It uncovers and explicitly discusses a range of ethical dilemmas, challenges, and experiences that researchers have encountered and grappled with in studies of all kinds, from large scale experimental studies to ethnographic studies focused on just a handful of children. The chapters are written by researchers working with children in different classroom contexts around the world and highlight how ethical dilemmas and tensions take on a complex form in child focused research, requiring researchers to pay particular attention to the social and cultural norms of the different communities within which children are educated, as well as their school based experiences. The book comprises three sections: the first part focused on involving children as active participants in research; part two on ethical challenges in multilingual contexts; and part three on links between teacher education and researching children. The book includes a critical discussion of the opportunities and challenges associated with applying the UNCRC 1989 document in second language research with children, which will be of use to any researcher working in this area. Journal of Education ,1892 Journal of Health, Physical Education, Recreation ,1963 Research in Middle Level Education ,1998

Career Paths in Psychology Robert J. Sternberg, 2007 In Career Paths in Psychology, psychologists in a variety of areas discuss their work, what got them into it, what they like and don't like about it, and what a typical work week is like in their chosen specialty. These psychologists offer advice, information, and the inspiration of their own career paths. They speak frankly about salaries and job opportunities and about what it takes to make it in their field. Announcements and Plans of the Bureau of Coöperative Research for 1919-20 Indiana University.
