Educating All

Students in the Mainstream of Regular Education Susan Bray Stainback, William C. Stainback, Marsha Forest, 1989 This book builds from a historical overview of educational integration and explores the rationale behind the movement toward a merger of regular and special education. Noted authorities advance this argument in well structured chapters organized around key themes including educational equality in practice strategies to promote merger educational practices to meet diverse student needs and family and community support. Case histories and boxed statements highlighting pertinent points are among the effective instructional aides in this textbook. A thought provoking question and answer format also confronts 22 of the most commonly addressed concerns about merging regular and special education. Bowker's Complete Video Directory 2001, 2001 Mental Retardation, 1977 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2002-02 Fulfilling the Promise of Preschool, 2006 Official Florida Statutes, 1985 Florida, 1985 Computers in Education John J. Hirschbuhl, 1996 This volume addresses the question How are the U S education and training communities riding the back of current technologies to make us a better educated and more competitive nation in today s global economy. The editors have reviewed the literature and selected key statements that respond to the issue. There is a pressing need for a publication that brings together this wealth of pertinent information on the successful implementation of current technology into schools homes and businesses as well as the new hardware software applications that have made this possible. This volume is designed for use by educators involved in preservice and inservice education of educators trainers and administrators. It is also intended for parents students school board members and others concerned about the use and impact of computers on today s education and training activities. To the reader Math Trailblazers, 1998
