Julie Lynn Hempel

Disidentifications Disidentifications:

Disidentifications José Esteban Muñoz, 1999 There is more to identity than identifying with one's culture or standing solidly against it. José Esteban Muñoz looks at how those outside the racial and sexual mainstream negotiate majority culture not by aligning themselves with or against exclusionary works but rather by transforming these works for their own cultural purposes. Muñoz calls this process disidentification and through a study of its workings he develops a new perspective on minority performance, survival and activism. Disidentifications is also something of a performance in its own right, an attempt to fashion a queer world by working on with and against dominant ideology. By examining the process of identification in the work of filmmakers, performance artists, ethnographers, Cuban choteo forms of gay male mass culture such as pornography, museums, art, photography, camp and drag and television, Muñoz persistently points to the intersecting and short-circuiting of identities and desires that result from misalignments with the cultural and ideological mainstream in contemporary urban America. Muñoz calls attention to the world-making properties found in performances by queers of color in Carmelita Tropicana's Camp Choteo style politics, Marga Gomez's performances of queer childhood, Vaginal Creme Davis's Terrorist Drag, Isaac Julien's critical melancholia, Jean-Michel Basquiat's disidentification with Andy Warhol and pop art, Felix Gonzalez Torres's performances of disidentity and the political performance of Pedro Zamora, a person with AIDS within the otherwise artificial environment of the MTV serial The Real World. The Performance Studies Reader Henry Bial, Sara Brady, 2025-01-31 Since its first publication in 2004, The Performance Studies Reader has become the leading anthology of key writings on performance studies. Now in its fourth edition, it continues to offer an unparalleled selection of work by the foremost scholars in this continually evolving field, offering a stimulating introduction to the crucial debates of Performance Studies. These critical and theoretical contributions are joined in this edition by 26 new chapters, bringing the collection up to date with current discourse and ideas and significantly expanding the range of subjects and authors represented. Each essay includes contextual headnotes from the editors to introduce students to the writer and their impact on the field. Newly added to this edition are contributions from Swati Arora, Sara Ahmed, Sarah Bay Cheng, Claire Bishop, Felipe Cervera, Theron Schmidt and Hannah Schwadron, Anita E. Cherian and Gargi Bharadwaj, Thomas F. DeFrantz, SLIPPAGE, Soyica Diggs Colbert, Tracy C. Davis, Saidiya V. Hartman, Travis Jackson, Branislav Jakovljević, Ailton Krenak, Andrzej Lepecki, Fred Moten, José Esteban Muñoz, Tavia Nyong'o, Tamara Searle, Stephanie Nohelani Teves and McKenzie Wark. This new edition of The Performance Studies Reader provides an overview of the full range of performance theory for undergraduates at all levels and beginning graduate students in Performance Studies, theatre, performing arts and cultural studies. LGBTQ Activism in Turkey During 2010s Ali E. Erol, 2021-03-26 During the 2010s in Turkey, LGBTQ activists, groups and individuals persisted against social, political and legal adversity. Erasure during the Gezi Park Protests in 2013, a Pride parade ban in Istanbul in 2016 and indefinite ban on all LGBTQ events in Ankara in 2017 directly aimed at ending the activities, visibility and existence of LGBTQ organization in the two biggest cities in Turkey This work examines the ways in which LGBTQ activists engaged in talkback against these restrictions that impacted the lives of LGBTQ individuals and how said individuals endured such adversity Focusing on the elements of discourse used by LGBTQ activists this work argues oppositional discourses need to address as well as remedy the various elements of normative discourses constructions of space time and affect in order to be deemed a talkback instead of merely perpetuating the normativities of oppressive discourses

Jimmy's Faith Christopher Hunt,2024-12-03 A novel approach to understanding the work of James Baldwin and its transformative potential The relationship of James Baldwin s life and work to Black religion is in many ways complex and confounding What is he doing through his literary deployment of religious language and symbols Despite Baldwin s disavowal of Christianity in his youth he continued to engage the symbols and theology of Christianity in works such as The Amen Corner Just Above My Head and others With Jimmy's Faith author Christopher W Hunt shows how Baldwin s usage of those religious symbols both shifted their meaning and served as a way for him to build his own religious and spiritual vision Engaging Jos Esteban Mu oz s theory of disidentification as a queer practice of imagination and survival Hunt demonstrates the ways in which James Baldwin disidentifies with and queers Black Christian language and theology throughout his literary corpus Baldwin s vision is one in which queer sexuality signifies the depth of love s transforming possibilities the arts serve as the religious medium of knitting Black community together an agnostic and affective mysticism undermines Christian theological discourse androgyny troubles the gender binary and the Black child signifies the hope for a world made new In disidentifying with Christian symbols Jimmy's Faith reveals how Baldwin imagines both religion and the world otherwise offering a model of how we might do the same for our own communities and ourselves

