Research and Practice in Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Cory Shulman, 2016-06-02 This book examines infant and early childhood mental health and the importance of early emotional and social development for later developmental trajectories It incorporates research and clinical perspectives and brings research findings to bear in evaluating intervention strategies By incorporating empirical developmental literature that is directly relevant to infant mental health and clinical practice the book addresses the multiple forces which shape young children's mental health. These forces include child factors, parental and familial variables, childrearing practices, and environmental influences. In addition, the book explores parent-child relationships, family networks, and social supports as protective factors, as well as risk factors such as poverty, exposure to violence, and substance abuse, which influence and change developmental processes. It shows that by examining socio-emotional development in a cultural context, human development in the twenty-first century can be conceptualized through differences, similarities, and diversity perspectives focusing on the rights of every individual child.

The Handbook of Training and Practice in Infant and Preschool Mental Health Karen Moran Finello, 2005-01-25

The Handbook of Training and Practice in Infant and Preschool Mental Health. This comprehensive and highly useful guide offers students and practicing clinicians who work with infant and preschool populations a much-needed resource for developing and honing their professional skills and clinical experiences. The book contains vital information about general training issues and highlights the skills that are needed to be considered a competent professional. Written by top experts in the field from a wide range of disciplines, the authors address basic areas of training and practice with very young children, including observation, assessment, diagnosis, dyadic therapy, and reflective supervision, in addition to unique areas of clinical work such as reunification and adoption evaluations. The book also offers examples of innovative models of training and practice for the delivery of services in nontraditional settings such as homes, day care centers, and preschools, and special strategies for delivering clinical services and providing supervision in rural and remote settings, including the use of technology. A representative group of infant mental health professionals take a valuable look at the compelling issues in training and practice through lenses richly diverse in focus, setting, and intent.

JEREE H. PAWL, former director of the Infant Parent Program at San Francisco General Hospital. This provocative volume compels a broader dialogue about the critical issues related to the interdisciplinary training and practice of infant mental health specialists.

HIRAM E. FITZGERALD, University Distinguished Professor, Psychology, Kellogg Center, Michigan State University. This timely and rich volume illuminates the complex issues involved both in conceptualization of infant family practice and of practitioner preparation and support. A superb and valuable contribution.

DONNA R. WESTON, director, Graduate Certificate Program in Infant Mental Health, University of Washington Center for Infant Mental Health and Development.

Transforming Systems for Parental Depression and Early Childhood Developmental Delays Dana Schultz, Kerry A. Reynolds, Lisa M. Sontag-Padilla, Susan L. Lovejoy, Ray Firth, 2013-03-14

The Helping Families Raise Healthy Children initiative addressed depression among parents of children with early childhood developmental delays, aligning the early intervention and behavioral health systems with a focus on relationship-based care. The initiative focused on identification of at-risk families, referral, and engagement in services that addressed the needs of parents and young children in the context of their relationship.
