The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans Susan Larson, 2013-09-05 The literary tradition of New Orleans spans centuries and touches every genre its living heritage winds through storied neighborhoods and is celebrated at numerous festivals across the city For booklovers a visit to the Big Easy isn't complete without whiling away the hours in an antiquarian bookstore in the French Quarter or stepping out on a literary walking tour Perhaps only among the oak lined avenues Creole town houses and famed hotels of New Orleans can the lust of A Streetcar Named Desire the zaniness of A Confederacy of Dunces the chill of Interview with the Vampire and the heartbreak of Walker Percy's Moviegoer begin to resonate Susan Larson's revised and updated edition of The Booklover's Guide to New Orleans not only explores the legacy of Tennessee Williams and William Faulkner but also visits the haunts of celebrated writers of today including Anne Rice and James Lee Burke This definitive guide provides a key to the books authors festivals stores and famed addresses that make the Crescent City a literary destination

Louisiana's Response to Extreme Weather Shirley Laska, 2019-11-12 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This book takes an in depth look at Louisiana as a state which is ahead of the curve in terms of extreme weather events both in frequency and magnitude and in its responses to these challenges including recovery and enhancement of resiliency Louisiana faced a major tropical catastrophe in the 21st century and experiences the fastest rising sea level Weather specialists including those concentrating on sea level rise acknowledge that what the state of Louisiana experiences is likely to happen to many more and not necessarily restricted to coastal states This book asks and attempts to answer what Louisiana public officials scientists engineers and those from outside of the state who have been called in to help have done to achieve resilient recovery How well have these efforts fared to achieve their goals What might these efforts offer as lessons for those states that will be likely to experience enhanced extreme weather Can the challenges of inequality be truly addressed in recovery and resilience How can the study of the Louisiana response as a case be blended with findings from later disasters such as New York New Jersey Hurricane Sandy and more recent ones to improve understanding as well as best adaptation applications federal state and local Remaking Post-Industrial Cities Donald K. Carter,2016-03-02

Remaking Post Industrial Cities Lessons from North America and Europe examines the transformation of post industrial cities after the precipitous collapse of big industry in the 1980s on both sides of the Atlantic presenting a holistic approach to restoring post industrial cities Developed from the influential 2013 Remaking Cities Congress conference chair Donald K Carter brings together ten in depth case studies of cities across North America and Europe documenting their recovery from 1985 to 2015 Each chapter discusses the history of the city its transformation and prospects for the future The cases cross cut these themes with issues crucial to the resilience of post industrial cities including sustainability doing more with less public engagement and equity social economic and environmental the most important issue cities face today and for the foreseeable future This book provides essential lessons learned from the mistakes and successes of these cities and is an invaluable resource for practitioners and students of planning urban design urban redevelopment economic development and public and social policy Landscape and Agency Ed Wall,Tim Waterman,2017-10-16

Landscape and Agency explores how landscape as an idea a visual medium and a design practice is organized appropriated and framed in the transformation of places from the local to the global It highlights how the development of the idea of agency in landscape theory and practice can fundamentally change our engagement with future landscapes Including a wide range of international contributions each illustrated chapter investigates the many ways in which the relationship between the ideas and practices of landscape and social and subjective formations and material processes are invested with agency They critically examine the role of landscape in processes of contemporary urban development environmental debate and political agendas and explore how these relations can be analysed and rethought through a dialogue between theory and practice Queer

South Rising Reta Ugena Whitlock,2013-03-01 Queer South Rising Voices of a Contested Place is a collection of essays about the South by people who identify as both Southern and queer The collection s name hints at the provocative nature of its contents placing Queer and South side by side challenges readers to think about each word differently The idea that a queer South might rise undermines the Battle Cry of The South s Gonna rise Again embedded in the collective memory of a conservative South This rising does not refer to a kind of Enlightenment transcendence where the region achieves some sort of distinctive prominence It suggests instead ruptures like furrows in a plowed field where seeds are sown The rising Whitlock envisions is akin to breaking and turning over meanings of Southern place The title further serves to remind readers of the complexities of the place as it calls into question notions of a universal homogenous LGBT queer identity Queer South Rising is the first truly interdisciplinary collection of essays on the South and queerness that deliberately aims for multiple approaches to the topics This collection is intended for a wide audience of regular folks Essays explore multiple intersections of Southern place religion politics sexuality race education that transcend regional boundaries This book counters conventional scholarly texts it invites all readers interested in the South and queer themes to engage with the narratives it holds and perhaps question their assumptions Whitlock has sought in collecting these essays to seek out a diverse group of authors across disciplines professions and interests to shatter perceptions about a nostalgic romanticized Southern culture in general