Social Media Discourse, (Dis)identifications and Diversities Sirpa Leppanen, Elina Westinen, Samu Kytola, 2016-12-08 This volume serves as an in depth investigation of the diversity of means and practices that constitute dis identification and identity construction in social media Given the increasing prevalence of social media in everyday life and the subsequent growing diversity in the types of participants and forms of participation the book makes the case for a rigorous analysis of social media discourses and digital literacy practices to demonstrate the range of semiotic resources used in online communication that form the foundation of dis identification processes Divided into two major sections delineating between the dis identification of the self across various social categories and the dis identification of the self in relation to the other the book employs a discourse ethnographic approach to highlight the value of this type of theoretical framework in providing nuanced descriptions of identity construction in social media and illuminating their larger long term societal and cultural implications This volume is a key resource for researchers and students in sociolinguistics discourse studies computer mediated communication and cultural studies

Regulatory Fit from Stereotype Threat Anke Görzig, 2008 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2008 in the subject Psychology Social Psychology grade magna cum laude University of Mannheim Fakultät für Sozialwissenschaften Lehrstuhl für Mikrosoziologie und Sozialpsychologie 160 entries in the bibliography language English abstract A series of studies investigates the impact of regulatory fit on women's leadership aspirations A regulatory fit occurs when an outcome is presented in gain frames under a promotion focus and in loss frames under a prevention focus Combining research on regulatory focus and research on stereotype threat it is argued that regulatory fit may result from stereotype threat loss frame under a prevention focus and from the absence of stereotype threat gain frame under a promotion focus In line with previous research it is proposed that regulatory fit enhances motivation Studies 1 and 2 and b creates a feeling right experience that increases the persuasiveness of external stimuli Study 3 In all three experiments regulatory fit was operationalized as experiencing stereotype threat when under a prevention focus or respectively experiencing the absence of stereotype threat when under a promotion focus Further women's aspirations to engage in a leadership role were assessed In Studies 1 and 2 it was shown that women's motivation to occupy a leadership role was enhanced in the regulatory fit conditions compared to women in the nonfit conditions Study 3 demonstrated that a stimulus i.e. role model was more persuasive under regulatory fit Women experiencing regulatory fit compared to women in the nonfit conditions were more persuaded by role models showing more interest in a leadership role when confronted with a positive model and less interest when confronted with a negative model These studies show that stereotype threat can elicit regulatory fit which in turn affects women's leadership aspirations Future directions and limitations are discussed

Choosing Ethnicity, Negotiating Race Mia Tuan, Jiannbin Lee Shiao, 2011-01-13 Transnational adoption was once a rarity in the United States but Americans have been choosing to adopt children from abroad with increasing frequency since the mid twentieth century Korean adoptees make up the largest share of international adoptions 25 percent of all children adopted from outside the United States but they remain understudied among Asian American groups What kind of identities do adoptees develop as members of American families and in a cultural climate that often views them as foreigners Choosing Ethnicity Negotiating Race is the only study of this unique population to collect in depth interviews with a multigenerational random sample of adult Korean adoptees The book examines how Korean adoptees form their social identities and compares them to native born Asian Americans who are not adopted How do American stereotypes influence the ways Korean adoptees identify themselves Does the need to explore a Korean cultural identity or the absence of this need shift according to life stage or circumstance In Choosing Ethnicity Negotiating Race sixty one adult Korean adoptees representing different genders social classes and communities reflect on early childhood young adulthood their current lives and how they experience others perceptions of them The authors find that most adoptees do not identify themselves strongly in ethnic terms although they will at times identify as Korean or Asian American in order to deflect questions from outsiders about their cultural backgrounds Indeed Korean adoptees are far less likely than their non adopted Asian American peers to explore their ethnic backgrounds by joining ethnic organizations or social networks Adoptees who do not explore their ethnic identity early in life are less likely ever to do so citing such causes as general aversion lack of opportunity or the personal insignificance of race ethnicity and adoption in their lives Nonetheless the choice of many adoptees not to identify as Korean or Asian American does not diminish the salience of racial stereotypes in their lives Korean adoptees must continually navigate society s assumptions about Asian Americans regardless of whether they chose to identify ethnically Choosing Ethnicity Negotiating Race is a crucial examination of this little studied American population and will make informative reading for adoptive families adoption agencies and policymakers The authors demonstrate that while race is a social construct its influence on daily life is real This book provides an insightful analysis of how potent this influence can be for transnational adoptees and all Americans The Theosophist ,1915 The Feminism and Visual Culture Reader Amelia Jones,2010 Feminism is one of the most important perspectives from which visual culture has been theorised and historicised over the past 30 years This book brings together a wide array of writings including classic texts and polemical new pieces American Journal of Psychotherapy ,1947 Office of Research Working Paper ,1994 Research Companion to the Dysfunctional Workplace Janice Langan-Fox,Cary L. Cooper,Richard J. Klimoski,2007 From personality disorders to wars over territory this book chronicles unravels and reveals the true nature of problems at work uncovering the subversiveness counter productive behaviour and unspoken issues that management struggle with on a daily basis
