Dubois,2016-04-29 At the dawn of the third millennium we are confronted with a disturbing phenomenon although global life expectancy still increases this is not the case for healthy life expectancy The explanation of this seemingly contradiction is mainly due to the rising prevalence of the new pandemic of chronic non communicable diseases NCDs Even in low and middle income countries the improvement in healthcare status and life expectancy is paralled by the increase of NCDs as in all countries worldwide Since the United Nations General Assembly held in New York in 2011 many publications have emphasized the close link between NCDs and nutrition The NCDs epidemic forces us to reconsider the public health perspectives Many governments non governmental organizations and other institutions are actively involved in educational nutrition programs and campaigns however their efforts seldom obtain the results hoped for It is extremely difficult to induce changes in lifestyle and behavior that have built up over a long period of time However it becomes urgent to adapt to our changing life environment where traditional wisdom and intuitive choices are giving way to individual thinking and search for often uncontrolled information This engenders a number of unprecedented challenges and it calls for a re appraisal of the existing paradigms to achieve an adequate management of the upstream determinants of health instead of a pre dominant medical and hospital centric approach In the era of personalized healthcare it is time to empower policy makers professionals and citizens for achieving an evidence based change in the health disease interface and decision making process for public health interventions The scientific and professional society Health Technology Assessment International HTAi has recognized nutrition as a health technology preventative by creating a Interest Group IG dedicated to research on methodologies and assessments of nutrition related public health while taking into account contextual factors ethical legal social organizational economic in order to generate meaningful outcomes for establishing evidence based health policies This Research Topic aims to elaborate on some of the potential hurdles or guarantees which have to be overcome for the sake of sustainable healthcare provisions anywhere in the world such as shortcomings in methodological approaches regulatory frameworks gaps between evidence its hierarchy and final recommendations for public health management

English abstract Firstly the paper shows evidence on the extent of income inequality in India as a representative example Then it takes a broader view of the topic and identifies the causes of income inequality Thirdly it describes the general problems associated with income inequality and then explains the advantages associated with income inequality During the examination of this aspects the paper will focus on the economic background especially on aspects such as the equity efficiency trade off taxation and the role of the government as well as on the deadweight loss Then it will analyze what the government can do to deal with that problem Finally it summarizes and compares the findings of this paper

The Macroeconomics of Fiscal Policy Richard W. Kopcke, Geoffrey Matthew Bemis Tootell, Robert K. Triest, 2006 Leading academics and former policy makers assess the effectiveness of postwar American fiscal policy as questions about the role of fiscal policy once again come to the forefront of economic research and debate The United States s post World War II emphasis on activist fiscal policy for short term economic stabilization was called into question in the 1960s and by the late 1980s was superseded by the view that fiscal policy should focus on long run structural concerns For the past two decades both public policy and economic research emphasized monetary policy as a stabilization tool But there remain issues in American macroeconomic policy having to do with budget deficits present and projected as well as a recent revival of interest in fiscal policy as a stabilization tool Overall the academic pendulum is swinging back towards a renewed consideration of fiscal policy This volume brings together leading researchers and policy makers to assess the effectiveness and consequences of fiscal policy Drawing on postwar policy experience and recent economic research this book offers a state of the art consideration of where fiscal policy stands today Contributors address both the appropriateness of fiscal policy as a tool for short run macroeconomic stabilization and the longer term impact of fiscal decisions and economic policy Topics covered include the legacy of the Reagan administration s tax cuts whether public policy has encouraged such behavior as overconsumption which may foster persistent budget and trade deficits and in light of recent experience how and when fiscal policy might be appropriate as a short term stabilization tool Contributors Alan J Auerbach Susanto Basu Olivier J Blanchard Alan S Blinder Barry P Bosworth W Elliott Brownlee William H Buiter Jonathan Coppel Jean Philippe Cotis Luiz de Mello James S Duesenberry Douglas W Elmendorf Eric Engen Jeffrey A Frankel Benjamin M Friedman Richard W Kopcke Catherine L Mann Van Doorn Ooms Rudolph G Penner Alice M Rivlin Christopher A Sims C Eugene Steuerle Geoffrey M B Tootell Robert K Triest Edwin M Truman
