Because Distance Education (DE) provides students the new opportunities for accessible and lifelong education, it is getting more and more popular day by day over the entire world, and as stated in the book it has become a major topic of interest in the field of educational communication and technology.

This is one of the basic books in the field of DE. It is written by Lee Ayers Schlosser and Michael Simonson. Lee Ayers Schlosser, EdD, PhD is in Extended Campus Program of Southern Oregon University and an associate professor of Criminology Department at Southern Oregon University. Michael R. Simonson, Ph.D. is a professor of Instructional Technology & Distance Education at Nova Southeastern University. There are three editions of the book.

In 2002 first edition, in 2006 second edition, in 2009 third and last edition was published. If you look at content of first and second edition of the book, you can't see very big difference between them. But in third edition there are considerable changes.

In first and second edition definitions, brief history and theory of DE, glossary of terms are given. In addition to these titles, third edition provides information about effectiveness, status and future of DE, learning outcomes, perceptions and attributes of learners, interaction, barriers, research in DE. The book is consisted of 249 pages (+vii) and divided into four sections.

In part I, Distance Education is defined as "institutional-based, formal education where the learning group is separated, and where interactive telecommunications systems are used to connect learners, resources, and instructors (Simonson, 2003)".

After that, definitions of Holmberg (1986), Peters (1988), Moore (1994), Keegan (1996) and Garrison and Shale (1987) are given as traditional definitions. Furthermore, emerging definitions are discussed in the light of rapid changes in society and technology. Brief history of DE is provided from correspondence study, to electronic communication, to distance teaching universities.

Carter,2013-05-21 The only things librarians seem to encounter more often than acronyms are strings of jargon and arcane technical phrases and there are so many floating around that even just reading an article in a professional journal can bewilder experienced librarians to say nothing of those new to the profession Featuring thousands of revised and brand new entries the fourth edition of ALA Glossary of Library and Information Science presents a thorough yet concise guide to the specific words that describe the materials processes and systems relevant to the field of librarianship A panel of experts from across the LIS world have thoroughly updated the glossary to include the latest technology and internet related terms covering metadata licensing electronic resources instruction assessment readers advisory and electronic workflow This book will become an essential part of every library s and librarian s reference collection and will also be a blessing for LIS students and recent graduates Teaching and Learning at a Distance Michael Simonson,Susan Zvacek,2024-01-01 Teaching and Learning at a Distance is written for introductory distance education courses for preservice or in service teachers and for training programs that discuss teaching distant learners or managing distance education systems This text provides readers with the basic information needed to be knowledgeable distance educators and leaders of distance education programs The teacher or trainer who uses this book will be able to design courses evaluate programs and identify issues and trends affecting the field In this text we take the following themes The first theme is the definition of distance education Before we started writing the first edition of Teaching and Learning at a Distance we carefully reviewed the literature to determine the definition that would be at the foundation of our writing This definition is based on the work of Desmond Keegan but is unique to this book and has been adopted by the Association for Educational Communications and Technology and by the Encyclopedia Britannica The second theme of the book is the importance of research to the development of effective courses and programs offered at a distance The best practices presented in Teaching and Learning at a Distance are validated by scientific evidence Certainly there are rules of thumb but we have always attempted to only include recommendations that can be supported by research The third theme of Teaching and Learning at a Distance is derived from Richard Clark s famous quote published in the Review of Educational Research asserting that media are mere vehicles that do not directly influence achievement Clark s controversial work is discussed in the book but is also fundamental to the book s advocacy for distance education in other words we authors do not make the claim that education delivered at a distance is inherently better than other ways people learn Distance delivered instruction is not a magical approach that makes learners achieve more Equivalency theory is the fourth theme of the book Here we present the concept that instruction should be provided to learners that is equivalent rather than identical to what might be delivered in a traditional environment Equivalency theory helps the instructional designer approach the development of instruction for each learner without attempting to duplicate what happens in a face to face classroom The final theme for Teaching and Learning at a Distance is the idea that the book should be comprehensive that it should cover as much of the various ways instruction is made available to distant learners as is possible It can serve as a stand alone source of information Handbook of Research on Managing and Designing Online Courses in Synchronous and Asynchronous Environments Durak, Gürhan,Çankaya, Serkan,2021-12-17 In order to be successful online learning should be planned systematically It can be said that offering distance education courses without preparation and knowledge about the theoretical background can cause drawbacks While distance education has become widespread and popular it is observed that there could be problems in its application Such problems can include technical problems inability to meet the learning needs at the learners own speeds lack of communication among learners and between learners and teachers and lack of quality materials appropriate for online learning or the inclusion of materials used in traditional methods directly into online learning For successful online courses these critical aspects of distance education are important and they should be taken into account by the institutions and the instructors offering online courses The Handbook of Research on Managing and Designing Online Courses in Synchronous and Asynchronous Environments provides up to date knowledge and experiences regarding technologies processes and environments for online course design in distance education systems and covers topics related to the aspects of successful distance education systems with a focus on teaching and learning in online environments Focusing on topics such as instructional design and integrated systems it is an ideal guide for online course designers instructional designers curricula developers administrators educators researchers trainers and students Preparing Faculty for Technology Dependency in the Post-COVID-19 Era Bawa, Papia,2022-02-04 To cope with the pandemic many educational institutions in the United States have resorted to emergency remote teaching ERT Distance online learning is a complex process in terms of the design analysis and time taken to develop and implement courses and programs Having been around for decades it has evolved and morphed into a multidimensional procedure that needs meticulous planning evolution and evaluation It provides meaningful learning experiences to students who may not otherwise have the option to attend college Students of distance online courses and programs usually choose to join voluntarily and designers of such programs purposefully plan for them to be online from the start In contrast ERT is an emergency crisis based need to move teaching and learning to alternative environments until the crisis is averted or ended Preparing Faculty for Technology Dependency in the Post COVID 19 Era is a comprehensive guide that focuses on preparing pre service teachers in service teachers and higher education faculty to harness technology dependence in an emergency
