Findings The Material Culture Of Needlework And Sewing:

Findings Mary Carolyn Beaudry, 2006-01-01 Mary C Beaudry mines archaeological findings of sewing and needlework to discover what these small traces of female experience reveal about the societies and cultures in which they were used Beaudry's geographical and chronological scope is broad she examines sites in the United States and Great Britain as well as Australia and Canada and she ranges from the Middle Ages through the Industrial Revolution The author describes the social and cultural significance of findings pins needles thimbles scissors and other sewing accessories and tools Through the fascinating stories that grow out of these findings Beaudry shows the extent to which such small things were deeply entrenched in the construction of gender personal identity and social class Material Culture Review, 2007

Interpreting the Early Modern World Mary C. Beaudry, James Symonds, 2010-10-20 Interpretive archaeology meaning the interpretation social science as opposed to hard science of archaeology and archaeological artifacts has predominantly been the realm of prehistoric archaeologists Many historical archaeologists are participating in this disciplinary shift from processualism to post processualism and interpretation but to date few have called their work interpretive archaeology This volume is based on a session at the Society for Historical Archaeology meeting in 2005 The organizers now editors brought together historical archaeologists from both the UK and the US working in the same areas industrial landscape monuments etc but because of their country based training their work arises out of differing intellectual traditions The chapters in each section do not stand in isolation rather the authors exchange ideas about what each other has written They construct dialogues about theories and practices that inform interpretive archaeology on either side of the Atlantic ends with commentary by two well known names in interpretive archaeology in the UK and in the States How to Make a Mao Suit

Antonia Finnane, 2023-08-03 When the People's Republic of China was founded in 1949 new clothing protocols for state employees resulted in far reaching changes in what people wore In a pioneering history of dress in the Mao years 1949 1976 Antonia Finnane traces the transformation using industry archives and personal stories to reveal a clothing regime pivoted on the so called Mao suit The time of the Mao suit was the time of sewing schools and sewing machines pattern books and homemade clothes It was also a time of close economic planning when rationing meant a limited range of clothes made usually by women from limited amounts of cloth In an area of scholarship dominated by attention to consumption Finnane presents a revisionist account focused instead on production How to Make a Mao Suit provides a richly illustrated account of clothing that links the material culture of the Mao years to broader cultural and technological changes of the twentieth century Gender at Sea Marleen Reichgelt e.a., 2022-12-14

For centuries seafaring people thought that the presence of women on board would mean bad luck rough weather shipwreck and other disasters were sure to follow Because of these beliefs and prejudices women were supposedly excluded from the maritime domain In the field of maritime history too the ship and the sea have predominantly been perceived as a space for men This volume of the Yearbook of Women's History challenges these notions It asks to what extent were the sea and the ship ever male dominated and masculine spaces How have women been part of seafaring communities maritime undertakings and maritime culture How did gender notions impact life on board and vice versa From a multidisciplinary perspective this volume moves from Indonesia to the Faroe Islands from the Mediterranean to Newfoundland bringing to light the presence of women and the workings of gender on sailing whaling steam cruise passenger pirate and navy ships As a whole it demonstrates the diversity and the agency of women at sea from ancient times to the present day

Genre Imagery in Early Modern Northern Europe ArthurJ. DiFuria,2017-07-05 Exploring the rich variety of pictorial rhetoric in early modern northern European genre images this volume deepens our understanding of genre s place in early modern visual culture From 1500 to 1700 artists in northern Europe pioneered the category of pictures now known as genre portrayals of people in ostensibly quotidian situations Critical approaches to genre images have moved past the antiquated notion that they portray uncomplicated slices of life describing them instead as heavily encoded pictorial essays laden with symbols that only the most erudite contemporary viewers and modern iconographers could fully comprehend These essays challenge that limiting binary revealing a more expansive array of accessible meanings in genre s deft grafting of everyday scenarios with a rich complex of experiential cultural political and religious references Authors deploy a variety of approaches to detail genre s multivalent relations to older more established pictorial and literary categories the interplay between the meaning of the everyday and its translation into images and the multifaceted concerns genre addressed for its rapidly expanding unprecedentedly diverse audience

The Force of Fashion in Politics and Society Beverly Lemire,2010 Throughout history fashion has emerged as one of the most powerful driving forces determining the political economic and social ramifications of the production distribution and circulation of goods Using fashion as the lens through which to analyse and understand cultural economic and political shifts within a broad spectrum of societies from the seventeenth to twenty first centuries this volume represents an important shift in scholarship towards a more indepth understanding of the force of fashion The Antiquaries Journal ,2007 International Handbook of Historical Archaeology Teresita Majewski,David Gaimster,2009-06-07 In studying the past archaeologists have focused on the material remains of our ancestors Prehistorians generally have only artifacts to study and rely on the diverse material record for their understanding of past societies and their behavior Those involved in studying historically documented cultures not only have extensive material remains but also contemporary texts images and a range of investigative technologies to enable them to build a broader and more reflexive picture of how past societies communities and individuals operated and behaved Increasingly historical archaeology refers not to a particular period place or a method but rather an approach that interrogates the tensions between artifacts and texts irrespective of context In short historical archaeology provides direct evidence for how humans have shaped the world we live in today Historical archaeology is a branch of global archaeology that has grown in the last 40 years from its North American base into an increasingly global community of archaeologists each studying their area of the world in a historical context Where historical archaeology started as part of the study of the post Columbian societies of the United States and Canada it has now expanded to interface with the post medieval archaeologies of Europe and the diverse post imperial experiences of Africa Latin America and Australasia The 36 essays in the International Handbook of Historical Archaeology have been specially commissioned from the leading researchers in their fields creating a wide ranging digest of the increasingly global field of historical archaeology The volume is divided into two sections the first reviewing the key themes issues and approaches of historical archaeology today and the second containing a series of case studies charting the development and current state of historical archaeological practice around the world This key reference work captures the energy and diversity of this global discipline today Materializing Inequality Stacey Lynn Camp,2009 A Historical Context and Archaeological Research Design for Townsite Properties in California ,2010 Rediscovering Raritan Landing Rebecca Yamin,2011 IA, the Journal of the Society for Industrial Archeology ,1999 Program of the Annual Meeting - American Historical Association American Historical Association,1996 Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association Program of the ...
