

A detailed stone statue of a woman, likely a personification of Justice or Liberty, stands on a multi-tiered, ornate pedestal. The statue is dressed in a long, flowing gown and holds a book or tablet. The pedestal is decorated with intricate carvings and a classical archway above the statue's head. The entire sculpture is set against a clear blue sky.

Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State)., Housing Displacement Guy Baeten, Carina Listerborn, Maria Persdotter, Emil Pull, 2020-10-14 This book examines reasons processes and consequences of housing displacement in different geographical contexts It explores displacement as a prime act of housing injustice a central issue in urban injustices With international case studies from the US the UK Australia Canada India Spain Denmark Sweden and Hungary this book explores how housing displacement processes are more diverse and mutate into more new forms than have been acknowledged in the literature It emphasizes a need to look beyond the existing rich gentrification literature to give primacy to researching processes of displacement to understand the socio spatial change in the city Although it is empirically and methodologically demanding for several reasons studying displacement highlights gentrification's unjust nature as well as the unjust housing policies in cities and neighborhoods that are simply not undergoing gentrification The book also demonstrates how expulsion though under researched has become a vital component of contemporary advanced capitalism and how a focus on gentrification has hindered a potential focus on its flipside of displacement as well as the study of the occurrence of poor cleansing from a long term historical perspective This book offers interdisciplinary perspectives on housing displacement to academics and researchers in the fields of urban studies housing citizenship and migration studies interested in housing policies and governance practices at the urban scale Eviction Notice in San Francisco Aleksandr A.