Blue-Green Rehabilitation Philip Hayward, 2025-06-30 In recent decades there has been a burgeoning interest in the development of blue green corridors areas where waterways are complemented by adjoining green spaces and related paths and leisure facilities Urban planners have increasingly favoured such zones as a means of refreshing inner city spaces In many cases such projects have involved the rehabilitation of former industrial and or otherwise polluted waterways and adjacent land These newly configured blue green spaces have benefitted residents and provided a substantial attraction to tourists through in and on the water options e g swimming kayaking fishing cruise boat transit etc waterside relaxation and a range of riverbank activities The establishment of managed green spaces has also seen the return of a variety of native species to such areas and the re presentation of former waterside industrial features as heritage artefacts has also added value and appeal to such corridors The anthology comprises nine international case studies that illustrate examples of best practice and or the problems that can arise from such rehabilitations such as gentrification forcing housing prices up and dispersing established communities and de industrialisation that leads to reduced livelihood opportunities Individual studies in the volume analyse the dynamics of neglect and rehabilitation contrasting stakeholder agendas destination branding and regional national orientations Collectively the volume comprises an important reference point for future blue green rehabilitation projects and the conclusion offers an agenda for the development of just and sustainable blue green initiatives

Ethnic Landscapes of America John A. Cross, 2017-06-19 This volume provides a comprehensive catalog of how various ethnic groups in the United States of America have differently shaped their cultural landscape Author John Cross links an overview of the spatial distributions of many of the ethnic populations of the United States with highly detailed discussions of specific local cultural landscapes associated with various ethnic groups This book provides coverage of several ethnic groups that were omitted from previous literature including Italian Americans Chinese Americans Japanese Americans and Arab Americans plus several smaller European ethnic populations The book is organized to provide an overview of each of the substantive ethnic landscapes in the United States Between its introduction and conclusion which looks towards the future the chapters on the various ethnic landscapes are arranged roughly in chronological order such that the timing of the earliest significant surviving landscape contribution determines the order the groups will be viewed Within each chapter the contemporary and historical spatial distribution of the ethnic groups are described the historical geography of the group s settlement is reviewed and the salient aspects of material culture that characterize or distinguish the group's ethnic landscape are discussed. Ethnic Landscapes of America is designed for use in the classroom as a textbook or as a reader in a North American regional course or a cultural geography course. This volume also can function as a detailed summary reference that should be of interest to geographers, historians, ethnic scholars, other social scientists, and the educated public who wish to understand the visible elements of material culture that various ethnic populations have created on the landscape.

Experiential Zones for New Orleans Amy Elizabeth Fashimpar, 2008

An Untractable Country Craig A. Bauer, 2016 Louisiana's sixth largest city Kenner is often looked upon simply as a suburb of New Orleans and home to Louis Armstrong International Airport. An Untractable Country: The History of Kenner, Louisiana reveals that Kenner has its own unique and dynamic history separate from that of New Orleans. This is the first book-length narrative of the three hundred year long story of the people and events that transformed an area located along the Mississippi River approximately thirteen miles upriver from the Crescent City from a grassy Indian hunting ground to one of Louisiana's largest municipalities. From its earliest times as the colonial settlement of Cannes Brûlées through its incarnation as the small antebellum town of Kennerville to its rapid growth as a suburban bedroom community during the second half of the twentieth century, the story of Kenner exemplifies life in communities across the state and fills an important void in the greater mosaic of the story of Louisiana. Cityscapes of New Orleans Richard Campanella, 2017-10-10

Cityscapes of New Orleans takes readers on a journey through the winding, bumpy streets of the Crescent City to uncover the traumas, celebrations, and oddities that give the city its unique flavor. In these essays, geographer and historian Richard Campanella reveals the why behind the where, explaining New Orleans's street grids, parcel lines, and municipal systems; the character and distribution of its peoples, neighborhoods, cultures, and economies; the origins of its architecture and fate of its prominent buildings; the challenges of its urban environment and trauma of its disasters; and the complex relationship it maintains with the rest of state, nation, and world.

New Orleans Peirce Fee Lewis, 2003 But in meeting them, the city's diverse ethnic groups—French, Spanish, Anglo-American, and African-American—have created a place with a history and culture unlike any other in North America.

Delta Urbanism: New Orleans Richard Campanella, 2017-11-08 This volume of APA's Delta Urbanism series traces the development of New Orleans from precolonial times to post-Katrina realities in the context of the deltaic plain on which it lies. The book describes the underlying physical terrain and covers the various transformations humans have made to it: site selection, settlement, urbanization, population expansion, drainage, protection, exploitation.
