Displacement in Isabel Allende's Fiction, 1982-2000 Mel Boland, 2013 This book explores the concept of displacement in the fiction produced by the Chilean writer Isabel Allende between 1982 and 2000 Close readings of her texts reconcile two apparently contradictory trends in her writing as the settings of her fiction have become more international questions of individual identity have gained in importance A History of Chilean Literature Ignacio

López-Calvo, 2021-10-14 This book covers the heterogeneity of Chilean literary production from the times of the Spanish conquest to the present It shifts critical focus from national identity and issues to a more multifaceted transnational hemispheric and global approach Its emphasis is on the paradigm transition from the purportedly homogeneous to the heterogeneous Isabel Allende Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2013-03-26 Isabel Allende la Famosa to her fellow Chileans is the world's most widely read Spanish language author Her career coincides with the emergence of multiculturalism and global feminism and her powerfully honest revelatory works touch the pulse points of humankind Her bravura study of the interwoven roles of women in family history opens the minds of outsiders to the sufferings of women and their children during years of social and political nightmare This reference work provides an introduction to Allende's life as well as a guided overview of her body of work Designed for the fan and scholar alike this text features an alphabetized fully annotated listing of major terms in the Allende canon including fictional characters motifs historical events and themes A comprehensive index is included Isabel Allende's House of the Spirits Trilogy Karen Wooley Martin, 2010 The source of the narrative energy that creates such absorbing stories Allende's very popular novels have attracted both critical approval and opprobrium often at the expense of genuine analysis This sophisticated study explores the narrative architecture of Allende's House of the Spirits 1982 Daughter of Fortune 1999 and Portrait in Sepia 2000 as a trilogy proposing that the places created in these novels subvert the patriarchal norms that have governed politics sexuality and ethnicity Rooted in the Foucauldian premise that the history of space is essentially the history of power and supported by Susan Stanford Friedman's cultural geographies of encounter as well as Gloria Anzaldá's study of borderlands this study shows that by rejecting traditional spatial hierarchies Allende's trilogy systematically deterritorializes the elite while shifting the previously marginalized to the physical and thematic centers of her works This movement provides the narrative energy which draws the reader into Allende's universe and sustains the good story for which she has been universally acclaimed KAREN WOOLEY MARTIN is Associate Professor of Spanish at Union University Jackson Tennessee Critical

Approaches to Isabel Allende's Novels Sonia Riquelme Rojas, Edna Aguirre Rehbein, 1991 Since the appearance of Isabel Allende's first novel La casa de los espíritus The House of the Spirits in 1982 and its subsequent translations into several languages readers world wide have been fascinated with her refreshing depiction of Latin American reality and the role of women in its development The publication of De amor y de sombra Of Love and Shadows in 1984 and of Eva Luna Eva Luna

in 1987 have drawn more well deserved attention from readers and critics This timely book explores Allende s three novels providing much needed criticism in English and Spanish The essays examine her novels from a broad range of perspectives ranging from the political control to the power of words from direct testimony to fictional story telling from symbolism in characters names to the meaning of dress and attire from the picaresque tradition to the parodic writing in contemporary Latin American Literature Isabel Allende Karen C. Cox,2003-05-30 Isabel Allende garnered immediate attention and international acclaim with the 1982 publication of House of Spirits Allende drew favorable comparisons to male Latin American writers who were dominating a boom movement that mixed political and magical themes Yet her engaging epic became a bestseller based on its artistic merit regardless of gender issues and her ensuing output of fiction and nonfiction continued to establish her esteemed place in the literary ranks This Critical Companion introduces readers to Allende s writings with accessible literary analysis of her six novels featuring discussions of plot character development thematic concerns and style historical contexts and alternative critical perspectives A fascinating biographical chapter traces Allende s journey from wife mother and journalist in Chile to internationally acclaimed author Her life story as stimulating as her novels offer students and readers a better understanding of the historical and political forces that informed her work The Literary Heritage chapter provides will deepen readers appreciation for Allende s contributions to and place in the Latin American literary tradition A select bibliography includes reviews and resources that will be especially useful for student research projects Isabel Allende's Writing of the Self María de la Cinta Ramblado-Minero,2003 This volume looks at Allende s fictional narratives to date from The House of the Spirits to Portrait in Sepia from the point of view of autobiography studies and the re creation of self identity that takes place throughout her works Rewriting American Identity in the Fiction and Memoirs of Isabel Allende B. Craig,2013-08-20 Moving away from territorially bound narratives toward a more kinetic conceptualization of identity this book represents the first analysis of the politics of American identity within the fiction and memoirs of Isabel Allende Craig offers a radical transformation of societal frameworks through revised notions of place temporality and space Narrative Magic in the Fiction of Isabel Allende Patricia Hart,1989 The topic of immigration in historical novels. An examination of "Daughter of Fortune" and "Portrait in Sepia" by Isabel Allende Attiya Saghir,2016-04-08 Master s Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade Masters National University of Modern Languages Islamabad NUML course Masters in English Literature and Linguistics language English abstract This master s thesis explores the theme of immigration in Isabel Allende s fictional work It deals with the question how Allende deals with the issue in her novels Daughter of Fortune and Portrait in Sepia The objective of the work is to identify explore and communicate the various dimensions of intricate phenomenon of immigration presented by the modern emigrant American author Isabel Allende who shares her personal and first hand experience of an uprooted person in the new world of America She finds herself neither true Chilean nor an American woman but a displaced woman of modern age She presents the true and miserable side of the picture of emigrants and their various reasons which motivate them to leave their own homeland She discusses in her novels the effects of the process of immigration upon immigrants She takes in to account all the aspects of immigration including the dilemma of migrants in host country like America The research work tries to identify the factors which promote the migration patterns of women and difficulties faced by them in new world where they have to adopt new ways for their survival
