited and with an Introduction by Peter Sauer     Finding Home Peter H. Sauer, 1992     Lens to the Natural World Kenneth H. Olson, 2011-12-08 This book straddles the fertile middle ground between science and religion at a time when the conversation is dominated by extremists on both sides Taking seriously the modern view of the universe including the fossil record for the history of life across millions of years the author considers our relationship to the rest of nature In addition the age old questions concerning meaning values and our place within it all are perhaps more pressing than ever before This work provides a broad engagement with major ideas including evolution and earth stewardship while drawing upon a rich heritage of philosophy and literature and doing so in a manner accessible to the general reader     Finding Home Peter H. Gottlieb, 2013 Roger S Gottlieb provides a lucid and accessible overview of what spirituality is enabling a clear eyed understanding of the concept its manifold connections to other aspects of personal and social life its role as a positive psychological and social phenomenon and some of the risks that attend it     Other Selves Janice Fiamengo, 2007-07-12 Other Selves Animals in the Canadian Literary Imagination begins with the premise first suggested by Margaret Atwood in The Animals in That Country 1968 that animals have occupied a peculiarly central position in the Canadian imagination Unlike the longer settled countries of Europe or the more densely populated United States in Canada animals have always been the loved and feared co inhabitants of this harsh beautiful land From the realistic animal tales of Charles G D Roberts and Ernest Thompson Seton to the urban animals of Marshall Saunders and Dennis Lee to the lyrical observations of bird enthusiasts John James Audubon Thomas McIlwraith and Don McKay animals have occupied a key place in Canadian literature focusing central aspects of our environmental consciousness and cultural symbolism Other Selves explores how and what the animals in this country have meant through all genres and periods of Canadian writing focusing sometimes on individual texts and at other times on broader issues Tackling more than a century of writing from 19th century narrative of women travelers to the natural conversion of Grey Owl to the award winning novels of Farley Mowat Marian Engel Timothy Findley Barbara Gowdy and Yann Martel these essays engage the reader in this widely acknowledged but inadequately explored aspect of Canadian literature Published in English     Tree Cultures Paul Cloke, Owain Jones, 2020-07-12 The relationship between nature and culture has become a popular focus in social science but there have been few grounded accounts of trees Providing shelter fuel food and tools trees have played a vital role in human life from the earliest times but their role in symbolic expression has been largely overlooked For example trees are often used to express nationalistic feelings Germans drew heavily on tree and forest imagery in nation building and the idea of hearts of oak has been central to concepts of English identity Classic scenes of ghoulish trees coming to life and forests closing in on unsuspecting passers by commonly feature in the media In other instances trees are used to represent paradisaical landscapes and symbolize the ideologies of conservation and concern for nature Offering new theoretical ideas this book looks at trees as agents that co constitute places and cultures in relationship with human agency What happens when trees connect with human labour technology retail and consumption systems What are the ethical dimensions of these connections The authors discuss how trees can affect and even define notions of place and the ways that particular places are recognized culturally Working trees companion trees wild trees and collected or conserved trees are considered in relation to the dynamic politics of conservation and development that affect the values given to trees in the contemporary world Building on the growing field of landscape study this book offers rich insights into the symbolic and practical roles of trees It will be vital reading for anyone interested in the anthropology of landscape forestry conservation and development and for those concerned with the social science of nature
